R E P O R T

OF THE

SELECTMEN OF THE TOWN OF SOMERVILLE.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—

In presenting to you the twenty-sixth Annual Report of the Town of Somerville, we have to say that no marked events have occurred to disturb the progress and prospects of its affairs.

We ask your attention to the following Report:

HIGHWAYS.

A larger work has been performed upon the highways the last year than ever before, but much as has been performed, our Board earnestly recommend an increase of force and material to finish work now suffering to be done.

Your Board regretted that the appropriation asked for at the meeting in November last, to enable them to purchase a stone-breaking Machine, was not voted, and we are unanimously of the opinion that the appropriation should be made at the next Town Meeting.

The nature of our streets is such that nothing but stone is suitable to dress them with, and in most of our thoroughfares stone is indispensably necessary to stand the heavy teaming which is almost constantly passing over them, but little progress can be made through the cold winter months in preparing a sufficient quantity of the right material for our spring requirements, so that some of our principal streets which are now necessarily in poor condition, might soon be made inviting to travel. By the energetic measures of the Superintendent of Streets, as much has been done the past year as we could reasonably anticipate.

Most of the streets which have been accepted for the last two years have remained without scarcely any labor or material having been expended upon them, our whole appropriation being necessarily expended for ordinary repairs.

The cutting and grading of that part of School Street lying between Broadway and Medford Streets has been contracted for, under such conditions that the work will be completed without expense to the town. The work is so extensive that some months will be required to complete it.

SEWERAGE.

In connection with the subject of highways the importance of drainage should be considered, and your Board would recommend a liberal appropriation therefor. One of the most important places, and the first which should have your attention, is Linwood Street, running from Washington to Milk Row. Your Board received a very numerous signed petition of the abutters on said street, and upon its being acted upon by the Board, it was decided to have a plan and profile so that they could see the feasibility of the work and estimate its cost. Said plan is now on file. The plan points out a very feasible way of running the Sewer, and we should have had it constructed the last autumn but for the lateness of the season before the plan was completed.

The benefit to the neighborhood which will result by constructing a sewer according to the plan above referred to, cannot be over valued. The health of the thickly settled population on and around Linwood Street should be considered, and in the midst of them is a large school-house literally packed with children, who throughout the summer months are breathing the foul atmosphere of that neighborhood.

The petitioners are anxious to have the Sewer built, and willing to pay their full share of the expense. We only refer to this as one of the places where the surface-water should be removed for the health of the different neighborhoods, if there were no other considerations.

The Sewer upon Marshall Street has been completed, and has undoubtedly enhanced the value of real estate abutting upon and benefited by it many times its full cost.

Your Board, in making the award for the above sewer, assessed three-fourths upon those benefited, and one-fourth to the town, which award, we are pleased to say, has given general satisfaction.

NEW STREETS.

The new highway as laid out by the County Commissioners, and running from Broadway to Elm Street, is so far towards completion that we think it will be ready for presentation to the Commissioners some time in June next. Your Board consider this street of great value to the abutters, and convenience to the town.

TURNPIKE.

The Turnpike, so called, was put under contract in August last, but the season was so far advanced that it was found impossible to finish the work until the coming spring.

TOWN LEDGES.

The appropriations made last spring for the purchase of one or more ledges for the use of highways has been expended by the purchase of one adjoining the one now owned by the town — but nearly worked out — on Bond Street, and another containing over five acres lying between Broadway and the new street, and which is cut by the latter. This ledge we consider of great value to the town, it being opened upon by two streets which lead nearly through the town, viz.: Broadway on the northerly side, and Elm Street and Milk Row on the southerly side. A very good bed of gravel has been found to exist upon the last named lot, which is the only gravel owned by the town within its limits.

RAILROAD BRIDGES.

The Board have arranged with the Boston and Lowell Railroad Company to widen the Bridges over their road on Cross, Central and Cedar Streets, at which places much inconvenience has been experienced by the narrowness of the Bridges upon their approaches at the above places.

The Bridge over Cross Street and its approaches are nearly completed. The Boston and Lowell Railroad Company have manifested a ready disposition to meet the wishes of your Board with regard to the above alterations.

The Bridges on Prospect and Washington Streets over the Fitchburg Railroad are in a similar condition to those over the Boston and Lowell Railroad, and we hope soon to see them widened in like manner.

STREET LAMPS.

Much interest was manifested in Town Meeting last spring to have additional Lamps placed along our thoroughfares throughout the town. The liberal appropriation then voted has been expended for that purpose. In several localities the citizens desired lamp-posts placed nearer together than the town appropriation would allow, and with the money paid by them added to the sum voted by the town has enabled your Board to add about seventy new Lamps the past year, making the whole number of Public Lamps now lighted, one hundred and ninety-four. One hundred and eight are south of the Boston and Lowell Railroad, and eighty-six are on the north side. Forty-one of the above are for the present lighted with oil. Much benefit is derived to the town by well-lighted streets. It makes our highways safer for travel, and the town generally inviting to builders, and your Board are of the opinion that a liberal spirit should at all times be shown in improving our streets and sidewalks.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Fire Department of Somerville is small, but it is kept in such efficient condition that the interests of the town have not suffered, and being fortunately surrounded, aid has been furnished by which all fires have been as well managed as could be, considering our facilities for a supply of water. Two Reservoirs of great value have been added this year, at a comparatively small cost, both costing only about one-half the usual cost of one. We hope before the lapse of another year we may have an addition to our present water facilities which will enable the town to place Hydrants in many streets where, at this time, we are entirely without water facilities in case of fire.

We refer you for particulars of the Department to the annexed Report of the Engineer.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN, — In compliance with the usual customs, I herewith submit the Report of the Board of Engineers of the Somerville Fire Department.

Since our last Report the Department has been called out 29 times, 12 times from fire in town, and 7 times from fires in Charlestown, 4 from fires in Cambridge, 1 in Roxbury, and 5 false alarms. The Department have rendered assistance in Charlestown 4 times, and received assistance 4 times; they have rendered assistance in Cambridge once. It will be seen that the number of fires in town are 5 less than last year, and the number of alarms 12 less than last year. Although we have had less in number, yet our loss has been quite heavy, having lost three churches the past year, the fire having so much headway when discovered that it was impossible to save them. It may seem strange to some of our people that we do not save these large buildings, but allow me to say that it is not because the Department do not try as hard as any Department can, and if they will notice the reports of other cities and towns, they will see that it is very seldom that a church is saved, if it takes fire in the tower end of the building, owing to the draft which conducts the fire to the roof. There are some people who always have taken a great deal of pride in finding fault with the manner in which the Department have performed their duty. In some cases, I believe, it is owing to prejudice, and in many cases, from ignorance of the duty of a fireman. It is much easier for a person to find fault with others than to perform the duty himself, and I think that there has been and still are some who would like to see the Department broken up, to satisfy selfish motives.

There have been some changes in the Department during the past year, and I think it is at present in a better condition than it has before been since its organization.

WATER.

Although it will be seen that our town has grown very fast the past two years, and the liability for fires increasing, yet our people are unmindful of the very important thing that is necessary to stay a conflagration. It is water. It will be seen by those who have attended the fires at some of the churches, that we have been compelled to force the water 1,600 feet, and up a grade of 70 to 80 feet, thereby requiring a great strain both on the engine and hose. It is hoped that this evil will be remedied by a better supply. Since our last Report there have been two Reservoirs built, one in front of the Town Stable, on Prospect Street, and another on Walnut Street, at a comparatively small cost, with an inexhaustible supply of water. There have been two Hydrants attached to the pipes at Winter Hill. At the present time there are 27 Hydrants and 8 Reservoirs in town, 24 of the Hydants and 5 Reservoirs are situated on the north and easterly side of the Lowell Railroad. It will be seen by the above table that some portions of our town must have a very poor supply.

It is hoped that before another year expires we shall have the Mystic Lake water in all parts of our town, running through nothing less than six or eight inch pipes.

ALARM.

Since our last Report we have had no addition to our facilities ; they have been injured in some parts of the town by the loss of the church bells, and in one locality by the use of an alarm bell for school purposes, which, should a fire break out in that locality while the bell is being rung for school, would cause a great delay in spreading the alarm, and might result in the loss of much property. It is hoped before long to have the Telegraph Alarm, which would prove of great advantage in case of fire.

It having been suggested by some of the residents of the northerly part of the town that a Hose Carriage is much needed on Winter Hill, we would recommend it to your consideration.

The Board of Engineers would recommend the removal of the Lock-up or Station-House, located in the building occupied by the Department, and that that part of the building be used for the Hook and Ladder Carriage, with suitable rooms in the second story for sleeping rooms for the men permanently employed, as the room now occupied by them is unfit for men to sleep in, owing to the dampness of the cellar; and they would also recommend the building of a Hose Tower, in connection with this building, 50 feet high, as it would prove a saving in Hose, and the one now in use being less than half large enough for the quantity of hose which is required for use.

The Department now consists of one Steam Fire Engine, which has had some valuable improvements attached the past year, and is now believed to be equal to any engine in this vicinity, with an Engineer and Driver permanently employed.

A Hose Carriage, run in connection with the Engine, carrying 1,000 feet $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch leather hose, and has proved a great addition to the Department, with a company of 10 men, the driver of which is permanently employed.

One four wheeled Hose Carriage, in charge of the John E. Wool Hose Company, which has been repaired and painted the past year, and is in good condition, carrying 600 feet $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch hose.

One hose pung, for the use of the above company, with a company of 15 men.

One Hook and Ladder Truck, drawn by a horse.

One hand Engine, Somerville No. 1, with hose carriage, which is in working condition at all times.

HOSE.

There is in the Department,

1,200 feet single riveted hose, good.

1,500 feet double riveted hose, good.

500 feet single riveted hose, almost worthless.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DAVID A. SANBORN, JR.,

Chief Engineer Somerville Fire Department.

POLICE AND WATCH.

The appropriation made last spring for one or more permanent Watchmen has been partially expended for temporary watching.

The past year has been one of unusual quiet, and your Board did not deem it necessary to appoint permanent watch as intended when the appropriation was made. We feel that the result of the temporary watch has been of much benefit to the town, by preventing disturbances and depredations upon fruit gardens, &c. For particulars in this Department we refer you to the Secretary of Police's Report herewith annexed.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of Somerville :

In accordance with the usual custom, the officers of the Police Department submit the following Report for the year ending January 28, 1868 :

Whole number of arrests, one hundred and thirty-seven, an increase of sixty-nine from last year.

Assault and battery,	40
Larceny,	17
Keeping dog without license,	55
Simple drunk,	6
Feeding cows upon the street,	6
Attempt to pick pocket,	1
Playing cards on Lord's day,	3
Disturbing the peace,	2
Adultery,	2
Unlawfully distraining a cow,	1
Breaking and entering,	3
Attempt to rescue a prisoner,	1
	137

Which were disposed of as follows :

Acquitted and discharged,	28
Sentenced to pay fine and costs,	81
Sent to House of Correction,	13

Settled by parties acknowledging satisfaction, .	6
Bound over to Superior Court,	9
	137

Amount of fines imposed,	$591.00
Amount of costs,	328.70
Total amount of fines and costs,	$919.70

Amount of imprisonments by sentence, 2 years and 6 months.

We feel that the time has arrived when this town needs a day and night police force just as much as Charlestown or Cambridge, and that we suffer by the vigilance of our neighbors, is undoubtedly true. Rogues will congregate where they are not watched. Our large and rapidly increasing population in the southerly and eastern part of the town need a regular day-officer in each location, and a watch at night.

No one conversant in such matters can say this town can be well and properly cared for and protected without good officers in each district, regularly appointed and paid, who shall give their whole services to the town. The present officers have ever been willing to work for the good of the town, and work together, but under the present system, much has to be left undone which, with a regularly organized police force, could not fail of being accomplished.

During the last few months two officers have been on duty at night in different sections of the town, and a part of the time four men have done duty. Although that is as much as could be reasonably expected, after the action of the town at the meeting in March last, yet it leaves a large and widely extended beat for the men to travel.

We feel assured your honorable Board will lay the matter before the town, in its proper light, and that the citizens will see the importance of the establishment of an organized Police Department.

Respectfully submitted.

JARIUS MANN,
Secretary Somerville Police Department.

CEMETERY.

With regard to this long agitated subject, we have to say that as yet the Board have been unable to locate one.

HORSE RAILROADS.

A good deal of dissatisfaction is being felt throughout the town with regard to the tracks being placed upon the sides of the streets, and the Board feel that the town suffers on account of such location, and that it is very damaging to the property of citizens located upon the same side of the way, and is certainly a great drawback to the proper repair of the two thoroughfares upon which said tracks are located.

We cannot close our Report, fellow citizens, without congratulating you upon the apparent prosperity — and we believe it to be real — of our town. One of the principal evidences of its strength and rapid growth is the unprecedented amount of building which has been done the last year, and which is still progressing, not in any particular location, but in all parts of the town can be seen this evidence of undoubted thrift.

From statistics carefully obtained, we find that the whole number of new buildings erected since January 1, 1867, to be two hundred and eighty-seven, two hundred and thirty-nine of which are dwelling-houses, twenty-two of these being double houses, making two hundred and sixty-one additional tenements in one year. Besides the above work, additions and alterations have been made upon fifty-five other buildings, and all indications point to an equal increase the ensuing year.

Considering this rapid growth, and in viewing the noble monuments which have been erected upon the spots once desolated by the torch of the incendiary, we feel proud of the spirit and enterprise of the citizens of Somerville.

FRANCIS HOUGHTON,	} Selectmen of Somerville.
GEORGE W. HADLEY,
SILAS H. HOLLAND,
JACOB T. GLINES,
GEORGE O. BRASTOW,

Treasurer's Report.

By vote of the town, passed at the April meeting of this year, the different departments were instructed to close their accounts and make their Reports up to December 31st. Consequently, the Financial Report will only show receipts and disbursements for ten months, commencing March 1, 1867, and ending December 31st, 1867.

The gross amount of receipts are $228,636.04, and the disbursements are $211,361.69, leaving in the Treasury, cash, January 1, 1868, $17,274.35.

The whole amount of taxes assessed for 1867, including abatements and discounts, was $142,684.

There remained of 1864, uncollected, $96.25; of 1865, $2,414.02; of 1866, $7,767.54 making a total of $152,961.81, of which the Treasurer has received on 1864, $49.75; on 1865, $847.30; on 1866, $4,608.02; on 1867, $111,739.12, making the gross amount collected and paid the Treasurer, $117,244.19.

The Treasurer has also received from J. H. Lord, Esq., State Treasurer, on account of Corporation Taxes, $2,569.75, also on account of State Aid refunded, $7,700.

By referring to notes payable, annexed, it will be seen that the debt of the town has increased since March 1, 1867, $40,200, making the town debt December 31, 1867, $189,474.

This increase, at first sight, looks bad, but there is another side to this question. While our debt has increased $40,200, the value of town property, at a very moderate appraisement, has increased $59,250.

These figures are low. The most of our School Buildings have received repairs and additional and improved furniture, while the Prescott and Foster School Houses, with the land and improvements, are set at very low figures.

Ledges for repairs of highways have been bought, and other improvements made.

State Aid has been paid to the families of soldiers by order of the Selectmen, to the amount of $4,771, and Town Aid has, or will be used during the winter, in aid of soldiers' families to the extent of the appropriation ($500,) and this amount should be again voted for their benefit.

Ten thousand two hundred and fifty dollars ($10,250) of the town debt falls due in 1868, and the Treasurer would recommend a commencement in reduction to that extent, and would suggest that all calls for money the coming year be assessed and collected on the valuation of the town, which is increasing very fast. It is believed that at least 225 dwellings have been built in this town the past year, and they are still going up in all directions. This indicates increasing wealth, and consequently ability to meet all necessary expenses of the town without increase of indebtedness.

It will be seen by annexed accounts that the unexpended balances of appropriations amount to $43,749.51, to meet the calls from the different departments on these balances. We have cash in the Treasury amounting to $17,274.35. Uncollected taxes, $25,722.70.

The State School fund has not yet been received.

There is to be refunded from the State some $700 for military services. Also collections from abutters on Marshall Street, say $2,000.

These amounts will undoubtedly meet all calls until the time of the usual meetings for appropriations, at which time the Treasurer's balance will, as usual, be small, or on the wrong side of the Ledger, and the town will be a borrower in anticipation of taxes.

The Treasurer has, for the information of citizens that do not take much interest in town meetings, appended a list of appropriations and financial votes, passed by the town at the April meeting.

The above remarks, with annexed accounts, are respectfully submitted.

THOMAS CUNNINGHAM,

Treasurer of Town of Somerville.

THOMAS CUNNINGHAM, TREASURER.

Report of the Overseers of the Poor.

It has been deemed advisable by us to submit a brief statement of the most important matters that have come within the sphere of our action the past year, although there may be nothing of any special importance or interest. The Treasurer's Statement of disbursements and receipts on Poor account, will show the amount of money expended and received to January 1, 1868. But it does not show very clearly for whom, or how, expended; as nearly every dollar for partial support is drawn from the Treasury by parties furnishing fuel, groceries, and various articles, on the orders of our Board. At the present time, there are only four persons receiving full support from the Town ; viz.: Henry Kinsley, at the Vermont Asylum, Brattleborough, at an expense of $100 per annum ; Truman Morrill, Mrs. Bridget Bradburn and her daughter Ellen, thirteen years old, at the Charlestown Almshouse, at $2.50 per week, for the two first, and about $2 per week for the last named. The cost per annum for these four persons will not vary much from $550, including clothing, &c., furnished. The sum appropriated for Poor account by the town, at its April meeting, was $2500, which leaves $1950 for relief and partial support of destitute and needy persons. Of this class we have upon our books eighty-three names entered since the first day of October last, most of whom are widows, having families of children dependent upon them for support. The average number belonging to these families is not less than four persons each family, giving an aggregate of 332 persons. Others will apply for aid within the year, sufficient to swell the number to 400 persons. More than 90 per cent. of these persons have no settlement in this Commonwealth, and therefore have no legal claim upon the town, further than to remove them to the State Almshouse, at Tewksbury, when they fall into distress, but most of the children of these families were born in Somerville, and have entered our schools, in which many of them are receiving important training, and culture. It will be seen by the foregoing figures, that the average sum expended on each of these persons does not exceed $5.00 per annum, which is only about one-third the average cost per scholar of our schools, if we compute the interest on the cost of school-houses furnished by the town. Fuel for the extreme cold weather of the year, is one of the principal articles furnished these families. Most of which, during some seven months in the year, ask no assistance from the town. In aiding this class of persons the practice of our town has been more liberal than that of the cities near which we are located. Very little is done for such persons by many cities and towns, except to remove them to State Almshouses, when destitution and intense suffering shall ring from them a reluctant consent to such removal. There has, no doubt, been cases where the munificence of the town has been bestowed upon unworthy and undeserving persons whose distinguishing characteristics seem to be to squander and misapply their own earnings, as well as any charity extended to them. But these are exceptions, and whenever it becomes known to us that the charities of the town are abused by such persons, further aid is withheld. The prevailing rule, we think, is this, that the comparatively small sum expended by this town in proportion to its population is, and has been, instrumental in relieving, and preventing a large amount of suffering, and of holding up and keeping together many families, when weak, until they became strong enough to take care of themselves ; and therefore has resulted in accomplishing great good. We hope the same policy will be continued by the town in future.

In consequence of the general depression of business, and the small demand for labor, the present winter, thus far, has been an unfavorable one for persons dependent almost wholly on their daily labor for support.

The cost of living is very high, so that the regular earnings of a common laborer are only sufficient to keep a small family supplied with the necessaries of life.

We have had several applications for relief of families where a healthy father and mother were among its members, ready and willing to labor, if employment could be found for them, but for which, we were told, they had searched in vain, rendering it necessary for them, to save their families from suffering, to have recourse to the charities of the town, as the last alternative left them. We have had at least two cases where families have a military settlement in town under the Statute of 1865, Chap. 230. These men are apparently able and willing to labor. They have served long and honorably in the armies of the Nation in its recent gigantic struggle for national existence, and each counted as a man of Somerville. They have families to support, and having exhausted their means of living, and being unable to find employment, they too have come to the poor department for relief.

We would ask our fellow-citizens if there cannot be adopted some other method than this, more compatible with our sense of justice and moral obligations, and more congenial to the feelings of veteran soldiers, for the relief of his physical wants ?

We hope to be able, notwithstanding the adverse circumstances to which we have adverted, to keep within the appropriation of the year for "Support of Poor." Quite a percentage of what we are now expending is for relief of persons belonging to other places, but now residing in our town, and in whose behalf expenses thus incurred, will be reimbursed to the town.

The number of paupers receiving full support from the town has ever been very small in proportion to our population, and until this number shall materially increase, there can be no necessity for providing a Town Almshouse, to superintend which and its inmates, would cost the town much more than for the full support of its present small number of paupers.

We will refer now particularly to Ellen Bradburn, thirteen years old, at the Charlestown Almshouse, hoping that by so doing it will meet the eye of some one of our citizens who will take her into his family, in the capacity of servant, extending to her all reasonable and proper privileges and advantages. The number of applicants for relief having become too large to be received into our residences; we have since last November held regular meetings of the Board twice a week, at the court room, to hear applications, consider and act upon the same. Thus far this plan has, we think, worked well, for all parties concerned, as all our transactions appear on one set of books, and the collective judgment of the Board is at command when intricate cases arise requiring its exercise.

OF THE
SCHOOL COMMITTEE

OF THE

Town of Somerville,

FOR THE SCHOOL YEAR 1867 - 68.

IN compliance with statute requirements, the School Committee respectfully submit their Annual Report.

On the first of May last, there were 2123 persons in the Town between the ages of five and fifteen years.

The largest number of pupils found in all the schools at any one time during the year was 2157, distributed as follows,

High School,	119
Grammar Schools,	499
Sub-Grammar Schools,	510
Primary Schools,	1029

The condition and prospects of the Public Schools warrant the Committee in presenting a cheerful view of the important trust committed to their supervision.

The uniform liberality hitherto manifested in all matters pertaining to the education of the young, is indicative of a high appreciation of this vital interest, and the best possible guarantee that it will be generously cared for in the future.

Circumstances beyond our control have operated unfavorably upon some of the schools during the past year: hence we cannot apply to all of them the commendations of former years. But in regard to many of them we can affirm with great confidence that they are of the highest order and would be honored by a comparison with the best in our neighboring cities. It will be our constant endeavor to render all of them equally meritorious.

Much sickness has prevailed the past year, especially among the pupils of the Primary Schools.

The destruction of the Prescott School-house by fire, placed the schools, which had occupied that building, in circumstances very unfavorable for the prosecution of study, and has occasioned them a great and irreparable loss.

It has been our unpleasant duty to accept the resignation of several of our most highly valued teachers, — an event always to be deplored, but one to which we shall ever be liable so long as our inducements are less than those at the disposal of other committees.

At the close of the Summer Term, Mr. Babcock, for nine years Principal of the High School, and Miss Reed for seven years, his First Assistant, tendered to the Committee their resignation. Few teachers have merited and enjoyed, so largely as these, the confidence and esteem of all their pupils and an entire community.

The exalted character they and their associate teacher gave to our High School is evidence of their fidelity and admirable fitness for the positions they occupied so long to the entire satisfaction of successive Committees.

In September, Mr. Littlefield, the popular and highly successful Principal of the Franklin School, resigned the position he had filled with marked ability for fifteen years.

The resignation of Mr. Littlefield was soon followed by that of his First Assistant, Miss Maria L. Macomber, a teacher highly regarded by the Committee.

All of these vacancies have been filled. How wisely, must be decided by the unerring test of experience.

The new School House on Elm Street was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on the twenty-third day of March. This building the Committee have named the Lincoln School House, as a token of personal regard for Charles S. Lincoln, Esq., and in consideration of his valuable services, for many years, as Chairman of the School Board.

The Forster School House was dedicated on the thirtieth day of April and first occupied by the Schools on the second day of May. Five rooms are now occupied, and the rapid growth of Forster district will soon render the occupancy of additional rooms necessary.

For the relief of the Harvard and Spring Hill Schools, two Primary Schools have been established, one in the Bell School House, which was moved in April, from Cherry Street to the rear of Franklin School House, and another in a room temporarily fitted up for the purpose on the corner of Park and Milk Streets.

The Prescott School House was dedicated on the sixteenth day of January, and first occupied by the Schools on the twentieth of the same month.

For the safety of Forster and Prescott School Houses, rooms have been finished in the basements of those buildings for the Janitors and their families.

All the school buildings in town have been thoroughly repaired and painted, except the Jackson School House. The Committee have deferred improvements on that building by the expectation of being instructed by the Town to remove it to a more eligible and accessible location.

All the schools are now furnished with ample accommodations except the Union and Jackson Schools. The crowded condition of those schools requires that additional accommodations should be furnished them without delay.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The High School House was completed and first occupied in May, 1852. For several years the second floor furnished ample accommodations for the High School, the first floor being used for a Town Hall. At the Annual meeting in 1866, an appropriation was made by the Town for fitting up the entire building for the exclusive use of the school. As soon as the Hall was vacated by the Forster School in April, measures were taken to apply the appropriation. The rooms on the second floor have been renovated and filled with school furniture for the accommodation of the large class admitted from the Grammar Schools at the beginning of the Fall Term. The first floor now contains a Chemical Laboratory, a Philosophical Room and two other Recitation Rooms, all of ample size and very commodious.

In September 1859, which was the beginning of Mr. Babcock's second year, the High School contained forty-three pupils. At the time of the Annual Examination last year, the number was eighty-eight. In September of the present school year, the number of pupils was one hundred and nineteen. This large increase rendered the appointment of an additional assistant teacher necessary.

The Reports of the several Sub-Committees, to whom was assigned the duty of examining the schools, are herewith appended.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

The examinations of our Grammar Schools indicate a good degree of interest and endeavor on the part of both teacher and pupils, and generally there appears to be a mutual good feeling existing. The schools are evidently disciplined without resorting to harsh measures. In this grade of schools we expect much will be accomplished, especially in the branches required to fit pupils for the High School. Each class is expected to be thoroughly and critically taught in all of the branches assigned to these schools.

Your Committee were highly gratified with the manner in which the pupils in some of the schools acquitted themselves in all of the branches pursued. The reading in one school was particularly creditable. In some of the schools, however, a higher standard of recitation is desirable.

There appeared to have been too little attention paid to reading. The classes had read too much, but had not read anything really well, and the same want of thoroughness was more or less manifest in other branches of study. The material seemed to be good enough, but it had not been moulded and fashioned by continued and critical drills. We regret very much that so many of the applicants for admission to the High School failed to get the required per cent, and we would suggest that the teachers adopt a plan of semi-weekly examinations for the first class during the entire year, and that their examinations be conducted in writing out the answers to sets of questions from all branches, similar to those required for admission to the High School. We are confident that such a plan cannot fail to elevate the standard of scholarship in our higher grade of schools.

W. K. FLETCHER, Chairman.

SUB-GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

The general appearance and condition of all the Sub-Grammar Schools are in the highest degree satisfactory. From an experience of some twelve years in the oversight of schools, similar to our own in system, I thought I knew the degree of efficiency that might be looked for in such schools, even among children as active in mind, as our own New England children, but it was with feelings of surprise that I saw, not only what was done, but with what apparent ease it was accomplished.

I had never witnessed such entire devotion to the duties of their calling on the part of the teachers, nor such indications of honorable pride in their high profession, nor such manifest care and labor in preparing themselves for their daily tasks.

These things are the natural results of the ideas of our people, first, as to what a school should be, and secondly, what should be the compensation of the teacher. Much is expected, and the remuneration is designed to be liberal, hence a superior order of talent is secured and retained. Under the present system there is danger lest the discipline should become so rigid as to defeat the very object for which the schools are established, but here we think the discipline is both strict and reasonable, and never permitted to be so exacting as to dishearten or oppress the weak.

GEORGE W. DURELL, Chairman.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

The official examination of the Primary Schools just closed has been of a nature so satisfactory that the report must be one of congratulation to parents in the knowledge of the uniform faithfulness of the teachers, and of praise to the scholars and teachers, for the very creditable manner in which they received our visit, some of them with no notice whatever of the day on which they were to be called upon, and all with but comparatively short notice in which to make preparation, the emergency of a change in the financial year making it necessary that the examination should be held at a much earlier date than heretofore.

Within the limits of this necessarily brief report it will be impossible to detail each school, and where all were so good we deem it quite unnecessary.

The success of the examination (bearing in mind the want of preparation) evinces a familiarity with the work that had been gone over, and showed that the foundation had been well laid.

In the first and very important branch of reading, we can make but two qualifications in our praise, and these only applicable to a very small minority of the number visited. One of them, that of dropping the g in words ending in, ing, and of the erroneous pronunciation of such words as law, saw, draw, &c. Perhaps to the minds of some the exceptions we take to these two matters may seem trivial, but we cannot refrain from mentioning them, and persistently urging this correction.

The pronunciation of seeing, feeling, hearing, being, having and others of the like ending as if written, seein, feelin, hearin, bein, havin, or of such as saw, law, draw, as sor, lor, dor, we deem as of sufficient consequence to demand the attention of parents as well as teachers, and of the latter we can testify that in no case was the erroneous pronunciation detected in the reading or conversation of a teacher, but on the contrary the strongest efforts we were assured had been made where such an unfortunate case existed to eradicate it. In this we think parents can become most useful auxiliaries and it is all important that it should be done at the earliest possible moment.

In only one instance did we find a scholar who could not pronounce the word law correctly, but one such case did exist, and we are satisfied that the boy tried hard to give it correctly. This case was a little peculiar, and we may be pardoned for alluding to it fully. At the end of a sentence he could pronounce it as it should be, but occurring in the middle of a sentence and followed by a vowel it was invariably lor.

We trust that parents will request their children to read newspapers or books aloud, and note the rendering of the two classes of words we allude to herein, that they may satisfy themselves that their children are correct, and if not, to insist upon a proper pronunciation by repeated trials till the fault is corrected. We are happy to say that but few will find any cause for complaint on that score, and by another examination we hope to find it corrected in every case. We are aware that the last error referred to is quite common in the Boston schools, but that it is an error, and one calling loudly for suppression, we think must be apparent to all, and we again beg hard, in closing this reference to reading, to urge upon those having the children in charge at home and in school, to leave no stone unturned in rooting it out of the mind of the children. The instructions of the home fireside are all potent on the susceptible mind of the child, and parents will find they cannot do better than to conduct an occasional "examination" themselves, and not leave the matter wholly to the "Report of a Committee."

In spelling, we found what we considered a very gratifying condition in the matter of little words in daily use, as it is these which after all are the hardest, and any teacher will bear us out in the assertion that a long, even-syllabled word, is much easier retained in the memory than a shorter one. We were especially pleased to note the readiness of some of the second classes in the Primary Department in spelling, and as a whole, the rank in this branch is well up.

In the study of arithmetic the Primary Departments are of course in but few of the schools, advanced but little beyond the four fundamental rules. We found one or two exceptions of progress in fractions, and in some instances where interruption from sickness or other causes had interfered, the examination could go no farther than through the multiplication table. The little examples we gave them of daily transactions were in most cases readily comprehended, and answers given with a promptness which showed that the teacher had not confined the instruction exclusively to the book, and we deem this an important point in the education, which we should be glad to see even more generally adopted.

The "Order" of the schools was in most cases unexceptionable, and the overcrowded condition of the schools gave the very good and sufficient reason for any departure from the rule.

The annoyance and trouble of placing the scholars in uncomfortable and contracted limits during the re-building of the Prescott School House, is now happily at an end, and the interest with which the children took hold of their studies on entering their new quarters, is an earnest we trust, of what they will strive to maintain during their connection with the school.

THE SELECTMEN.

FELLOW CITIZENS : — We ask your attention to the following report for the year eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, and the first subject which we present is our

HIGHWAYS.

The expenditure in this department, has been larger than any previous year, and mainly caused by the following work, viz., building Culvert across Dover Street, formerly called Willow Street, and grading the same from Cambridge line to its junction with Elm Street, macadamizing Medford Street, cutting and macadamizing on Broadway, Washington Street, Union Square, and Webster Avenue. The Culvert across Dover Street, is a substantial stone structure, and the street is graded to its full width the whole length. The work of macadamizing Medford Street required about four thousand loads of stone. The cutting of Broadway, which had been in contemplation for several years, consumed more time and cost more than the original estimates, in consequence of the clayey substance of the soil, and the extreme wet season making it difficult to work.

The apparent magnitude of the work was much lessened in cost, by the direct removal of the material to other streets and places where filling was needed.

The whole cut was macadamized after being graded, and we trust that in future this portion of Broadway will not be a constant source of complaint each Spring and Fall, as heretofore.

The work of grading and macadamizing Union Square, and a portion of Webster Avenue and Washington Street, is the cause of another large item of expenditure of our highway fund.

Many of the abutters on the Square, Washington Street, and the Avenue, desirous of having edge-stones set, your board decided that the work should all be proceeded with at the same time, as it could be done to much better advantage. In measuring for the edge-stones on Milk Street, it was found necessary to cause the removal of a portion of the horse railroad track, in order to get the proper width of sidewalk. Accordingly, notice was given to the Company, and after considerable delay, they caused the removal to be made.

Cesspools have been built in connection with the present grade, so that surface-water is received at the junction of Milk and Bow Streets, and also on Washington Street at its junction with the Square, thereby preventing the wash from the above streets crossing the Square, as formerly. Five other cesspools have been constructed which will receive the water from the easterly part of the Square and Washington and Milk Streets; also, from Webster Avenue, and which will prevent the necessity of more or less work at every heavy rain.

It was the intention of the Board, to put Cedar Street in better condition for the large increase of heavy teaming which now passes over that street, but the lateness of the season before we were able to reach it prevented. We arranged with the Boston & Lowell Railroad Company, to widen and grade the approaches to the Bridge on this street, which work has been done, and it has made that part of the street much easier and safer for travel. It was also our intention to have cut and graded Franklin Street from Pearl Street south, to the watercourse across said street, but it was impossible to carry out all the projected plans, and we recommend the earliest possible completion of these two last plans.

The widening and acceptance of Joy Street was referred to your Board with full powers, provided it could be done without expense to the town. A portion of the abutters were not willing to give the requisite land, therefore we could not carry out the wishes of the petitioners. Glen Street was also referred in same manner, and upon examination of said street that portion lying between Pearl and Webster Streets, was accepted.

Much inconvenience has been experienced for the last two years, in not having sufficient room for hay in the town barn, and your Board decided to make an addition to the old one which increased the capacity for storage about one half, at an expense of about $550. An increase to the working department, of one cart, one harness, and two horses, was made ; also a light wagon and harness for the Superintendent, all of which involved an expense of about 1000 dollars. Our month's Bills of last year were paid out of this year's appropriation ; this was in consequence of the change which was made in the ending of our financial year.

Your Board feel that a large amount of work has been accomplished for the money expended, and that much credit is due to the good judgment and energy displayed by the Superintendent of Streets, in carrying out our plans.

NEW STREETS.

The extension of Pearl Street was asked for, by petition of several citizens, but your Board did not like to take the responsibility of laying out so large a work for this year, and declined granting the prayer of the petitioners; they however appealed to the County Commissioners, and they took the matter into consideration, and laid out the street from Cross to Medford Street, fifty feet wide, and ordered the extension to be made the coming year. It will undoubtedly be a convenience to many citizens, and soon add taxable property to the town by opening new lots for building purposes.

Your Board also refused the prayer of petitioners for the extension of Summer Street, and they also appealed to the County Commissioners. After viewing the premises, and notifying your Board of their intentions, the Commissioners laid out said Street, from Laurel Street southeasterly to Bow Street, and northwesterly to a point of junction with Elm Street.

The Commissioners laid out Summer Street as a County way, thereby relieving the town from any land damage which may be awarded. These extensions undoubtedly enhance the value of land through which they pass, and adds to convenience of travel.

Holland Street was accepted and opened for travel last May, and has proved a great convenience to citizens in that part of the town.

The Turnpike was completed and accepted by the County Commissioners last July, and your board being satisfied that the contract had been complied with, opened the avenue for public travel. The name of Mystic Avenue was proposed by Medford, as an appropriate one for this road, as it borders for a long distance the river bearing the name, and your board voted to adopt the above name, and guide signs have been placed accordingly.

Dover Street — formerly Willow Street — was opened for public travel in August last.

SEWERAGE.

The Linwood Street sewer with its latterals in Fitchburg Street, and northerly end of Poplar Street, and having its outlet through the southerly end of said Street, across Milk to tide water, was built according to plan made last year, and was completed in October last.

The next sewer asked for, was laid from the southerly end of Bow Street across Milk Street, Union Square, Washington Street, and down Webster Avenue to the watercourse crossing said Avenue.

The third and last sewer was asked for by citizens on Spring Hill and vicinity. This sewer commences in Summer Street, passing down Harvard to Beach Street, thence westerly to a point in Spring Street, where it intersects with a branch from the Square, thence down Spring to Milk, thence crossing to Kent Street, through which it passes to its outlet in the watercourse on the southerly side of the Fitchburg Railroad.

The aggregate length of the above Sewers is five thousand five hundred feet.

RAILROAD BRIDGES.

The contemplated widening of the Central Street Bridge over the Boston & Lowell Railroad has been made to the full width of the Street. This was a work much desired, and it has added to the safety and convenience of the public travel. The Bridge on Broadway has been replaced by a new and substantial iron one.

The Fitchburg Railroad Company removed the old Bridge on Beacon Street which crosses their road near Milk Street, and have replaced it with a new one more spacious, and being built at a lesser angle than the old one, has much improved the passage to and from those streets.

STREET LAMPS.

A few additions have been made to the Street Lamps the past year, and the total number now lighted by the town is two hundred and three, of which one hundred and sixty five are lighted by gas, and thirty eight by fluid.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The fire department is in the same efficient condition as last year. Where the water is let into the pipes recently laid, a large addition to our water facilities for the extinguishment of fires will be made, and will cover some localities where no water could be obtained heretofore.

The Petition for a Hose Carriage which was asked for by citizens for the northerly part of the town was placed on file, your Board considering that an especial appropriation would be needed for the purpose. Whenever a Hose Carriage is purchased, a sufficient quantity of Hose will be required, and a suitable house erected to contain it; also, a Hose tower, so that proper care can be taken of the Hose.

Your board recommend that the suggestions with regard to changes in the present Engine House be made and completed as early as practicable the coming Spring. For particulars in this department, we refer you to the annexed report of the Chief Engineer.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen :

GENTLEMEN, —In compliance with the usual custom, I submit the Annual Report of the Board of Engineers of the Fire Department for the past year, with a few recommendations for necessary improvements for the accommodation of the Department, which are much needed.

Since our last Report, the Department has been called out thirty-one times, eight of which were fires in town, nine alarms, five of which were false, fourteen for fires out of town. The Department have rendered assistance in Cambridge four times, and have rendered assistance in Charlestown three times, and have received assistance from Charlestown twice. It will be seen that we have had two more alarms, and four less fires than last year, with a loss much lighter; we having lost but one Church, the Universalist, which was burned on the 21st of January, one of the worst nights last winter. Had it not been for that, our loss would have been very small, considering that our buildings are nearly all built of wood, and the scarcity of water in many places. We would call the attention of the citizens to the practice of putting hot ashes in wooden vessels, thereby endangering their neighbor's property as well as that of their own, as many fires are traced to this cause.

WATER.

Since our last Report, the supply of this much needed article has been increased in some parts of the Town, but much more is needed, as there are a great many places where it would still be impossible to obtain a supply in case of fire. There have been twenty Hydrants placed along the line of the Mystic water pipes the past year, and two supply pipes connected with two Reservoirs, thereby making them a great deal more valuable in case of fire, and the Board recommend that supply pipes be laid in all the Reservoirs, as the expense would be small and the advantage great.

There are at the present time forty-seven Hydrants, and eight Reservoirs in town, yet we seem to be poorly supplied. The practice of putting in four inch pipes is very injurious, as it is impossible to get a good hydrant stream from them.

ALARM.

The Engineers would again call your attention to the mode of ringing the alarm bell on the Town Hall for school purposes. It is almost impossible to distinguish the ringing of it for school, from an alarm of fire, and it may cause a great delay in case of fire in that locality. The Telegraph alarm would prove a great advantage to a town scattered over so much territory.

We would recommend the removal of the Lock-up from that part of the building it now occupies, and placing the Hook and Ladder Truck in that part of the building, in order that it may be made more efficient, as it is impossible to get a company to take charge of it in the present location, and also of furnishing suitable rooms in the second story of the building, for the permanent men, and they would also recommend the erection of a tower connected with the building, so that all the Hose of the Department can be taken care of at one place, as it has proved of great advantage in Charlestown and other places, thereby making a great saving both in Hose and expense.

We would recommend the purchase of five hundred feet of new Hose this year.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

DAVID A. SANBORN, JR.,

Chief Engineer Somerville Fire Department.

POLICE AND WATCH.

As the population increases, we may reasonably expect an increase of crime. Our records show a larger number of arrests than last year, but they are mostly for trivial offences.

The night watch has proved a very beneficial part of the police department, and resulted in preventing numerous disturbances, and adding to the quiet and safety of the thickly settled places where they have been stationed.

The appropriation in this department, will need to be increased the coming year.

The number of arrests and their classification, and for other particulars, we refer you to the annexed report of the Secretary of this department.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of Somerville:

The following is submitted as the Annual Report of the Police Department, for the year ending December 31, 1868.

Whole number of arrests, two hundred and twelve, being seventy-five more than last year, and one hundred and forty more than 1866.

JAIRUS MANN,

Secretary Board Police Department.

On the 28th of November, two Petitions to the Legislature were laid before your Board by counsel for the Petitioners, and asked us to waive notice in behalf of the town, but your Board, after considering the subject, refused to grant their request. The subject of dividing this town does not, to our view, admit of a single argument in favor of the project, and we felt it our duty to remonstrate against any and all Petitions which may be presented to the Legislature on this subject — your Board voted that a census of the population should be taken, and the result shows a total of twelve thousand five hundred and thirty-five inhabitants. And the number of children under fifteen years of age, to be three thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight. The total number of Houses, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, showing a large increase the past year.

Such rapid increase of population as this census shows, and such a financial record as the Report of the Treasurer gives us, must certainly be most encouraging to all good citizens. Such prosperity has few parallels in the Commonwealth, and we trust and believe that no private schemes or sectional ideas of change of boundary, will be permitted to check us in the proud and prosperous condition in which we now stand.

REPORT

OF THE

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

THE Finance Committee respectfully submit the following :

The town debt on Note account is as follows :

Notes due in 1869,	$34,575
“ “ “ 1872,	78,495
“ “ “ 1879,	19,854
“ “ “ 1884,	46,000
						<hr/> $178,924

By a vote of the town, this Committee were instructed to propose some plan for the funding of the town debt.

For the payment of that part of the debt which will mature the coming year, the town must make some provision at the meeting in March or in April. Of the amount, $20,875 was borrowed in 1862, as a “ Military Appropriation,” and the remaining $13,700 are in renewed notes, etc. It is recommended that the Treasurer, with the approval of the Finance Committee, be authorized to issue Coupon Bonds for $21,000, to be denominated “ Somerville War Loan,” and for $14,000, to be denominated “ Somerville Town Loan,” for the payment of the $34,575—the excess to be placed to the credit of “Miscellaneous” account.

In 1872 a very large part of the debt will mature. It is doubtful if the payment of any considerable part of the amount can be anticipated, as the rate of interest on over three-fourths of it, is probably higher than the rate at which similar loans could be effected at the present time. It is recommended, however, that if any arrangement can be made for the payment of one or more of the notes, the same authority be given to issue Coupon Bonds for the payment thereof, as has been advised in regard to the notes which will mature the present year; provided, that in the judgment of the Finance Committee, a sufficient reduction in the rate of interest can thereby be effected, to justify the transfer. Should these Bonds be issued, the purpose of their issue,—as near as may be,—should be “nominated in the Bond.”

Of the amount which will mature in 1879, $14,400 are in Coupon Bonds, and the remaining $5,454 in one note. The rate of interest on these bonds and this note, and the rates of interest on the notes which will mature in 1884, being very much less than the current rate of interest at the present time, it is recommended that they be not moved.

The debt consequent upon the introduction of the Mystic Water, has not been considered, as it would simply be a repetition of a part of the Report of the Water Committee.

The town debt, on note account, March 1, 1859, was $44,338; the increase for ten years to January 1, 1869, $134,586; occasioned, as near as can now be well ascertained, by War Loan, about $90,000, for bounties, recruiting, &c.

School Loan, about $30,000, for rebuilding school-houses, &c.

Town Loan, about $14,500, for various purposes, — perhaps, in part, on that romantic thoroughfare, the Medford Turnpike; for the purchase of the Steam Fire Engine; and, also, it may be, on a school-house: for the practice, at one time so common in this town, of sliding expenditures from their proper accounts to a more accommodating appropriation, defies anything like accuracy in locating this part of the increase.

No part of the town debt will mature during the years 1870 and 1871, and there seems no good reason for supposing that the town will be called upon for the next four or five years for appropriations beyond the ordinary current expenses; except, it may be, for further school accommodations in the Franklin District. The incurring of a debt for the erection of substantial school-houses, ought not to subject any generation to censure from its successors; but to entail upon posterity a debt for the repairs of Highways, expenses of the Fire Department, salaries of Town Officers, maintenance of Police, etc., is, at best, a very questionable method of evading responsibilities. The ordinary annual expenses should be met by the annual assessment of taxes, and in the present favorable financial condition of the town, the rate of taxation ought to be, and can be, by judicious management, much reduced.

The average rate of taxation in this town for the past ten years varies but little from the average rate in the adjoining cities of Cambridge and Charlestown. The average in Cambridge was \$11.68; Charlestown, \$12.91, and Somerville, \$11.93 on \$1,000 valuation. The highest rate in any one year was, in Cambridge, \$15.20; Charlestown, \$19.60, and Somerville, \$19.00. The rates in 1868 were, Cambridge, \$13.80; Charlestown, \$14.80, and the city debt was increased \$164,460, and Somerville, \$19.00. and the town debt was decreased \$10,550. The proportions of debt to valuation are, in Cambridge, $1\frac{3.8}{100}$ per cent.; Charlestown, $2\frac{6.8}{100}$ per cent., and Somerville, $1\frac{9.1}{100}$ per cent.: in every case exclusive of the water debt. The average rate of taxation in Boston for the past five years was \$13.98; in 1868 it was \$12.30, and the debt was increased \$3,308,641: the proportion of debt to valuation, $2\frac{6.9}{100}$ per cent. The proportion of debt to valuation in Malden is $2\frac{5.7}{100}$ per cent.; Medford, $1\frac{3}{100}$ per cent., and in Chelsea, exclusive of the water debt, $2\frac{5.4}{100}$ per cent.

Thus it will be seen that notwithstanding the large outlays of the past few years, and the high rate of taxation the last year, our town is in as good a condition, financially, as many of the places in the immediate vicinity.

That we can be more prudent in the management of our town affairs than we have been, is beyond question. As means for reducing our expenditures and rate of taxation, and for the better government of the town, it is recommended:

1. That all the property tax payers attend the annual meeting for appropriations, in April.
2. That the number of Assessors be increased by the election of Assistant Assessors.
3. That the number of Selectmen be increased to nine.
4. That the offices of Town Treasurer and Collector of Taxes be filled by one and the same person.
5. That the town elect annually, in lieu of an Auditing Committee, one Auditor, to whom all bills from all Boards, and all demands against the town, of every description, shall be submitted before the same shall be paid by the Treasurer.

6. That some more simple method of notifying town meetings be authorized by the town.

7. That as the town has no code of By-Laws worthy the name, a Committee be chosen at the next town meeting to prepare a suitable code, and submit the same at a subsequent meeting.

REPORT

OF THE

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

WE respectfully submit the Twenty-Seventh Annual Report of the School Committee, with a high appreciation of the importance of the vital interest committed to our care.

To mark out the course for the intellectual and moral training of the youth of so large a community,—to give direction to the vast capabilities of the human mind,—to shape, it may be, the destiny of immortal natures, involve responsibilities which the wisest and boldest may well assume with diffidence and many misgivings.

Various considerations invest childhood and youth with an interest that attaches to no other period of life, and greatly enhance the responsibility of those to whom the interests of education are intrusted.

Childhood, especially, is ingenuous and confiding. Skepticism dwells not in the heart of a child. He readily receives as true, the testimony of his superiors. His intuitions render the slow process of reasoning unnecessary. Youthful minds readily receive and firmly retain whatever is communicated to them. The last impressions that pass from the recollection of an aged man, are those with which he was familiar in his youth.

The season of pupilage is also the forming period of character.

“ ’T is here the current springs, whose stream
May flow in honor or in shame.”

What the young are, as they pass out from under the tuition of our schools, they will be likely to remain through life ; for

Lord Shaftesbury states, as the result of his personal investigation, that “ of all the male adult criminals in London, not two in a hundred who lived an honest life up to the age of twenty, afterwards enter upon a course of crime,” and that “ almost all who enter upon such a course, do so between the ages of eight and sixteen years.”

Hence educators, deeply impressed with the sense of their responsibilities, should exercise incessant vigilance ; —constantly keep before the minds of the young a high purpose—pure and noble aims ; should prudently check their “ budding ills ;” and while they patiently and diligently assist them up the rugged ascent of the “ Hill of Science,” gently guide their erring feet into those paths of virtue and true wisdom, which are pleasantness and peace.

In applying the liberal appropriations of the town to the intellectual and material wants of the schools, it has been our endeavor to render all the school-rooms as pleasant and attractive as possible ; that our children may approach them with willing feet. They are constructed with a view to health and comfort. They are light, spacious, commodious ; well warmed and ventilated, and so furnished that pupils may pursue their studies as free from weariness and all physical discomfort as possible. The happy faces that greet us in our frequent visits, assure us of the success of our efforts to render the school life of our children pleasant and agreeable to them.

TEACHERS.

In the selection of teachers, we aim to secure those who combine the largest number of the best qualities of our nature. Those who are thoroughly furnished ; apt to teach ; skillful in communicating ; abounding in love for the young, and for their calling ; largely endowed with patience and forbearance ; capable of governing with gentle firmness ; possessing enthusiasm to inspire and characters in all respects worthy of imitation.

It requires a rare combination of endowments to constitute a teacher, who, in every particular, is equal to the exalted place occupied, and the important duties incident to it. "He who hath found such an one, hath found a treasure."

No maxim has been bequeathed to us more truthful than this one : "As is the teacher, so is the school."

Hence, the school, as a faithful mirror, exhibits to the practiced eye, the character and qualities of the teacher as truthfully as any work of art does, the genius and skill of the artist.

We therefore fully realize that we cannot confer upon any school a greater blessing than to place over it a teacher thoroughly competent for its instruction and management.

The important work of the teacher is much more highly appreciated and better rewarded than formerly ; consequently the profession is attracting to it a higher order of talent and qualifications, and teachers are stimulated to labor earnestly for the attainment of a high degree of culture, and of eminence in their profession. This of itself is sufficient cause for the constant improvement so manifest in our schools.

SCHOOL DISCIPLINE.

In matters of discipline, we counsel mildness. Preferring the gentle persuasions of kindness, and an appeal to the higher motives, whenever these will prove efficacious, we would resort to more stringent measures, only as physicians do to caustic remedies, from urgent necessity; and would have for our motto: "DEAL GENTLY WITH THE CHILD."

The "Check and Credit" system, so generally adopted to secure order and industry, may be as free from objection, perhaps, as any other yet devised. But we are free to confess, we do not hold it in high esteem. Its moral effect upon the young we consider questionable, and shall joyfully welcome the introduction of some other system equally efficacious, but attended with less danger.

Veracity is a cardinal virtue, and cannot be guarded too zealously.

The sad countenances and tearful eyes of children, as they lose their "credits," or increase their "checks," are so frequently witnessed by us, we learn, to some extent, how ardently they desire a high position in their respective classes; and we realize how strong a temptation to falsify or equivocate is constantly placed before them. We would therefore urge the importance of applying the system with extreme caution; for if we are securing order and industry at the expense of moral rectitude, we are making a fearful exchange. The slightest deviation from virtue furnishes just occasion for alarm.

"The course of evil

Begins so slowly, and from such slight source,
An infant's hand might stop the breach with clay;
But let the stream get deeper, and philosophy,
Aye, and religion too, shall strive in vain
To turn the headlong current."

A man having been reproved by Solon for speaking falsely, excused himself by saying: "It was only in jest." Solon, striking his cane upon the ground, violently exclaimed: "If we allow ourselves to speak falsely in jest, we shall stand a chance of acquiring the habit of speaking falsely of serious matters!"

PROMOTIONS.

Promotions are made to the High School, at the commencement of the Winter Term only. In the other Departments, in addition to the regular annual class promotions, there are individual promotions from one class or department to another, whenever they are warranted by the qualifications of individual pupils.

Diversity of endowments is manifest in every class of every school.

"Some are, and must be, greater than the rest."

Some minds mature much more rapidly than others. Some pupils acquire knowledge with greater facility than others who may be their equals in mental strength and capacity. Some are ambitious and industrious, while others lack application. Some are endowed with more than ordinary physical strength and endurance, and consequently, can devote more time to study, without injury to health, than others less fortunate in these particulars.

It is manifest, therefore, that a rigid adherence to any system of class promotions, exclusively, would do great injustice to some of the classes of pupils specified, and would result in permanent injury to others. For it is as injurious to advance pupils before they are qualified for promotion, as it is unjust to keep them back when they are proper candidates for advancement.

Individual promotions remove all obstacles to the more rapid progress of those pupils who surpass their classmates in industry, or mental activity, or physical endurance.

The great importance of this subject of promotions to the large number personally interested, will justify something more than a passing notice.

But the narrow limits of this report must necessarily restrict us to brief statements, and the mere enunciation of a few suggestive propositions.

We are urged to its consideration by a deep conviction that great injury and cruel wrong are being inflicted upon multitudes of youth, by forcing them beyond their capacity to comprehend, or by imposing upon them burdens which they have not the mental and physical strength to bear; and this too, in our own Commonwealth, so justly commended for its wise systems of popular education.

When we call to mind the ardent affection of parents for their children,—with what tender solicitude they watch over them,—what sacrifices they cheerfully make to promote their welfare,—it may seem like a work of supererogation for us to raise a warning voice and assume the attitude of counsellors. But the most ardent affection and the kindest solicitude are liable to be misdirected. These delicate flowers

“ May take a blemish from the breath of love,
And bear the blight forever.”

By misapplied anxiety in matters of education, the fairest jewels may be laid aside prematurely, and the joyous light of many dwellings may be extinguished before its time.

We have a sad instance of the cruelty and permanent injury that may be inflicted upon a child by loving, doting, and highly educated parents even, in the case of the brilliant and lamented Sarah Margaret Fuller.

Her father was a lawyer of note, and for eight years represented Massachusetts in Congress. Her biographer says: "He devoted great pains,—far too great pains,—to the intellectual culture of his child. She lived among books,—read Latin at six years of age, and was early familiar with Virgil, Horace, and Ovid. She then went on to Greek. At eight years of age she devoured Shakespeare, Cervantes, and Molière, and at fifteen was immersed in literature and philosophy.

She was petted and praised as a prodigy. She was a child without toys, without romps, without laughter. She had no natural childhood. Her mind did not grow—it was forced. A child should expand in the sun; but this little victim was put under a glass frame and plied with all manner of artificial heat. Her brain was unmercifully taxed to the serious injury of her health. She was kept up late at her tasks, and went to bed with stimulated brain and nerves,—to be haunted by spectral illusions, nightmare and horrid dreams; while by day she suffered from headache, weakness and nervous affections of all kinds. In after life she was the victim of disease and pain. In a pathetic prayer found among her papers, she says: "I am weary of thinking. I suffer great fatigue from living. . . . I sink for want of rest, and none will shelter me." "To hear the occasional plaintive tone of sorrow in her thought and speech," Mr. Channing says, "was like the wail of an Æolian harp heard at intervals from some upper window."

This is a marked instance, and, it is to be hoped, is without a parallel for intensity of wrong and suffering; but we are thoroughly persuaded that while we write, there are numbers in our own community suffering to a greater or less degree from similar causes.

Those who suffer most are usually pupils of the highest order; with delicate organizations and sensitive natures ; and who combine largely those qualities of mind and heart we most admire.

Influenced by feelings of commiseration for such, we make our plea in their behalf, and can only wish we possessed the ability to make manifest to all the cause and cure, and could induce the immediate application of the remedy.

We have already intimated that it is our pleasure to witness happy faces in every school-room we visit. But we are grieved also, to witness indications of care and anxiety and weariness and discouragement upon countenances that should be radiant with happiness.

Merry, ringing laughter,—buoyant footsteps,—happy faces,—sparkling eyes,—are natural accompaniments of childhood and youth. We should take warning when these are not apparent.

The following expressions: Youth is life's merry morning,—its golden period,—its joyous spring-time,—its palmy days,—are not high wrought metaphors, but only imperfect representations of the joyousness of childhood wherever the benevolent designs of the Creator are not thwarted.

Whenever the step of the child loses its elasticity,—his face its brightness,—his eyes their sparkle,—his laughter its joyous ring,—or, whenever his appetite becomes fitful,—his sleep-disturbed,—and he betrays unnatural nervousness or irritability in connection with his lessons, be sure something is wrong in his treatment at home or in school.

The primary object of the school is to aid pupils in the acquisition of knowledge, and in the cultivation mainly of their mental faculties, but with due regard also, to physical development and moral culture. To accomplish this object successfully, there must be the constant exercise of discrimination and judgment.

We must acquaint ourselves thoroughly with the mental and physical capabilities of those whom we would instruct.

We must carefully decide how much time pupils may with safety to health, devote to study. There must be a wise adaptation of instruction, in character and amount, to the age, physical strength, mental capacity, and previous preparation of pupils. We must determine as accurately as possible how much assistance we shall render pupils, and how far they must be made to rely upon their own efforts.

First then, as to the time children should be kept in school, and be required to devote to study.

No general rule can be given that will apply to every case. Parents who know as no other persons can, respecting the health and endurance of their children, must decide in each individual instance. Committees in assigning the limits of the school year, endeavor to adapt them to the wants and average capabilities of pupils. Forty-two weeks constitute our school year. In addition to the ten weeks of vacation, there are six and one half stated holidays. The High School has five sessions a week of five hours each. All the other schools have ten sessions a week, averaging two and three-fourths hours each. These sessions are divided by recesses, which reduce the time for study and recitations to four and one-half hours in the High School, and to two and one-half hours in the other schools. After deducting the time required for general exercises and the ordinary business of school, probably not more than one-half the time spent in the school-room is devoted to close mental application.

From careful observation, our conclusion is, that no healthy pupil will be injured by attending school every school day through the year, provided his studies in amount and character, are adapted to his physical strength and mental capacity.

This brings us to what we regard as the root of the difficulty. Pupils are either overworked by having assigned them lessons of too great length in studies which they understand; or, having been promoted prematurely, they are harrassed and discouraged in their attempts to pursue studies beyond their comprehension — mainly the latter. This arises principally from causes in themselves highly commendable; as the solicitude of parents for the advancement of their children; the anxiety of teachers for the rapid progress of their pupils; and the ambition of scholars themselves, for promotion. Evidently, we are all in too great haste.

In the education of the young, the true maxim is: "Make haste slowly." TIME is as essential to the healthy development of the mental faculties as it is to the growth of a tree. No forcing process will bring to maturity the majestic oak before its time. By enriching the soil we may stimulate its growth; but its tough fibres must be wrought out in nature's laboratory by slow processes. Thus must it ever be with the human mind, which of all created things is most enduring.

By careful instruction and judicious training, we may hasten and render symmetrical its natural growth. But with patience we must toil and wait.

We would not clip the wings of those who have the strength to soar; but we would learn wisdom from the unerring instinct of the eagle, that never makes a mistake as to the proper time for stirring up her nest and sending forth her young upon untried pinions.

The acquisition of knowledge is ever a source of intense delight to those who can gain a clear and intelligent understanding of the subject under consideration. And under such circumstances, the mind is always invigorated by the proper exercise of its faculties. But it must be regarded as not only unwise but cruel to require, or even allow pupils to plod on day after day, and year after year in the dark, as many do, perplexed, and disheartened by vain attempts to understand subjects, which from want of mental growth, they are unable to comprehend. School life to such must ever be an incessant round of painful drudgery. Our limits will not admit of an enumeration of the pernicious consequences of such a course.

To avoid the evil under consideration, the requisite time must be furnished for the natural, vigorous growth of all the powers of body and mind. Any apparent loss of time will be much more than compensated for, by the additional physical strength and mental vigor with which the young will go forth to engage in the conflict of life.

Due regard must be had also to the natural order in the development of the intellectual faculties. In nature, it is: "First the blade, then the ear," but we must patiently wait till autumn, before we can rejoice in the possession of "the full corn in the ear."

There is a corresponding order of progression in the province of mind. In the child, observation, curiosity, memory and faith, are developed early. The rapidity with which children of tender years acquire knowledge from observation, and skill by imitation, is a matter of surprise. They memorize with rapidity and ease, if not with positive pleasure. What we should consider a Herculean task, they would regard as mere pastime. As we have already intimated, their faith and intuitions render the slow processes of reasoning unnecessary.

Win the confidence and affections of a child, and he will not call in question your assertions. This fact greatly enhances the responsibility of educators, but it gives them peculiar advantages in communicating knowledge.

Reason, therefore, would seem to indicate that oral instruction, object teaching, and memorizing should be the principal work of the Primary School, and also of the lower classes of the Grammar School.

Reason and judgment mature slowly. Studies, therefore, which require the exercise of these faculties, should be pursued late in the pupil's course.

To require a child to reason logically, or to exercise the judgment of mature minds, would be like demanding of nature, autumn fruits in June.

Again, while we furnish pupils with all needful assistance in gaining knowledge and in developing the mental faculties, we should not forget that the mind can be strengthened and matured only, by the exercise of its own powers.

We may generously furnish facilities for acquiring an education ; but each one must learn for himself. Thought comes of thinking as strength does by action. Every difficulty, successfully overcome, imparts to the victor additional vigor, and insures victory over others more formidable. It is mistaken kindness to do for pupils what they must perform for themselves in order to become skilful in doing. They should early acquire the habit of self-reliance, and should be encouraged in the exercise of their own abilities. Knowledge may be imparted ; but the mind is educated only by the exercise of its own activities.

We would urge upon pupils the importance of regularity in attendance — of faithfulness in the preparation of every lesson. They should make themselves masters of every difficulty that presents itself as an obstacle to their progress. In an intellectual conflict, the true policy is : “ To leave no enemy in the rear.” Then their apparent advancement will be a true index of their real progress. They should determine to become thorough and accurate students, and should labor for a symmetrical development of all the powers and faculties with which God has endowed them.

APPROPRIATIONS.

At the annual Town meeting held on the second day of March last, $12,000 were appropriated to purchase land, and erect a school-house in the vicinity of the Jackson School. And at the meeting of the Town held on the thirteenth of April last, $12,000 were appropriated to purchase land and erect a school-house on Webster Avenue and south of the Fitchburg Railroad. These buildings were to be constructed of wood, with brick basements ; each to contain four school-rooms of ordinary size, and rooms in the basement for the janitor.

A lot of land containing about 20,600 feet, and located on the corner of Joy and Poplar Streets, was purchased for $2,482.35, including right of way in the rear of the lot. Another lot containing 11,050 feet, and located on the north side of Webster Avenue about equi-distant from the Union Glass Works and Cambridge line was purchased at 17 cents per foot.

These buildings were constructed in a thorough and workmanlike manner by our townsman, George W. Trefren, Esq.

Three rooms in the building on Joy Street, were occupied by schools in September ; and two rooms in the building on Webster Avenue were similarly occupied in November.

The school on Joy Street was named the BENNETT SCHOOL, as a token of respect to Clark Bennett, Esq., who was a faithful and efficient member of the School Board during a term of eleven years.

The school on Webster Avenue was named the WEBSTER SCHOOL.

CEDAR STREET SCHOOL.

For the accommodation of scholars residing in the vicinity of the Dry Clay Brick Yard, the Walnut Hill school-house was moved in August last, to Cedar Street, and located on land known as the "Town Farm," which lies between Broadway and the Lowell Railroad.

A school was commenced in that building in September, and named the CEDAR STREET PRIMARY SCHOOL.

To meet the current expenses of the schools and the rapidly increasing demands for school accommodations, committees have been under the necessity of asking for large appropriations for a series of years.

Various causes beyond our control have contributed to impose a heavy burden upon our citizens during the last eight years. In addition to the large amount of money necessary to meet the emergencies of war, we have expended for the purchase of land and the construction and furnishing of school-houses more than $120,000 in excess of sums received from Insurance Companies.

Few towns in the Commonwealth have increased in population more rapidly than Somerville has within the last ten years, and none certainly, have suffered so severely from the destruction of school property.

To refresh the memory of the older inhabitants, and for the information of those who have more recently become residents of our beautiful and thriving town, we will insert a few items gathered from the records of the past.

When Somerville was incorporated in 1842, there were only 293 scholars belonging to all the schools, although children were admitted at four years of age.

The following is the result of the first examination made in March, 1842.

There were belonging to the Town four School-houses, containing in all five school-rooms, as follows :

UPPER WINTER HILL PRIMARY SCHOOL-HOUSE. This building was located on Central Street, where it remained until the first Forster school-house was completed in 1855. It was then moved to the East Village, and located where the Prescott school-house now stands. In 1856 it was removed to Maple Street, and placed upon the lot of land now occupied by the Jackson school-house. In 1861 it was removed to Prospect Street where it now stands, and is known as the Union Primary School House.

PROSPECT HILL SCHOOL-HOUSE. This building contained two school-rooms, and was located on Medford Street near the end of Cross Street. It was occupied by schools until the completion of Brastow school-house in 1861. It now stands on Prospect Street, and contains the Police Court Rooms.

MILK STREET SCHOOL-HOUSE, was located near the Cemetery, and was burnt by an incendiary July 13, 1849.

LOWER WINTER HILL PRIMARY SCHOOL-HOUSE, was located on Broadway, and near Franklin Street. It was occupied by a Primary School, until the first Prescott school-house was completed in 1846. It was afterwards sold and removed.

The school in Russell District was domiciled in a private dwelling.

The Town since its organization has built 17 school-houses, containing in all 59 school-rooms.

The following is the order of their construction :

Name.	Where Located.	When Completed.	Number of Schoolrooms.
Walnut Hill.	Broadway near the foot of Walnut Hill.	1843.	1
Lower Winter Hill.	Broadway, near Mount Benedict.	1843.	1

Prescott, No. 3.	Pearl Street, East Somerville.	1867.	10
Bennett.	Corner of Joy and Poplar Streets.	1868.	4
Webster.	Webster Avenue.	1868.	4

LOWER WINTER HILL SCHOOL-HOUSE was moved to Beacon Street in 1848, and named the HARVARD PRIMARY SCHOOL HOUSE. It was enlarged by the addition of ten feet to its length in 1861.

PRESCOTT SCHOOL-HOUSE, No. 1, was burnt July 6, 1856.

FRANKLIN SCHOOL-HOUSE was enlarged in 1862, by the addition of two school-rooms.

PROSPECT HILL SCHOOL-HOUSE was enlarged in 1865, by the addition of four school-rooms.

FORSTER SCHOOL-HOUSE, No. 1, was burnt February 18, 1866.

PRESCOTT SCHOOL-HOUSE, No. 2, was burnt December 31, 1866.

The first floor of the High School Building, which had been used for a Town Hall, was appropriated to the use of the school in 1867. It now contains a Chemical Laboratory, a Philosophical Room, and two Recitation Rooms.

There are now belonging to the town, 15 school-houses, containing 52 school-rooms.

The estimated value of all the school property is $185,050.

Every part of the town except the Franklin District is well supplied with school accommodations; and in most sections, future wants have been anticipated and provided for.

All the school buildings are in excellent condition, and will require only a small outlay of expense for several years to come.

Five new schools have been organized during the year. Two in the Webster School House, one in the Bennett, one in the Prescott, and the Cedar Street School. A large proportion of the dwelling houses erected during the year are occupied, and the children living in them, are in the schools.

All the school-rooms in the Franklin District are full, and one Primary School is occupying a room we have hired and fitted up temporarily for the purpose. The two Sub-Grammar Schools are crowded to excess. There are several primary scholars qualified for promotion to those schools, but for whom there are no seats. At the close of the summer term, when we shall make our regular class promotions, there will be a smaller number of pupils qualified for promotion to the Grammar School from the Sub-Grammar Schools than will be qualified for promotion to them from the Primary Schools. Hence the demand for additional accommodation is urgent.

Pupils were required to answer correctly 75 per cent of all the questions proposed. The average per cent of correct answers by all the pupils was 83.3.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The corner-stone of the High School building was laid with appropriate ceremonies in September, 1851.

The building was dedicated in April, 1852.

The school was organized May 3, 1852. Whole number of pupils connected with the school the first term, 61.

Whole number of pupils admitted to the school since its organization, 697.

The first class that graduated regularly, and received diplomas, entered in 1858 and graduated in 1862.

Frank M. Hawes,	Ellen F. Leland,
David Heald, Jr.,	Emma F. Merritt,
Amos L. Hoyt,	Maria Miller,
Charles A. Russell,	Lydia Page,
Alton L. Dickerman,	Ella I. Prescott,
Catharine T. Brown.	Elizabeth J. Woodward.

The following named persons, members of the class of 1868, were present every session of the school during their entire course of four years.

Charles A. Russell,	. . .	from Walnut Hill.
David Heald, Jr.,	. . .	" Spring Hill.
Catharine T. Brown,	. . .	" East Somerville.
Maria Miller,	. . .	" Prospect Hill,

Charles K. Cutter, from East Somerville, was absent one session only. Excuse — Temperature 20° below zero, Farenheit's Thermometer.

The graduates thus far, have averaged about 30 per cent of the number of their respective classes upon entering the school. It is an encouraging fact that the percentage is constantly increasing. Fifty per cent of the class that entered in 1864, graduated in 1868. The present First Class contained 39 members upon entering the school in 1865. It now contains 24 members.

Of the graduates, fifteen young gentlemen have entered college, and sixteen young ladies are engaged in teaching.

All the graduates are living, except Miss Fletcher of the class of 1864. She was a young lady of unusual amiability, was endowed with a mind of more than ordinary brilliancy, and gave promise of great usefulness. She died March 31, 1866.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

This organization we regard with peculiar interest and satisfaction. It promises to become a valuable auxiliary to the cause of popular education. Its influence for good in that direction, is already apparent in the community.

It was organized in 1864. All persons who were members of the High School at any time previous to 1862, and all graduates are eligible to membership.

Its object, as stated in the preamble to the Constitution, is, "To promote friendly re-union, to encourage study, to benefit the school, and to engage in any movement for the welfare of the town."

Under the auspices of the Association, several courses of popular lectures, free to the public, have been given the present winter, as follows :

1. On New England History, by Charles G. Pope, Esq., Principal of Forster School.

2. On Geology, by H. P. Makechnie, Esq., Principal of Lincoln School.

3. On the several sciences, with experiments, by Geo. L. Baxter, Esq., Principal of the High School.

In June 1864, the Committee purchased of Mr. Babcock, then Principal of the school, a Mineralogical Cabinet of choice and rare specimens, which, through a series of years, he had collected with great care. Several valuable additions have since been made to it.

Within the past year, a Catalogue of all the specimens has been carefully prepared by the Principal of the school.

The school is supplied with a valuable Philosophical Apparatus, for illustrating various subjects in Natural Philosophy, and a Laboratory containing all necessary appliances for experiments in Chemistry.

The Library of the school has been increased during the year by the New American Cyclopædia in sixteen volumes, the gift of Samuel A. Carleton, Esq., of the School Board.

Each of these valuable aids in communicating instruction, will receive such additions from time to time as the wants of the school may demand.

MUSIC.

The High School and all of the Grammar Schools, are furnished with pianos, and instruction in vocal music is given in these schools once each week, by teachers especially employed for the purpose, and with gratifying results.

We cannot overestimate the importance of this branch of instruction. Pupils early develop their voices, and become acquainted with the rudiments of the science of music, which they learn to read with a good degree of facility. But its influence in elevating the moral tone and character of our schools, surpasses every other consideration, and is beyond computation.

The following are the Reports of the Sub-Committees to whom was assigned the duty of examining the different grades of schools.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

The Committee to whom was allotted the duty of examining the (Nineteen) Primary Schools of Somerville, in concluding their duties for this season, can conscientiously report a very promising condition in this important department of education.

It was to be regretted that the examination should necessarily occur at this season, when absence from sickness, consequent on the inclemency of the weather, is always the greatest. In some schools the reduction from this cause was so great as materially to reduce the rate to which they would manifestly have been entitled, had they been fully represented. In two cases at least, there were not over two-thirds of the average number, present.

The practice of visits without previous notice we believe to be preferable to fixed days and particular reviews, albeit not so much relished by teachers ambitious to make a brilliant exhibition of their charges. The calls this year were all without specific time of examination being given, and we regard the bearing of the schools under the naturally embarrassing circumstances, as especially commendable.

It is perhaps not known to all, and for the information of such we will state, that the examination of the Primary Schools embraced only reading, spelling, arithmetic and abbreviations, with an occasional class in Geography, where the school is composed in part of more advanced pupils.

In reading we found much that was in the highest degree praiseworthy, and but little that was really wrong ; the almost total absence of the objectionable feature of last year was especially noted with pleasure, and we feel that our earnest protest of one year ago has been productive of much good. That it may not be lost sight of, we repeat the recommendation to use every means to correct the rendering of saw, law, draw, and the like, into sor, lor and dror; or, the careless clipping of the g from words ending in "ing." In some schools we observed a sing-song style of reading, and we urge upon teachers the necessity of its speedy correction. If allowed to go on during the pupils' term in the primary school, it will be found exceedingly difficult to eradicate the habit in the higher classes. Much may be done by a little attention thereto on the part of parents or older brothers or sisters in exercises at home; and while satisfying themselves as to the proficiency of the scholars, materially assist the teacher.

The spelling, in the main, has been very good indeed, and we have adopted the plan of taking words from the reading lesson instead of confining ourselves to the limits of the spelling lesson, as it not unfrequently occurs that little words in almost daily use are misspelled, when a page of four or five syllabled words would not show an error. An occasional inquiry as to the definition of a word would generally be promptly and correctly answered.

In arithmetic, the familiar examples given were readily understood, as a general thing, and miscellaneous questions from the tables received prompt replies. We noticed that children who had been accustomed to domestic errands at the store for minor family supplies, were much quicker in their answers than others of equal and oftener superior ability, who had not had the advantage of such experience. It may seem of small consequence to adults, but it is really a very considerable mental effort for a child of six or eight years to be required to go outside the book and explain an ordinary transaction, and we advise that real or imaginary practical examples be given them by teachers, parents or guardians, as frequently as possible, and thus add practice to theory, as arithmetics are not entirely perfect in the former particular.

The order of the schools was found generally excellent, and the precision shown on going to and from the seats, or on leaving the school, was an especially pleasing feature, and in many of the younger scholars the attention to "order," and manifest pride in appearing well on drill, gave evidence of the faithfulness of teachers in this very important first step. In but a limited number did we observe any serious departure from the strict decorum which should characterize a school-room.

The consolidation of classes in some schools, changes to new buildings, and consequent interruptions to studies, have been a drawback in some measure this year; but we hope for regular, uniform attendance henceforth, and would suggest to parents that something of more than ordinary importance only, should be allowed to interfere with a regular and punctual report of their children during the term upon which they enter. The omission of a day now and then, or occasionally a week, is productive of much annoyance to the teachers, and of positive injury to the child.

We trust another season may see the substitution of the neat desk and chair throughout the schools, in place of the unsightly chairs with racks attached, now in use in a few instances. Certainly the excellent exhibit in one school should entitle it to an early attention in that particular, and we feel that no tax-payer would hesitate in voting the outlay, could he see the bright faces and listen to the prompt answers from some of the youngest as well as the older scholars, and where a mistake in anything is a rare exception.

To the teachers we offer our congratulations on the success which has attended their efforts during the past year, and to those whom we met officially for the first time during the examination, we bid a cordial welcome to the honorable profession they have chosen, trusting to time and experience to remove any obstacle which may appear discouraging. That the ability to teach is not wanting in any one case, we are assured, and the greatest difficulty, as it appears to us, is in the matter of discipline, which if secured, will render the labor of the school-room, lighter by one half. Let your reproof be such as to obviate the necessity for scolding, a practice which rarely accomplishes the object and adds infinitely to your work. We find schools governed by the tap of a pencil, perfectly ; and occasionally one very imperfectly controlled by constant calls to order and consequent distraction of the teacher's attention from the business in hand. The difference in schools of course is considered in these remarks, and good training at home will show as plainly in school as elsewhere, and the teacher's duties made lighter, or more arduous, in proportion as the discipline at home secures a ready and affectionate obedience, or fails in the same.

We would in conclusion not only invite, but urge parents to visit the schools more frequently, and ascertain by personal observation their condition, believing that such visits will be not only gratifying to the scholars and teachers, but mutually beneficial.

HENRY F. SPENCER, CHAIRMAN.

SUB-GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

The condition of the Sub-Grammar Schools is, in every respect, satisfactory. The discipline, in almost all cases, is excellent. The cheerful, contented, happy appearance of the children shows, as nothing else can, that the teachers wisely use the authority committed into their hands: and, at the same time, the widest regard for the laws of the school-room. The quiet order and decorum tell better than any words, what the discipline is from day to day.

It is generally observed that the peculiar fondness which a teacher has for a particular study, will be seen in the manner in which the pupils answer questions in that department. Thus, in one of our examinations, the children analyzed their problems in arithmetic with extreme care: in another, the answers to the questions in Geography, and particularly the demonstrations from drawings on the black-board, betrayed the general delight in that important study. While the evidences of careful training in all the studies were abundant, we were pleased to find so much attention given to the early formation of correct habits in reading and writing. In one school the excellence of the reading was truly surprising.

The good effects upon the pupils of the new, well-lighted, and convenient school-houses, properly furnished, in some instances are readily perceived. The manners and the whole bearing of the children are greatly influenced by these accessions. Beautiful and costly things are in themselves good educators. Thus the work of the teacher is made easier when the great lesson of self-respect is early and well learned. In this connection we can hardly refrain from a brief reference to the examination of the High School.

It was an occasion of especial interest from the fact that, while the number of students is so very large, the recitations in the several departments indicated the thoroughness that usually results from faithful private tuition.

In many of the studies, especially the Greek and Latin, it was most gratifying to observe how the marked enthusiasm of the Principal and his able Assistants had been communicated, unconsciously to the pupils. The course of study here is fully equal to that pursued at the best of our colleges only a few years since, and the high standard of scholarship marked in this school, and so successfully maintained, through the patient, untiring devotedness of all who give instruction, causes your Committee to feel that the name "High School" is no unmeaning name.

GEORGE W. DURELL, CHAIRMAN.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

Though these schools are under the charge of able and experienced instructors, and though there have been but few changes in the teachers' department during the past year, yet the recent examination of them, impressed us with a feeling that, with two exceptions, they have not maintained in every particular the enviable position they had acquired a year ago.

The falling off seems to have been mostly in the first and second classes, and that in the studies of Reading and Grammar. We can but think that some of our teachers have lost some of their interest in teaching these two most essential branches of study.

Many of those exercises in vocal drill, that serve to cultivate the voice, to secure distinctness of articulation, and energy of expression, might be introduced to advantage.

Arithmetic, Spelling, Geography, History, and Penmanship are satisfactorily taught, and the order is generally good.

We hope to see a system of individual promotions restored. We believe this system will promote a healthy enthusiasm in study, secure the best efforts of the pupil, make him ambitious to learn, and remove the constant friction attendant upon the class system; that through this agency, lessons can be assigned to a class, adapted to the mental and physical capacity of each pupil, and that the studies in our Grammar schools are not so varied that pupils need be deprived of its advantages. Under the class system of promotions, a pupil's advancement is a question of time, while under the individual system, it becomes a question of industry, of talent, of punctual attendance, and of general attention to the business of the school; under the class system, some pupils have little or nothing to do to get the lessons assigned, while others work hard, become discouraged and disheartened because they are unable to do the work of the class. The individual system meets the wants of each pupil, does not ruin one with over work, nor make another indolent for lack of work.

S. A. CARLTON, CHAIRMAN.

HIGH SCHOOL.

This school continues to maintain the high character which it has had for many years past. It is fortunate in being under the charge of a principal, who, to excellent scholarship, adds thorough devotion to the interests of the school.

Occasional visits to the school, and a recent careful examination of the several classes, enable us to speak more confidently at the present time, than we felt warranted in doing, in the report of last year.

Of the character of the instruction given in the various branches of study, there is with the Committee but one opinion. It is thorough in all departments. The principal and his assistants have evidently labored most assiduously to promote the best interests of their pupils, who in turn have been faithful to their several studies.

The school is at present very large, numbering 137 scholars. We believe no other town in the State has so large a number of scholars in its High School, in proportion to the population. These scholars have all undergone a rigid examination, before their admission, and consequently the standard of scholarship is high. But the school is too large for the room it now occupies. The government of so large a number of pupils in one room, will of necessity require careful supervision on the part of the principal, which added to the labor of teaching, must make his work peculiarly arduous. We ask the generous co-operation of parents and pupils, in efforts to lighten as much as possible his labors, by giving him that encouragement which he has so richly merited.

For the Committee,

JOHN P. MARSHALL.

In closing we would urge upon the attention of parents, teachers, and Committee, the vast importance of the cultivation of kindly relations and a mutual good understanding. Here should exist the most cordial co-operation. Our interests are identical. Our aims are one. We are all laboring for the attainment of the same object—the highest good of those for whose proper training we are mutually responsible. But our relations are peculiar.

Parents are the divinely appointed teachers of their children. Hence the relation of the parent to his child is the only natural relation existing in our present systems of secular instruction. But He who in wisdom established this relation and imposed its responsibilities, implanted also those ardent parental affections whose strength none can measure.

The relation of the teacher to his pupils is temporary and artificial. Parents in transferring their duties cannot transfer their affections also. Civil law regards the teacher as occupying the place of the parent; but no legislation can impart to him who assumes this artificial relation, that tender parental love, which "suffereth long and is kind;" which "seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;" but "beareth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

To harmonize these different relations, and to overcome these natural deficiencies should be our constant endeavor. Teachers should labor assiduously to come into sympathy with parents, and to cultivate affection for their pupils. And parents should earnestly strive to inspire their children with confidence in their school, and with affection for their teachers.

We all labor more cheerfully and effectively in accordance with our inclinations, and especially in the direction of our affections. Duties are pleasures when the heart is in them. A great point is gained, therefore, when the school and the teacher secure the confidence and love of the pupil.

He is the wise teacher who labors earnestly to render himself worthy of the confidence and love of those whom he instructs and controls.

He is the judicious parent who cheerfully co-operates with the teacher to render the school pleasant and profitable to the child.

OF THE

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

ARTICLE I.

ORGANIZATION.

THE first meeting of the School Committee shall be held on the Monday next succeeding the Annual Town Meeting, at which time the Board shall be organized by the choice of a Chairman and a Secretary, by ballot, and by the appointment by the Chairman of the following named Sub-Committees. 1. On examination of Teachers; 2. On Books; 3. On Fuel; 4. On Finance; 5. On Insurance; 6. On the several Schools.

ARTICLE II.

Whenever so authorized by the town, a Superintendent shall be chosen by ballot at the next regular meeting of the Board for one year from the fifteenth day of April.

ARTICLE III.

If the office of Secretary and Superintendent is held by one person, he shall receive only the salary of the Superintendent; otherwise, the salary of the Secretary shall be fixed by the Board.

ARTICLE IV.

DUTIES OF THE SECRETARY.

1. To notify the Committee of all regular and special meetings, and adjournments of regular meetings of the Board.
2. To attend the meetings of the School Committee, and all Sub-Committees, and record all the votes, orders and proceedings of the same in a permanent record-book.

3. To be present at the examination of teachers, and give certificates of their election, and, in duplicate, of their qualification as required by law. See Gen. Stat., ch. 38, § 24.

4. To keep a list of applicants for situations in schools, who have passed examinations satisfactory to the Examining Committee, together with their address.

5. To notify teachers of their re-election, and of any changes in the management of the schools.

6. To make and audit bills for the quarterly payments of teachers and janitors, and to audit all bills of expenditure authorized by the Board.

7. To keep accounts of all the expenditures of the Board in suitable books, which shall always be open to the inspection of the members.

8. To perform all other duties required by law of the Secretary of the School Committee.

ARTICLE V.

DUTIES OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

1. To visit all the schools as often as once a month; see that they are supplied with all needful articles, furnished by the Committee for their comfort and convenience; carefully observe the methods of instruction, and the discipline of all the teachers; suggest improvements, and remedy defects in their management; advise on the best methods of instruction and discipline; pay special attention to the classification of the pupils in the several schools, and to the apportionment among the classes of the prescribed studies.

2. To prepare at the end of the winter term a written statement of the comparative and actual condition of the various schools by grades.

3. To prepare for each meeting of the Committee a list of matters to be passed upon.

4. To prepare immediately after the organization of the Board, cards containing the names of the various schools, teachers, and sub-committees.

5. To prepare cards indicating the order and time for the annual examinations and exhibitions of all the schools.

6. To attend to the preparations of Diplomas to be awarded to graduates of the High School, and Certificates to be given by the Principals of the Grammar Schools to applicants for admission to the High School, indicating that they have completed the course of study prescribed for the Grammar School.

7. To be present at all meetings of sub-committees, of which he is, ex-officio, a member.

8. To assist sub-committees in filling vacancies caused by the resignation of teachers.

9. To assist in the examination of candidates for admission to the High School.

10. To perform all other duties required by law, of a Superintendent of Schools.

ARTICLE VI.

The regular meetings of the Board shall be held on the second Monday of each month. Special meetings may be appointed by the chairman, or, in his absence, by the secretary.

A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum.

Every member of the Board, when present, shall vote on all motions, unless especially excused by the Board; and all votes, except for the election of officers and teachers, shall be by hand ballot; or by yeas and nays, if called for.

ARTICLE VII.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

The business of the Board, at the regular meeting, shall be taken up in the following order:—

1. Reading of the Records.
2. Action upon bills.
3. Unfinished business.
4. Reports of Committees.
5. New business.

ARTICLE VIII.

EXAMINATIONS AND EXHIBITIONS.

SECTION 1. Private Examinations of all the schools shall take place in January and February, conducted by Sub-Committees appointed by the Chairman, for each grade of schools.

SECT. 2. Blanks shall be furnished each Sub-Committee, by the Superintendent, and these when filled shall be immediately returned to the Superintendent, who shall at the next meeting of the Board, present a tabular statement of the comparative rank of the schools in each grade, as indicated by the reports of the several Sub-Committees.

SECT. 3. Public Exhibitions, or Examinations of all the schools shall take place in July, under the sanction of their respective Sub-Committees.

ARTICLE IX.

TEACHERS.

SECTION 1. At the next meeting of the Board, after the close of the Summer term, teachers shall be elected by ballot for all the schools; and these appointments shall take effect with the Winter term, and hold for one year, unless sooner annulled.

SECT. 2. No person shall be declared elected as a teacher, without having received the votes of a majority of the Board; but if a vacancy shall occur in any school, between the meetings of the Board, the Sub-Committee of the School shall employ a substitute, until the next meeting of the Board.

SECT. 3. The salary of each teacher shall be established at the time of the appointment, and shall be payable on the Friday next preceding the Annual Thanksgiving, and the vacations in February, May, and July; teachers being paid one forty-second of their annual salary for each week of actual service.

ARTICLE X.

BILLS.

The bills for teachers' salaries, janitors' services, and insurance premiums, may be approved by the Secretary. All other bills must be presented for approval at a regular meeting of the Board.

A Sub-Committee may incur an expense, not exceeding twenty dollars, for repairs or improvements.

ARTICLE XI.

SUSPENSION OR AMENDMENT OF RULES, ETC.

Any of these Rules, or the Regulations of the Schools, may be suspended or amended by a vote of two-thirds of the Board; provided, that every proposition for permanent modification shall be presented in writing one week at least before action.

GENERAL REGULATIONS
OF THE
PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

RULE 1.

The school-year shall be divided into two terms, corresponding with the returns required by the State, a Winter Term, commencing on the first Monday in September, and a Summer Term commencing on the first Monday in March.

RULE 2.

From May first to the close of the Summer term, the morning session of all the schools will commence at 8 o'clock, and during the remainder of the year at 9 o'clock.

RULE 3.

In the High School, a session of five hours will be held each school-day except Saturday. In the Grammar, Sub-Grammar and Primary Schools, a morning session of three hours will be held each school-day; and an afternoon session, each school-day except Wednesday and Saturday, commencing at 2 o'clock, and continuing two and one-half hours.

RULE 4.

SECTION 1. There shall be two recesses in each session of the High School, and one in each session of all the other schools, not exceeding fifteen minutes, including the time occupied in going out and coming in.

SECT. 2. No pupil shall be deprived of his recess: though for punishment, he may not be allowed to take it at the regular time with the school.

SECT. 3. No pupil shall be detained more than twenty minutes after the time for closing the school.

RULE 5.

SECTION 1. No pupil will be admitted to any public school without a permit from the Sub-Committee or Superintendent, who will require satisfactory evidence that the child is five years of age and has been secured against the small pox.

SECT. 2. In case of absence, tardiness, or dismissal before the close of the session, a written excuse from the parent or other suitable person shall be required.

SECT. 3. Any pupil entering school without proper attention to cleanliness or dress, may be sent home to be suitably prepared.

SECT. 4. For flagrant misconduct of any kind, any teacher may discharge a pupil from the school; provided, that such case of discharge shall be reported in writing to the parent or guardian of the pupil, and also to the Sub-Committee, within twenty-four hours after its occurrence. If such discharge is ratified by the Sub-Committee, no pupil so dismissed shall be admitted into any school in Somerville, without a vote of the School Committee.

SECT. 5. If any pupil of the High School is absent two days in one month, or any pupil of the Grammar Department is absent three days in one month except on account of sickness, such pupil shall cease to be a member of the School until restored by a written permit from the Sub-Committee or Superintendent.

SECT. 6. No pupil affected with any contagious disease shall be allowed to remain in any of the Public Schools.

RULE 6.

SECTION 1. All the teachers are desired to make themselves familiar with these Regulations, especially with those which relate to their duties, and to see that they are faithfully observed.

SECT. 2. All the school-rooms shall be opened and the teachers present both morning and afternoon FIFTEEN MINUTES at least, before the time for the session to begin; and they shall require the scholars to be in their seats, punctually at the hour for commencing school: Sub-Committees are required to report to the Board, any violation of this Rule, that may come to their knowledge.

SECT. 3. When a teacher is absent from school on account of sickness or other cause during the whole or part of a school session, he or she is requested to notify the Sub-Committee at once, who shall employ a substitute, if necessary.

SECT. 4. Teachers shall punctually observe the hours appointed for opening and dismissing the schools; and during school hours, shall faithfully apply themselves to their duties. In all their intercourse with their scholars they shall strive to impress on their minds, both by precept and example, the great importance of earnest efforts for improvement in morals, in manners, and deportment, as well as in useful learning.

SECT. 5. Pupils shall be carefully instructed to avoid idleness and profanity, falsehood and deceit, and every wicked and disgraceful practice, and to conduct themselves in an orderly and proper manner; and it shall be the duty of the teachers, so far as practicable, to exercise a general inspection over them in these regards, both in and out of school, and also while going to the same and returning home.

SECT. 6. Teachers should aim at such discipline in their schools as would be exercised by a kind, judicious parent in his family, avoiding corporal punishment in all cases where good order can be preserved by milder measures; and in no case resorting to confinement in closets or wardrobe, or to other cruel or unnatural punishment.

RULE 7.

There shall be kept in each school, a Register of the name, age, dates of admission and discharge, absences, and tardinesses of each scholar. The Principal of each school shall be solely responsible for the correctness of said Register, and for the proper returns from it to the Secretary of the School Committee.

RULE 8.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Principal in each school building to see that no injury shall come to the premises; that neatness and order are maintained in every department; and if necessary, to make daily examination of the school-house, out-buildings and yards.

SECT. 2. Without diminishing the responsibility of the several teachers, the Grammar Masters will be held responsible for the general discipline of the schools in their several buildings, and are invested with authority to make such rules, not inconsistent with these regulations, and require such co-operation of the other teachers as may, in their opinion, be necessary to secure good order.

RULE 9.

The morning exercises of all the schools shall commence with the reading, by the teacher, of a portion of the Scriptures, as required by the laws of the Commonwealth. The afternoon session shall close with appropriate singing.

RULE 10.

No advertisement shall be read to the pupils of any school, or posted upon the walls or fences of any school building, nor shall any agent or other person be permitted to enter any school for the purpose of exhibiting either to teacher or pupils any new book or map or article of apparatus, without the approbation of the School Committee.

RULE 11.

Continued neglect by pupils to procure suitable books, or materials for school use, shall be met as the law directs. (See General Statutes, Chap. 38, Sections 30 and 31.)

RULE 12.

HOLIDAYS AND VACATIONS.

The following shall be the holidays and vacations granted to all the schools. Every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon, Thanksgiving day and the Friday and Saturday next succeeding; Christmas week; the twenty-second of February; the week immediately preceding the first Monday in March; Fast day; one week commencing on the Monday preceding the last Wednesday in May; the Seventeenth of June; the Fourth of July; the seven weeks preceding the first Monday in September.

Whenever any one of the single days above named shall occur on Sunday, the day following shall be a holiday.

In addition to these holidays, the Chairman of the School Committee, through the Sub-Committees, may dismiss all the schools on extraordinary occasions of general interest ; and each school may be dismissed by its Sub-Committee on two of the half days of the annual public exhibitions, and during the sessions of the Middlesex County Teachers' Association, upon the request of the teacher or teachers who will attend the same ; and Sub-Committees are not allowed to dismiss their schools on any other occasions except by vote of the Board.

RULE 13.

SECTION 1. A class shall be admitted to the High School at the commencement of the Winter term. The candidates for admission shall be examined by the Principal of the school and the Superintendent, on the presentation of certificates from the Principals of the Grammar Schools, indicating that they have completed the course of study prescribed for the Grammar Schools.

SECT. 2. It shall be the duty of the Master to see that individual and class promotions are made in all the schools in their several districts as often as the good of the pupils may require.

SECT. 3. All the teachers except those of the High School are requested to be ready to report at the expiration of each month to the Superintendent the number of individual promotions made in his or her school during the month.

RULE 14.

The following named book and studies are prescribed for the schools :

 2. To dust the furniture as often as the rooms are swept ; the windows, blinds, walls and ceilings as frequently as necessary to keep them in good order.
 3. To clean the doors and all other painted surfaces, including seats and desks during the summer vacation ; the windows twice in each year, and the ink-wells once in three months.
 4. To build fires, when necessary, in season to have the rooms properly warmed at the time for opening the schools. Where stoves are used, fuel sufficient for the day must be carried to the several rooms.
 5. To use the fuel economically. To screen the ashes thoroughly and use the screenings on the fires.
 6. To remove the ashes and all other debris from the cellar during the month of June.
 7. To keep the path clear of snow from each outside door of the school building to the gate, and also to the out-houses.
 8. To keep the windows, outside doors, including those of the out-houses, and the gates locked except during school hours.
 9. To take every precaution to avoid accidents from fire.
 10. To have a general oversight of the premises at all times.
 11. When the building is heated by steam, the janitor is required to be in attendance CONSTANTLY DURING SCHOOL HOURS.

 It is understood that the Janitor in the performance of his duties, is under the direction of the Principal.

LAWS RELATING TO PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

SECT. 17. If any person elected a member of the school committee, after being duly notified of his election in the manner in which town officers are required to be notified, refuses or neglects to accept said office, or if any member of the board declines further service, or from change of residence or otherwise, becomes unable to attend to the duties of the board, the remaining members shall, in writing, give notice of the fact to the selectmen of the town, or to the mayor and aldermen of the city, and the two boards shall thereupon, after giving public notice of at least one week, proceed to fill such vacancy; and a majority of the ballots of persons entitled to vote shall be necessary to an election.

AMENDMENT.

[SECT. 1. The school committee shall require the daily reading of some portion of the Bible, without written note or oral comment, in the public schools, but they shall require no scholar to read from any particular version whose parent or guardian shall declare that he has conscientious scruples against allowing him to read therefrom, nor shall they ever direct any school books calculated to favor the tenets of any particular sect of Christians, to be purchased or used in any of the public schools.]

SECT. 28. The school committee shall direct what books shall be used in the public schools, and no change shall be made in said books except by the unanimous consent of the whole board, unless the committee consists of more than nine, and questions relating to school books are intrusted to a sub-committee. In that case, the consent of two-thirds of the whole number of said sub-committee, with the concurrent vote of three-fourths of the whole board, shall be requisite for such change. If any change is made, each pupil then belonging to the public schools, and requiring the substituted book, shall be furnished with the same, by the school committee, at the expense of said town.

SECT. 30. If any scholar is not furnished by his parent, master or guardian, with the requisite books he shall be supplied therewith by the school committee at the expense of the town.

SECT. 31. The school committee shall give notice in writing to the assessors of the town of the names of the scholar supplied with books under the provisions of the preceding section, of the books so furnished, the prices thereof, and the names of the parents, masters or guardians; who ought to have supplied the same. The assessors shall add the price of the books to the next annual tax of such parents, masters or guardians; and the amount so added shall be levied, collected, and paid into the town treasury, in the same manner as the town taxes.

SECT. 32. If the assessors are of opinion that any parent, master, or guardian, is unable to pay the whole expense of the books so supplied, on his account, they shall omit to add the price of such books, or shall add only a part thereof, to his annual tax, according to their opinion of his ability to pay.

CHAPTER XL.

SECT. 1. The clerks of the several cities and towns, upon receiving from the secretary of the board of education the school registers and blank forms of inquiry for school returns, shall deliver them to the school committee of such cities and towns.

SECT. 2. If a school committee fails to receive such blank forms of return on or before the last day of March, they shall forthwith notify the secretary of the board of education, who shall transmit such forms as soon as may be.

SECT. 3. The assessors shall annually in the month of May, ascertain the number of persons in their respective towns and cities on the first day of May, between the ages of five and fifteen years, and on or before the first day of July following, report the same to the school committee.

SECT. 4. The school committee shall annually on or before the last day of the following April, certify under oath, the numbers as returned to them by the assessors, and also the sum raised by such city or town for the support of schools during the preceding school year, including only wages and board of teachers, fuel for the schools, and care of the fires and school-rooms, and shall transmit such certificate to the secretary of the board of education. The form of such certificate shall be as follows, to wit:—

A M E N D M E N T .

[We, the school committee of _____, do certify that from the returns made by the assessors in the year _____, it appears that on the first day of May, in the year _____, there were belonging to said town the number of _____ persons between the ages of five and fifteen years; and we further certify that said town raised the sum of _____ dollars for the support of public schools for the preceding school year including only the wages and board of teachers, fuel for the schools, and care of fires and school-rooms; and that said town maintained, during said year, each of the schools required to be kept by the first section of the thirty-eight chapter of the General Statutes for a period not less than six months; and we further certify that said town maintained, during said year, school _____ for the benefit of all the inhabitants of the town, as required by section two, chapter thirty-eight of the General Statutes for months and _____ days.

ss.

On this day of , personally appeared the above named school committee of , and made oath that the above certificate by them subscribed is true.

Before me,

Justice of the Peace.

SECT. 3. In the returns made by the school committee to the secretary of the board of education, twenty days or forty half-days of actual session shall be counted as one month.]

SECT. 5. The school committee shall cause the school registers to be faithfully kept in all the public schools, and shall annually on or before the last day of April, return the blank forms of inquiry, duly filled up, to the secretary of the board of education ; and shall also specify in said returns the purposes to which the money received by their town or city from the income of the school fund has been appropriated.

SECT. 6. The school committee shall annually make a detailed report of the condition of the several public schools, which report shall contain such statements and suggestions in relation to the schools as the committee deem necessary or proper to promote the interests thereof. The committee shall cause said report to be printed for the use of the inhabitants, in octavo, pamphlet form, of the size of the annual reports of the board of education, and transmit two copies thereof to the secretary of said board, on or before the last day of April, and deposit one copy in the office of the clerk of the city or town.

SECT. 13. The several school teachers shall faithfully keep the registers furnished to them, and make due return thereof to the school committee, or such person as they may designate, and no teacher shall be entitled to receive payment for services until the register, properly filled up and completed, shall be so returned.

CHAPTER XLI.

SECTION I. Every person having under his control a child between the ages of eight, and fourteen years, shall annually during the continuance of his control send such child to some public school in the city or town in which he resides, at least twelve weeks, if the public schools of such city or town so long continue, six weeks of which time shall be consecutive ; and for every neglect of such duty the party offending shall forfeit to the use of such city or town a sum not exceeding twenty dollars : but if it appears upon the inquiry of the truant officers or school committee of any city or town, or upon the trial of any prosecution, that the party so neglecting was not able, by reason of poverty, to send such child to school or to furnish him with the means of education, or that such child has been otherwise furnished with the means of education for a like period of time, or has already acquired the branches of learning taught in the public schools, or that his bodily or mental condition has been such as to prevent his attendance at school or application to study for the period required, the penalty before mentioned shall not be incurred.

SECT. 2. The truant officers and the school committees of the several cities and towns shall inquire into all cases of neglect of the duty prescribed in the preceding section ; and ascertain from the persons neglecting, the reasons if any therefor ; and shall forthwith give notice of all violations, with the reasons to the treasurer of the city or town ; and if such treasurer wilfully neglects or refuses to prosecute any person liable to the penalty provided for in the preceding section, he shall forfeit the sum of twenty dollars.

SECT. 4. The school committee shall determine the number and qualifications of the scholars to be admitted into the school kept for the use of the whole town.

SECT. 8. The school committee shall not allow any child to be admitted to or connected with the public schools, who has not been duly vaccinated.

CHAPTER XLII.

AMENDMENT.

[SECT. 2. Any minor convicted of being an habitual truant, or any child convicted of wandering about in the streets or public places of any city or town having no lawful occupation or business, not attending school, and growing up in ignorance, between the ages of seven and sixteen years, may at the discretion of the justice or court having jurisdiction of the case, instead of the fine mentioned in the first (substituted for section 4 above :) section, be committed to any such institution of instruction, house of reformation, or suitable situation provided for the purpose, under the authority of the first (substituted for section 4.) for such time, not exceeding two years, as such justice or court may determine.]

SECT. 7. A minor convicted of either of said offences and sentenced to pay a fine may, in default of payment thereof, be committed to such institution of instruction, house of reformation, or suitable situation provided as aforesaid. And upon proof that the minor is unable to pay the fine, and has no parent, guardian, or person chargeable with his support able to pay the same, he may be discharged by some justice or court, whenever it is deemed expedient, or he may be discharged in the manner poor convicts may be discharged from imprisonment for non-payment of fine and costs.

SECT. 8. Warrants issued under this chapter shall be returnable before any trial justice or judge of a police court, at the place named in the warrant ; and the justice or judge shall receive such compensation as the city or town determines.

SECT. 23. Whoever wilfully interrupts or disturbs any school or other assembly of people met for a lawful purpose, shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding thirty days, or by fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

REPORT

OF THE

OVERSEERS OF POOR.

During the financial year that has just closed, there has but little transpired not common to the business of the Poor Department. The number applying for relief, will not vary much from one hundred families, representing about four hundred persons; which was about the number for the preceding year. This, on the whole, may be considered favorable, if we take into consideration the largely increased population of the town. Only a very small percentage of this number have a settlement in Somerville, or in any other place in this Commonwealth.

At the present time there are only three persons receiving full support from the Town, viz., Henry Kinsley and Bridget Bradburn, at the Vermont Asylum at Brattleboro, both moderately insane; and Truman Morrill at the Charlestown Almshouse. The aggregate cost to the Town for the support of these three persons, does not amount to quite four hundred dollars per annum, which sum, we think, the town will consider sufficiently low, when assured that the comfort and well being of these persons at each of these places appear to be well cared for.

Early in the year, the sum of four hundred dollars was paid into the Town Treasury by the guardian of Henry Kinsley, the same having descended to him from the estate of his late brother, Calvin Kingsley. This sum has been passed to the credit of our Poor Account. Something more, it is supposed, will be realized by the town from the same source.

During the past three years, the tendency of legislation has been in favor of extending increased facilities in favor of acquiring settlements, by which means a very large number of persons have become possessed of such settlements within the period named.

The "Naturalization" clause, which has made naturalization a condition precedent to acquiring a settlement, has within a year been repealed; as has also the clause in the Military Act of 1865, making six months residence in a place next preceding such enlistment, one of the conditions to obtaining such settlement.

It may be found necessary for the town, in order to protect itself from largely increased expenditures for this department growing out of this legislative action, to assert its legal rights, by sending to Tewksbury, very many of those who fall into distress, having no settlement in any place in this Commonwealth, and who have hitherto been the recipients of the free charity offering of the Town. In case such a course should be found necessary, due discrimination should be made in favor of families of temperate and industrious habits, among whose members are pupils of our schools.

The case of Joseph W. Martin, we think, should not be passed over by us in silence. He, it appears, served in the late war to the credit of our Town, for nearly two years; so that according to law, when within our limits, if in distress, he was entitled to relief or support, which we supposed in cases of this nature it was intended by the Town to have relieved by the Selectmen from the appropriation of five hundred dollars for relief of Soldier's families voted last April to be disbursed by that Board. Relief, however was, declined by that Board, and we were under the necessity of providing for his support, he being very sick at the time. He was received at the Charlestown Almshouse where every needed attention was given him, and where he expired after about seven weeks residence. His remains were buried in a suitable manner at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Within the year, some six families whose settlement is in this town, have been relieved by other places in which they now reside, and the expenses of such relief paid by our town. Thus far the expenses incurred in behalf of such persons, has been comparatively small, but from this fact, we cannot feel assured that such will be the case in future.

Coal in this department was contracted for in July at $7.50 per ton.

Having been actuated by a desire to consult not only the financial interests, but the generous sentiments of the town, as well as the necessities and deserts of those applying for aid: we find as a gratifying result, that our expenditures have fallen considerably within the appropriation made for the current year, by the town, after excluding the unanticipated $400 from the Kinsley estate.

While it is gratifying to find our burdens so light for support of the Poor, it is humiliating to see the agencies and instrumentalities for demoralization, degradation and want, so actively at work in our otherwise prosperous town.

OF THE

SOMERVILLE MYSTIC WATER COMMITTEE.

THE undersigned respectfully submit the first Annual Report of the Somerville Mystic Water Committee.

The first action by the town in regard to the introduction of the Mystic Lake Water, was at a Town Meeting held Nov. 5th, 1867, when, upon the petition of Nathan Tufts, Jr., and others, it was voted "That Nathan Tufts, Jr., Aaron Sargent, George O. Brastow, S. A. Carlton, C. E. Rymes, Thomas Cunningham and Levi Russell, be a Committee to take the whole matter of contracting with the City of Charlestown for a supply of Mystic Water, into consideration — confer with the Charlestown authorities — propose some plan, and report at the next Town Meeting."

At a Town Meeting held March 2d, 1868, the Committee reported progress and asked for further time, which was granted.

At a Town Meeting held April 13th, 1868, the Committee submitted the following

REPORT.

The Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Charlestown have — through their Engineer — caused a survey and plan of this town to be made, with reference to the introduction and distribution therein, of the Mystic

Water, and have designated on said plan the sizes of the pipes which it is deemed will be requisite.

The most favorable conditions upon which the town can hope to obtain a supply of the water are, that the town (or such portions thereof as it may be decided to be expedient) shall be piped — including the cost of the pipe and the laying of the same — at the expense of the town. The water will then be furnished to the takers at the same rates as are, or may be, charged to the citizens of Charlestown; the Water Commissioners collecting all water rates, and crediting and paying this town from the gross amount so collected, fifteen per cent. on all sums to $20,000; twenty per cent. on all sums in excess of $20,000 to $30,000; twenty-five per cent. on all sums in excess of $30,000 to $40,000; thirty per cent. on all sums in excess of $40,000 to $50,000; and forty per cent. on all sums in excess of $50,000. The terms of the contract between the cities of Charlestown and Chelsea, for supplying the latter named city with the water, precludes the possibility of obtaining more favorable terms than those stated, for a supply of water for our town.

By the plan of the town, before alluded to, it appears that a 12-inch pipe was intended as a main, to commence at the main supplying the City of Charlestown, near the junction of Medford and Main streets, in the town of Medford, to extend through Medford street, across Broadway, to Central street, and thence through Central to Milk street, near the Middlesex Bleachery. The distance from the Medford town line to Milk street is about 5,800 feet. It was originally intended by the Water Commissioners to lay a 24-inch pipe from the reservoir on Walnut Hill, through Elm, Milk and Washington streets, as an additional main to the City of Charlestown, and is so laid down on the plan, to which reference has already been made; but that project having been abandoned, it would only be necessary for a local supply of water, to lay an 8-inch pipe — as a main — in Milk and Washington streets. An 8-inch pipe has already been laid by the Water Commissioners — as a main — commencing on Broadway, in the easterly part of the town, and running through Franklin, Pearl, Myrtle and Washington streets — westerly — to Asylum Avenue. The distance on Milk street from Central to Washington street, at Union Square, is about 3,200 feet, and the distance on Washington street from Union Square to Asylum Avenue, is about 2,700 feet.

The cost of the pipe per foot, including the laying, will not exceed $2.25 for the 12-inch, $1.50 for the 8-inch, $1.10 for the 6-inch, and 85 cts. for the 4-inch pipe.

The cost of constructing these mains would be,
to Milk street about	$13,000
From Central to Washington street, at Union
Square, about	4,800
From Union Square to Asylum Avenue, about	4,200
Making a total of about	$22,000

Should the town decide to introduce the Mystic Water, this Committee would propose the election of a Committee of three [five] to be called the "Somerville Mystic Water Committee," with authority to obtain the necessary legislative enactments to enable the town to raise and appropriate money for the construction and maintenance of the works; to conclude a contract with the Charlestown Water Commissioners; to lay in addition to the mains — or any portion thereof that may be decided upon — branch pipes from the mains and other branch pipes, through such streets as it shall from time to time be found expedient; to assess persons taking the water from the mains and branch pipes, such proportionate part of the cost of constructing the works as shall be deemed equitable, and to make any and all arrangements in regard to the introduction, distribution and supply of the water, both as regards the pipes already laid, and such as may be laid, as shall be found consistent with the best interests of the town.

SOMERVILLE, April 13, 1868.

The Report having been read, it was voted "That the Report of the Committee be accepted and adopted, and that the Committee recommended, for this year, consist of Aaron Sargent, C. E. Rymes, R. A. Vinal, R. E. Demon, and Cutler Downer; and that the sum of thirty thousand dollars be appropriated for this purpose, and that the Town Treasurer be authorized to borrow the said sum for such term of years and on such conditions as he and the said Committee shall deem advisable."

The first work of the Committee was to procure the necessary legislation to authorize the making of a contract with the City of Charlestown, and permit the laying of the distribution pipes.

Through the influence of our townsman, Hon. George O. Brastow, President of the Senate, the Committee procured the passage, by the Legislature of

AN ACT SUPPLYING THE TOWN OF SOMERVILLE WITH WATER.

[Chap. 202 — Statutes of 1868.]

Be it enacted, &c., as follows :

SECTION 1. The town of Somerville is hereby authorized to lay, construct and maintain within the limits of said town, such pipes, aqueducts and structures in connection with the water works or aqueducts of the City of Charlestown, as may be requisite for the purpose of supplying water to the inhabitants of said town for the extinguishment of fires and for other uses. And the said town is hereby fully authorized to raise by taxation, or by borrowing from time to time, an amount not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars for the purposes herein specified.

SECTION 2. The said town of Somerville is hereby authorized to assess and collect upon the polls and estates of the town, real and personal, all taxes necessary for the payment of the principal and interest of such promissory notes as shall be issued under the provisions of the preceding section.

SECTION 3. The said town of Somerville shall annually elect a Committee of five from the inhabitants of the town, who shall superintend, control, direct and make such rules and regulations for the construction and maintenance of such pipes, aqueducts and structures as are authorized under the provisions of Section 1 of this act.

SECTION 4. All acts done by the inhabitants of the said town of Somerville, at a legal town meeting holden on Monday, the thirteenth day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, having reference to a supply of water, are hereby ratified, confirmed and made valid, to the same extent as though the provisions of this act were then in full force.

SECTION 5. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved May 14, 1868.

Immediately upon the passage of the Act as above, the Committee made application to the City Council of Charlestown for the terms upon which the city would supply this town with water; and commenced investigations as to the kind of pipe and patterns of stop-gate and hydrant, best adapted for use in our town.

The application to the City Council was referred to the Mystic Water Commissioners; and after much delay — but as soon as it could well be done — the basis of a contract was agreed upon, and approved by competent counsel, by whose advice, also, the Committee — that there might be no lack of requisite authority in the matter on their part — requested the Selectmen to call a Town Meeting, “to determine what action the town will take in regard to the introduction of water into the town, under the provisions of the two hundred and second chapter of the Statutes of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and making provision for the payment of the expenses thereof.”

At the meeting, which was held Sept. 18th, 1868, after much discussion as to the expediency of expending so large a sum as would be necessary for the introduction of the Mystic Lake water, and the feasibility of the establishment, by the town, of independent water works in connection with the waters of Spot Pond, in Stoneham, or Lake Quanapowitt, in Wakefield, it was voted,

“That the town will introduce water in pursuance of the authority granted to the town by an act entitled ‘An Act for Supplying the town of Somerville with Water,’ passed May 14, 1868; and that for the accomplishment of this purpose, the Committee appointed by the town on the 13th day of April last, consisting of Aaron Sargent, C. E. Rymes, R. A. Vinal, R. E. Demmon and Cutler Downer, and called the Somerville Mystic Water Committee, be, and they are hereby authorized to enter into a contract with the City of Charlestown, upon such terms and conditions, and with such provisions and stipulations as they shall deem for the best interest of the town and its inhabitants for obtaining a supply of water from said City of Charlestown, and distributing the same for the use of the town and its inhabitants; and that for the money which the town, by vote of the 13th of April last, authorized to be borrowed, the Treasurer is hereby authorized to issue bonds of the town, with interest coupons thereto annexed, of such denominations as he, with the approval of the Committee aforesaid, shall deem expedient." The following is a copy of the

CONTRACT WITH THE CITY OF CHARLESTOWN.

This agreement, made this twenty-first day of September, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, between the City of Charlestown, in the County of Middlesex, by the Mystic Water Board, duly authorized, of the first part, and the Town of Somerville in said County of Middlesex, by the Mystic Water Committee of Somerville, duly authorized, of the second part, witnesseth : That the said party of the first part, in consideration of the water rents hereinafter to be paid, hereby agrees to and with the said party of the second part, that the said party of the first part will furnish the said party of the second part, all the water needed by the town of Somerville and its inhabitants during the continuance of this agreement as hereinafter provided, and that the supply of the same throughout the town shall not be restricted, unless the source should prove inadequate to exceed the requirements of the cities of Charlestown and Chelsea.

And the said party of the first part further agrees to collect all the water rents which may accrue for the use of the water under this agreement in said town of Somerville, free from any expense to the party of the second part, and to provide for the necessary superintendence and ordinary care of the pipes laid for distribution and service in said town, and of the hydrants, stop-gates and metres therein ; provided that the sum to be expended by said party of the first part for repairs upon said pipes, hydrants, stop-gates and metres, shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars in any one year, and that all repairs thereof in excess of said amount shall be paid by the party of the second part. And it is hereby agreed by the party of the second part that for a period of three years from the letting on the water, the distribution and the service pipes and the connections therewith, shall be guaranteed free from any expense for repairs.

And the said party of the first part further agrees to pay to the said party of the second part, the following per centage of water rates collected in the town of Somerville, in such portions thereof as the pipes and structures are or may be laid by said town in conformity with this agreement, or that may hereafter be assumed, viz : on the annual receipts for water rates up to the amount of $20,000, fifteen per cent.; on the annual amount in excess of $20,000, and up to $30,000, twenty per cent.; from $30,000 to $40,000 twenty-five per cent.; from $40,000 to $50,000 thirty per cent.; and on the amount in excess of $50,000, forty per cent., payable quarterly in the months of February, May, August and November of each year.

And the said party of the second part further agrees to lay and maintain all the pipes, stop-gates, metres, hydrants, (except those now required by law to be furnished by the City of Charlestown) additional to those already laid, and everything connected with the distribution and use of the water within the limits of the town of Somerville, free from any expense to the City of Charlestown.

And the said party of the second part further agrees to and with the said party of the first part, that for all the Mystic Lake Water furnished and used by the people of the said town of Somerville, or by any person in said town, there shall be paid to said party of the first part, water rents at the same rates and prices as are now or may be charged during the time of this agreement by the said party of the first part to the inhabitants of the City of Charlestown, under the same rules and regulations that are or may be established for like use of water in that city, but the party of the second part is not to be responsible in any case for the payment of said water rates, except for water furnished for public use to the town.

And the said party of the second part further agrees to pass and enact the like rules and regulations as to the mode of using water as are now, or may hereafter be in force in the City of Charlestown, with like penalties for their violation, provided such rules and regulations do not conflict with the laws of the commonwealth.

And it is further agreed that the party of the second part may hereafter raise the water rates in the town of Somerville above those charged by the said city of Charlestown, if it shall be lawful for said party of the second part so to do; and in case the water rates in said town of Somerville shall be so raised, the party of the first part shall for the collection of the said rates, be entitled to five per cent. of the excess thereof over the rates established in said City of Charlestown.

And it is further agreed that the town of Somerville shall be privileged to locate as many fire hydrants throughout the town as it may elect, to be used for fire purposes only, upon the annual payment to the City of Charlestown of the sum of twenty-eight dollars for each three hundred and fifty inhabitants; the payments for 1869 and 1870 to be based upon the population of 1865, and on and after 1871 each year, for every five years, upon the preceding semi-decennial census. In computing the amount, the fraction shall not be taken into account, unless it exceeds one-half, when the full price will be charged; and it is further understood and agreed that the water supplied for public fountains shall be charged at cost.

It is also understood and agreed, that when the City of Charlestown shall have erected and completed, at its own cost, the full number of fire hydrants required by the legislative enactment, whether the same shall be on the line of the aqueduct or not, its obligation shall be deemed to have been fulfilled as completely as if placed upon said line.

It is also agreed that if at any time within two years from the date of this contract, the town of Somerville shall desire to purchase the distribution pipes and structures now laid in Somerville at the expense of the City of Charlestown, for the supply of that town, the City of Charlestown will sell them for the sum of thirteen thousand dollars, and the town of Somerville will then be entitled to the per centage of water rates, and the terms and conditions herein agreed, will be applicable to the pipes and structures thus purchased.

And it is further understood and agreed, that if any arrangement shall hereafter be made for a supply of water to any other town or city upon terms deemed more favorable to them, the town of Somerville shall be entitled to be placed upon an equal footing.

And the said party of the second part further agrees to furnish and deliver to the party of the first part, a copy of a map of the town of Somerville, showing the streets on which the pipes are laid, and the location of all the pipes, hydrants and stop-gates, and from time to time make additions thereto as new pipes are laid.

And it is further agreed by and between the parties to these presents, that this agreement shall continue in force until the debt of Charlestown, which has accrued or may accrue for the construction of the water works shall be extinguished, and until other and different rates are established, as hereinafter provided. And it is further agreed that if at the expiration of this contract the parties shall be unable to agree upon terms for a continuance of a supply of water, the matter shall be referred to a Commission of three disinterested persons to be mutually agreed upon, and if unable so to agree, then by appointment of the Supreme Judicial Court.

And it is further agreed, that if either of said parties shall omit or refuse to perform this contract in all things on their part, then the matter shall be referred to a Commission as before named, by whom an adjustment shall be made, and a compensation determined for such violation of this agreement.

In witness whereof the parties to these presents have hereunto set their hands and seals on the day and year first above written.

TRENCHING.

A favorable contract for trenching was made with Mr. Alexander Campbell of Charlestown, and the work was performed under his direction.

DISTRIBUTION PIPES.

After careful consideration, the Committee decided upon adopting what is known as the wrought iron and cement pipe, manufactured by the patent Water and Gas Pipe Company of Jersey City, N. J. The work of laying the pipe was commenced on the sixth of October last, by Mr. Benjamin Almy, as the Agent for the Company, under the direction of Roberdeau Buchanan, Esq., of Charlestown, as Chief Engineer, and the supervision of the Committee: and the Committee avail themselves of this opportunity to express their entire satisfaction with the manner in which the above named gentlemen performed their work.

This wrought iron and cement pipe, is the same kind that has been laid in Charlestown, Chelsea, Plymouth, Lowell, Salem, and many other places, and had already been extensively used in those parts of our town known as East Somerville and Winter Hill. It costs less than cast iron pipe, is warranted by the manufacturers for five years, and on the authority of C. L. Stevenson, Esq., Civil Engineer, "it increases rather than diminishes in strength with age."

A continuous line of pipe has been laid, with branches at street connections for future extension, and also at intervals of about five hundred feet for hydrants, commencing at the Medford town line, on the north-westerly slope of Winter Hill, and running through Medford Street to and through Central Street (passing by 28.6 feet of cast iron pipe over the Lowell Railroad,) to Milk Street, and through Milk (from Central,) to and through Washington Street, (passing under the Lowell Railroad,) to Asylum Avenue; there connecting with an eight inch pipe, the property of the City of Charlestown, and running through Washington, Myrtle, Pearl and Franklin Streets to Broadway.

Before this report shall have been distributed, the water will have been let on to the pipes; and for the following two or three months, it will be chiefly serviceable for the supply of the hydrants: as in consequence of the lateness of the season at the completion of the work, but little will be done in laying service pipes until spring.

STOP-GATES.

The stop-gates selected, were manufactured by the Boston Machine Company.

HYDRANTS.

The hydrants adopted, are the kind known as the "Bigelow Post Hydrant;" furnished with two leading hose nozzles, each; those located on the more elevated parts of the work having a four inch additional nozzle each, for steamer suction.

CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT.

The Committee regret their inability to give in this report, an account of the cost of the works, but will present it at the town meeting in March or in April: it may be said, however, that after all bills have been settled, there will remain in the hands of the Committee, a balance to the credit of the account.

LOAN.

The loan of thirty thousand dollars authorized by the town, has been effected by the issue and disposal of three Coupon Bonds for ten thousand dollars each, denominated "Somerville Water Loan," and numbered 1, 2, and 3 respectively, dated Jan. 1, 1869, payable Jan. 1, 1879, with interest at the rate of six and one half per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

PIPES LAID, AND NOT THE PROPERTY OF THE TOWN.

Soon after the laying of the "supply main," for the City of Charlestown, the Water Commissioners commenced laying pipes in East Somerville and at Winter Hill. At first the entire expense was borne by the city: subsequently the cost of the pipe and the laying of the same was borne by the city and the expense for trenching was paid by the parties for whose convenience the pipes were laid: and later still, the whole cost of the pipe, the laying and the trenching, has been required from the parties supplied with the water.

By referring to the contract with the City of Charlestown, it will be seen that the town, within a given time, has the right to assume, at a stipulated price, such pipes as are the property of the city; it will also be seen that no percentage of return will be payable to the town, on water rates accruing from these pipes, unless they shall become the property of the town. As a matter of economy, therefore, — prospective, if not immediate, — the committee would recommend the purchase of these pipes: and would also recommend the purchase of the pipes owned and laid, either in whole or in part, by individuals, purely as a matter of equity. There certainly can be no justice in subjecting these persons to be taxed on pipes for other parts of the town, while the piping of their particular localities, equally populous, at least, remains to them an individual expense. The town has voted to introduce and distribute water, as a town measure, and the rights of any one village in the matter, are the rights of every other village.

MYSTIC LAKE, RESERVOIR, &c.

Mystic Lake is in the towns of Medford, Arlington and Winchester, about three miles from the point of commencement of our twelve inch distribution pipe: the locations of the Pumping Engines, near Mystic River, is about two miles, and the Reservoir on Walnut Hill — of over 26,000,000 gallons capacity — is about one and a quarter miles from the same point. From the twenty-four inch supply main leading from the Reservoir to Charlestown, a twelve inch pipe — laid by and the property of, the City of Charlestown, — leads to and connects with the twelve inch distribution pipe at the point above mentioned.

The following table, taken from the Report of the Mystic Water Commissioners, gives the comparative purity of the waters designated:—

SPOT POND AND LAKE QUANAPOWITT.

The proposition to introduce water from Spot Pond, on from Lake Quanapowitt, advocated at the town-meeting of the 18th of September, induces a few words in reference to those schemes.

Spot Pond is three and a half, and Lake Quanapowitt is seven and a half miles in an air line, from the point of commencement of our twelve-inch distribution-pipe, and in laying a supply main the distances would be increased to at least four and eight miles respectively.

The expense of laying a twenty-inch pipe — which would not be less than $25,000 per mile, together with the outlay at the pond or the lake for dam, gates, embankment, &c., and for pumping apparatus and reservoir, for neither of these waters are of sufficient altitude, after allowing for loss of head, to supply the higher localities of our town), would involve the town, — if the investigations and experience of Charlestown are any criterion, in a debt of over $400,000 in adopting Spot Pond, and over $500,000 in adopting Lake Quanapowitt, exclusive of the cost of the distribution pipes within the town.

The franchise of Spot Pond having passed, in 1867, by Act of the Legislature, into the hands of parties who have authority to appropriate the waters therein for the benefit of the towns of Malden, Melrose, and Medford only, nothing further need be said respecting it; and it will at once be seen that the interest on a debt consequent upon the introduction of water from Lake Quanapowitt, together with the expense of maintaining the same — over $50,000 per annum, exclusive of the interest on the cost of the distribution pipes — renders this scheme entirely impracticable.

That there has been no misconception on the part of the Committee as to the futility of relying upon gravity works for a supply of water from the places before-named, may be seen by the following

MAINTENANCE.

As the pipes are warranted for five years ; as the kind of pipe used “increases rather than diminishes in strength with age ;” and as the City of Charlestown, by a stipulation in the contract, is liable for repairs to the extent of one hundred dollars per annum ; it would seem that little or no expense for repairs will devolve upon the town. Annual appropriations, however, will be required for the supply of the hydrants, and for the interest on the Water Loan. That the appropriation for hydrants should be charged to “Fire Department” account will not be questioned : and it is recommended that the interest on the Water Loan, when paid, be charged to “Water Distribution” account, and that all percentage of return received by virtue of the contract, or from other sources, if any, — be credited to the same account. The appropriations required for interest will then depend, in part, upon the expenditure for distribution pipes, &c., and in part upon the receipts from the water-takers.

Thirty-six thousand dollars, gross receipts, per annum, for water rates, would yield a percentage of return to the town, equal to the interest on an outlay to the extent authorized by the act of the Legislature.

If it be considered absolutely certain that the receipts for water rates will fall far below this amount, and that a large appropriation will be required annually for interest, it only proves that with independent water works, although the gross receipts would then be credited to the account, — a much larger appropriation to cover the deficiency, would be inevitable; and justifies the conclusion, that the most economical plan for supplying the town with water, was the plan adopted.

Should the requirements of the town demand the expenditure of the full amount authorized, and the income from the receipts for water rates equal one half, only, of the interest on the outlay, the annual tax for maintenance predicated upon the valuation of 1868 would be less than thirty-five cents on a thousand dollars valuation.

The question has often been asked if, at one time, the City of Charlestown was not ready to pipe this town at the city's expense, and supply the inhabitants with water at the Charlestown rates. It is now quite too late to ask the Water Commissioners this question; and opinions vary. The Committee have but little doubt that it might have been done; and this seems to have been the opinion of the Selectmen in 1863; for in their Report, dated March 1, 1864, they say: —

“ The Commissioners are desirous to know in what way the town prefer to be supplied with water. They say the town can have the water from the main, and distribute it as they may think best, or if preferred, as soon as a sufficient number of consumers apply for it, to warrant the laying of the pipes, they will do it, and sell the water on the same terms as to the people of Charlestown.”

It is recommended that with the opening of Spring, the laying of the pipes be resumed, and continued until the more thickly settled portions of the town have been piped.

The Committee are of the opinion that the incurring of a debt for a purpose like this, should not be looked upon as an ordinary expenditure for current purposes, to be repeated annually; but as an outlay for something permanent:— for a positive acquisition.

The debt itself will not be paid for many years:— perhaps never:— only renewed: and when it is remembered that our town is built almost wholly of wood, it must be acknowledged that for the extinguishment of fires alone, the work will be worth all that we shall be called upon to appropriate for its support.

The Committee would not close this Report without acknowledging the many favors they, and this town, are under, to the Water Commissioners of Charlestown, and to the Clerk of the Board, for their good will and assistance; though we may well aver that the best interests of their city will never suffer at their hands.

In this connection it may not be improper to state, that there are and have been for three or four years, several hydrants in the town— beside those located by the City of Charlestown in conformity to law, paid for, one half by the town, and one half by private subscription, for the supply of which, the Water Commissioners have generously omitted to make any charge.

In conclusion, we can only say that in discharging the duties devolving upon us, we have endeavored to do all for the best interests of the town.

OF

FOR THE YEAR 1869.

BOSTON:

1870.

THE SELECTMEN.

FELLOW CITIZENS:— In preparing the Annual Report of the doings of your Selectmen for the year 1869, we are reminded that a season of unusual quietness, but still one of much apparent prosperity to the town, has passed.

The subject which usually takes precedence in our Reports, and one which is of the most importance to the interests and progress of the town, is the condition of its Streets and

HIGHWAYS.

The large and constantly increasing amount of travel over our streets, and the increasing demand for establishing the grade of streets and sidewalks, caused by the large amount of building, calls for an increase of appropriation for the purpose of enlarging the work upon our highways.

The expenditure the past year has considerably exceeded the appropriation, for reasons set forth in the Report of the Committee on Highways, and to which we ask your attention.

The extension of Pearl street, from Cross to Medford street, has been completed to its full width, fifty feet, and is now open for public travel.

A hearing of interested parties was given by the County Commissioners, October 22d, concerning the extension of Pearl street southerly from Mount Vernon street to the Charlestown line, and they subsequently ordered the extension to be made, the abutters agreeing to give the necessary land therefor.

The work of cutting and grading Franklin street has been successfully done. The completion of this work has caused an increased value to the estates abutting and those in the immediate vicinity, as it enabled the laying of a sewer and water pipes, thereby affording opportunity for proper drainage and a supply of pure water, with hydrants, for the extinguishment of fires.

Too lively an interest cannot be entertained by our fellow citizens in encouraging the grading of our streets and sidewalks, and the building of sewers.

Temple street has been graded according to the plan adopted.

The subject of accepting those portions of Putnam and Prescott streets, and the extension of said streets straight down to Milk street, was brought before your Board by petition of the several abutters upon said streets, and a hearing was granted them, after which the matter was referred to a Committee to examine the premises and report. Subsequently the Committee reported, That they did not find said streets suitably graded for acceptance, and that when said streets are extended they should be made straight to Milk street, which views your Board adopted.

A plan has been obtained and adopted by the Board for grading Flint street, which work we recommend to be proceeded with as early as possible in the Spring, to enable the laying of water pipes through the street.

NEW STREETS.

The order of the County Commissioners for the extension of Summer street southerly from Laurel to Bow street and northwesterly to Elm street, has been received, and the time specified for the building of these extensions is made to terminate with the year 1870, therefore a special appropriation will be required at the next April meeting, to enable us to comply with the conditions of said order.

The project of a new road from Medford across the Wellington Farms, so called, and opening out near and upon the street leading to Malden Bridge in Malden, or across Mystic River to Mystic Avenue in Somerville, was considered by the County Commissioners, before whom the several interested parties were allowed a hearing in the matter, your Board voted to oppose the latter project of opening the proposed road to Mystic Avenue, or at any other point in Somerville, not feeling that benefits equal to the large expense to be incurred could ever be derived by the town.

For the further consideration of the subject of streets, &c., we ask your attention to the Report of the Committee on Highways, which has been adopted by your Board.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HIGHWAYS.

At the last April Meeting the following Streets were referred to the Selectmen to examine and accept or reject, as their judgment might dictate, viz.

Aldersey, Boston, Belmont, Clark, Ivaloo, Spring, Benedict, Oliver and Union Streets.

After the reference of the above named Streets to your Committee on Highways, each of said streets were carefully inspected. Ivaloo and Clark streets were recommended to be accepted, the latter upon condition that said street could be made safe for public travel by the County Commissioners causing a watchman, or suitable gates to be placed at the Fitchburg Railroad Co.'s crossing over said street and maintained by said Corporation. Accordingly your Committee petitioned the County Commissioners in the matter, causing an examination of the premises and a hearing before the Commissioners, which was held September 4th, since which time the matter has remained in their hands, and we await their report.

Subsequently Union and Benedict streets were accepted. Belmont street was examined, but your Committee did not find it in a fit condition for acceptance, for three reasons, viz., want of uniformity in width, crooked lines and bad grade, and your Committee cannot recommend its acceptance until said street is made straight from Summer to Milk street and of uniform width, both of which considerations will allow a much better grade. Your Committee feel that this is a case where the betterment law should be made to apply, unless the abutters upon said street can arrange a proper line among themselves.

Spring street, south of Milk — better known as Kent street — is merely a Court, as it does not open across the Fitchburg Railroad. The Court is from one to two feet below grade, and bounded northwesterly by the Franklin School-House lot and southeasterly by a vacant lot. The near proximity of this street to Clark street before-mentioned would cause your Committee to recommend its non-acceptance, even were it a street and properly graded.

Oliver street was not found to be in a proper condition to be accepted, nor had the time arrived, in our opinion, for its acceptance.

Boston and Aldersey streets were not recommended for acceptance, as they did not open out to other streets, and were not, in our opinion, suitably graded.

Some of the contemplated alterations and repairs of streets have not been made as intended and desired by your Committee, but a good deal of work has been done which was not contemplated in early spring as will be seen by our Report.

School and Medford streets have both been but partially repaired, the former between Highland avenue and Medford streets has been widened and graded; this portion of said street heretofore had scarcely been in passable condition. A slight fill is required in this street near Broadway, and Macadamizing where the cut was made between Broadway and Medford streets, also below Highland avenue towards Milk street, and the grade requires changing.

Medford street requires Macadamizing from its junction with Broadway to Central street, and from its junction with Highland avenue to Cross street; also from Washington to Milk streets.

Your Committee desire to call your especial attention to the condition of that part of Medford street between Milk street and the Fitchburg Railroad. This street is laid out fifty feet in width, but the passage over the bridge at this point is only twenty feet, and the Bridge so much decayed that, in the opinion of your Committee, it should be rebuilt early in the spring, and that the water-course under it be reduced to the natural capacity of the water course above the Bridge, say 4 ft. to 5 ft. in width, and your Committee would also recommend that said street, from the bridge to Milk street, be filled to its full width, fifty feet, and guarded by a substantial railing.

The work of grading and Macadamizing Cedar street is being proceeded with, and before spring your Committee hope to see it completed.

In addition to the before-mentioned streets, Macadamizing is also required on Broadway in the hollow, Elm street from its junction with Milk street to Cedar street, Beacon street from Washington street nearly to the bridge across the Fitchburg Railroad and Linwood street its entire length. Especial attention is recommended to this street, as it is at times almost impassable. A heavy body of Macadamizing is required on this street, as nearly the whole road-bed is little better than a mass of clay.

Washington street has long needed repairs, and we would also recommend the attention of the Board to this street, from the Charlestown line to the Railroad Bridge.

A portion of the work on the above streets will be done the present winter.

Your Committee would invite especial attention to the fact that a large item has been drawn from the highway fund for setting edge-stones and the attendant expenses of grading and paving gutters, &c., and we recommend that a separate appropriation be asked for at the next April Meeting, to meet this uncertain expense.

Your Committee would recommend, that no impediment be put in the way of those who desire to have edgestones set, but rather that an inducement should be offered, as the setting of edgestones necessarily requires establishing the grade of the street, paving the gutters and filling the sidewalks, thereby completing a street.

The number of feet of edgestones set the past year is seven thousand five hundred and fifty-five feet, which work required about four thousand yards of paving, including cross walks, &c. The total cost to the town of the above work, including the filling of the streets and sidewalks and Macadamizing the same is nearly seven thousand dollars.

Seventeen cesspools have been constructed the past year at a cost of about seven hundred dollars.

Your Committee feel that a very desirable object would be obtained could Milk street be widened from the northerly end of Bow street southerly to the Cambridge line — this portion of the street is now only fifty feet wide, while from the first named point northerly to the Cambridge line, it is sixty feet, the inconsistency of this difference in width, will manifest itself to any one by a moment's reflection, when you consider that the several converging streets entering Milk street at or below Union Square throw all the travel from those points over the narrowest part of said street, and therefore for all reasons the lower end should be the wider of the two.

There is now but one side-walk on this street, from Medford street to the line of East Cambridge. Your Committee need not remind you that nearly twice the travel passes over Milk street than of any other avenue through the town, notwithstanding its imperfect condition.

The time is not far distant when additional room will be required for the use of the town teams; the present premises are fully occupied, both stable and sheds, and no additional stable or shed-room can be made on the present premises.

The town farm is centrally located and well situated for the purpose of keeping the teams, and your Board recommends that a portion of the farm be devoted to the purpose of erecting suitable stables and sheds for the town teams, and a small block of tenements for the teamsters.

In conclusion, your Committee, without suggesting any amount, earnestly recommend a large increase in the appropriation for highways, feeling that the interests of the town require and demand it.

SEWERS.

An increased interest in the matter of sewerage has been manifested the past year, and a number of petitions have been answered by causing sewers to be constructed in different parts of the town. In view of the numerous calls for sewers, your Board thought it desirable for the interests of the town that a systematic plan of sewerage for the whole town should be made, as main outlets must be decided upon soon.

For particulars and further suggestions in this department, we refer you to the Report of the Committee on Sewers, which was adopted by the Board.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SEWERS.

The importance of providing for the town a thorough system of drainage can hardly be overestimated. Considered merely as a sanitary measure it deserves the attention of every friend of humanity, and of every one who has sufficient intelligence to comprehend its bearings upon his own case, or that of his family.

It may be assumed as an established fact that there is less mortality in well-drained districts from almost every variety of disease, than in those imperfectly drained. This is particularly true in respect to epidemics. It is plain that our community are beginning to be aware that one great cause of the prevalence of disease is neglecting to provide suitable drainage.

It thus appears in its first aspect as a matter demanding outlays of money; and therefore essentially unpalatable to many, though it be to secure an immunity not too dear at any price within their ability. But sagacious owners of property have not failed to remark the advance in values by which this outlay will be, on the whole, and speaking in a wide view of the matter, much more than repaid. The town of Somerville cannot afford to avoid the cost and care of all such improvements as enhance the valuation of lands, and supply for her vacant territory conditions of comfort demanded as indispensable by the better class of occupants; and which establish, perhaps for an indefinitely long future, the character of localities at a mark far above what they would touch if left unimproved.

As a matter of plain necessity, as well as of common wisdom and economy, our sewers must be built on some general and harmonious plan—and under public direction rather than by private companies or individuals.

Thus far no suitable outlets or main channels of discharge have been constructed, and for that reason the relief aimed at in the few common Sewers now completed has been but partially afforded. While the population, in whose vicinity under-ground drains have been built, enjoy improved conditions, other sections not merely remain unimproved, but are led to apprehend absolute detriment through the conveniences accorded to their neighbors. No open drains (to which still other and more obvious objections apply,) should be tolerated in any place or for any space of time not absolutely and inevitably necessary. Ample and early provision should be made to insure that, in removing a nuisance from one section, it shall not be conducted to another, and there serve to aggravate evils already claiming abatement.

As the sole means of obviating a liability to such experiences, it is evident that some general system should immediately be adopted. A candid consideration of the importance of this matter is earnestly urged upon every citizen of the town. The subject of sewerage is in its very infancy with us. From the extent of our territory and the general sparseness of our population over the greater portion of it, it is but recently that efforts in that direction have been made. A few, and only a few, common sewers have been constructed in this town.

As our population becomes more dense, by natural increase and the expected accessions arising from the growth of Boston, and the increasing necessity of providing houses conveniently near the city for her business men, the inconvenience and disadvantage to property arising from deficient sewerage and like causes becomes more apparent. The recent introduction of the Mystic water supply, in itself a grand and most beneficial improvement, only renders the necessity for action still more obvious and urgent.

In accordance with the vote of the board, ordering a general survey of the town to be made, your Committee have had plans prepared, showing the two districts claiming, as we conceive, the earliest consideration, the means to be used, and the route to be followed, in their construction.

It is the recommendation of your Committee that every branch sewer should be constructed in reference to the general plan thus inaugurated; and further that some order should be taken looking to the construction of trunk sewers upon, or in some way corresponding to, the two lines already surveyed. A general map of the town also accompanies this report, in which the division of its territory into districts is indicated as closely as the present progress of the survey affords the means of deciding the same. The system has been prepared with much care, under the direction of Edward Frost, Esq., an engineer and surveyor of much experience in this branch of his profession. The adoption of such a system will necessarily involve a large outlay directly by the town. It is a difficulty which must be met without much further delay. From a merely pecuniary point of view, there can be no doubt that a wise policy will dictate that ample provision should at an early day be made to meet this pressing want. From the numerous applications for sewers during the last year, it is evident that the citizens of the town are strongly impressed with the importance and necessity of immediate action. From the inadequate appropriations made by the town, it has been found impossible to comply with many of the numerous requests of our fellow citizens.

During the past year common sewers have been established as follows:

Franklin Street,	715 feet.
Flint Street,	408 "
From Pit-hole across Franklin Street, .	211 "
From Pit-hole across Myrtle Street, .	300 "
From Franklin Street to Cutter Street, .	377 "
Pearl Street,	278 "
Laurel Street,	1065 "
Purchased of Sewer Company.	2078 "
Chestnut Street,	612 "
Total,	6064 "

The entire expense of the above-named sewers chargeable to sewer account, is $12,021.44.

Of this sum the town assumes,	2,890.47
Assessed on Abutters,	9,130.97

Amount appropriated, $3,500.00.

The amount required of the town is, of course, liable to be increased by abatement of assessments.

The sewers constructed during the last season have been unusually expensive and difficult, on account of the ledge through which they passed. It was thought, however, that something would be saved by building the sewer through Franklin street at the same time the street was graded. A difficult ledge was also encountered on Pearl street, much more serious than was anticipated. The ledge on Laurel street, although extending over three hundred feet, was found comparatively easy to excavate.

The subject of Sewers has been, more than usually, pressed upon the consideration of the Board during the last year. Many difficult questions have arisen, some of them new to most of our members. The matter of assessments on the abutters and persons benefited is one of great perplexity, and it is frequently difficult to determine what rule or principle to apply in justice to the parties assessed, as well as to the town, so that the same may not be liable to objection. The Sewer Committee have made inquiries as to the rule adopted by other municipalities, and although no great uniformity prevails in the methods adopted, they have made use of such information as they obtained in their methods of assessing in this town, so far as applicable.

As the Statutes of this Commonwealth do not prescribe any definite method, it is left to the discretion of the Selectmen to determine a rule or method, which in their judgment, shall seem to meet the peculiar circumstances of each case as it arises. The Selectmen sincerely desire that no harsh, arbitrary, or unjust rule shall be adopted, and in the numerous cases of applications for abatement, they have endeavored to give a candid hearing to the various complaints and views which have been expressed on the subject. From the authority given by our Legislature, it is clear that all persons more or less remotely benefited can be held to contribute their proportion.

RAILWAYS AND BRIDGES.

The subject of the removal of the horse-railway tracks to the centre of our several streets over which they now pass is one of much importance to the interests of the town.

The Committee on Railways and Bridges have had an interview with the officers of the Union Railway Co., in regard to the removal of the track on Milk street from Union Square to its junction with Elm street.

The officers of the Company expressed a willingness to put the track in the middle of the street over the above-named portion of Milk street, provided the town would meet them fairly in regard to the expense. No definite proportion was named by either party, they not being authorized to act definitely.

The Committee urge the importance of first constructing a sewer through this portion of Milk street, before the track is removed, and the Railway Company, desire it also — so that the centre of the street can be permanently paved between, and each side of the track. The Committee recommend early action to be taken to complete arrangements with the company, if suitable terms can be agreed upon.

Your board would respectfully recommend that the earliest possible action be taken by the town to carry out the plan of building, and assisting in the removal of the horse-railway track to the centre of Milk street, and we believe that the whole expense necessary to be incurred by the town would be saved to it in three years.

The Committee further report that the President of the Medford Horse Railroad Co., has promised early action in the matter of removal of a portion of said Company's railway track on Winter Hill, as prayed for by Mr. Byam.

Your board would ask your attention to the condition of the Cedar street Bridge over the Boston & Lowell Railroad; it is so narrow that teams cannot pass each other upon it, and it stands at an angle with the lines of the street. A large amount of travel now passes over this Bridge, and much of it heavy teams. We recommend steps be taken to cause said Bridge to be properly widened.

STREET LAMPS.

The number of street lamps lighted by the town is two hundred and thirteen, a portion of which are still lighted by fluid, as pipe cannot be laid to reach them without too much expense.

The small expense to the town in lighting these lamps, compared with the real value to its interests, is trifling, and we trust that the value of well-lighted streets is sufficiently appreciated to cause the number of lamps to be increased.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

It is gratifying to find that we have passed another year with such a small loss by fires.

The department has been increased the past year by the addition of two small hose carriages with hose, and this addition to the former quantity renders it impossible for the department, with its present facilities, to take proper care of the hose; the present hose-tower has been for a long time unfit and insufficient for the purpose of cleaning and drying the hose, and the propriety of the erection of an engine-house on the town land on Highland Avenue is respectfully submitted to the earnest consideration of the citizens of the town.

The Reports of the Committee on the Fire Department and of the chief engineer will give you particulars in this department.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FIRE DEPARTMENT.

SOMERVILLE, Dec. 31, 1869.

At the Town Meeting in April last, an appropriation of three thousand dollars was voted, for the purpose of furnishing two hose carriages, with the necessary fixtures and hose ; one of said carriages to be located at Winter Hill, and one at Spring Hill.

The purchase of said carriages, &c., was referred by the Board of Selectmen, to the Committee on Fire Department, with full powers, who made a contract with Hunneman & Co., for furnishing the two hose carriages with the necessary fixtures complete, at a cost of $536.00, and with Boyd & Sons, for 1600 feet of first quality double riveted hose, with all necessary fixtures complete, at a cost of $2508.07, the cost of the necessary drag-ropes, hose-ropes, and hose straps, has been $10.36, making the cost of everything in complete running order, as follows :

Cost of two Hose Carriages and fixtures,	. . .	$536 00
of 1600 feet of Hose and fixtures,	. . .	2508 07
of drag ropes, &c.,	10 36
Total,	$3054 43

The carriages, &c., were located, when received from the manufacturers, as directed by vote of the town, the one on Winter Hill being placed in charge of Henry A. Angier, and the one on Spring Hill in charge of C. E. Rymes.

Since the location of the Winter Hill Carriage it has been placed in charge of an organized Company. The one on Spring Hill is still in charge of the gentleman who received it from the hands of the Selectmen.

As the Board of Engineers make a statement in detail of all matters relating to their department, it has not been deemed necessary by your committee to furnish any extended remarks for insertion in the Annual Report, and they would therefore leave it for the Chairman of the Selectmen to make such general remarks as he thinks proper.

R. A. VINAL,
SILAS H. HOLLAND,
JOHN A. PAINE,

Committee on Fire Department.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen.

GENTLEMEN: In compliance with the usual custom, I submit the Annual Report of the Board of Engineers of the Fire Department for the past year, with a few recommendations for necessary improvements.

Since our last Report the Department has been called out 46 times; 33 times to fires, 17 of which were in Somerville, 5 in Charlestown, and 11 in Cambridge, and by 13 false alarms.

The Department has rendered assistance in Charlestown 5 times, in Cambridge 3 times, and has received assistance from both Cambridge and Charlestown twice.

It will be seen that we have had fifteen alarms and nine fires more than last year. Yet the losses have been comparatively small.

WATER.

Since our last Report there has been a great addition to the supply. Yet there are a great many places without any water; but we trust that before another year these wants will be supplied. I would call your attention again to the introduction of supply pipes into the reservoirs, as it would prove of great advantage.

HOSE TOWER.

I would again call your attention to this important improvement, as I believe it to be a great necessity. It is not a local improvement, but is greatly needed, as the hose for three companies has to be washed and dried at this station, and as the present tower is capable of containing only about six hundred feet of hose, it is impossible to take proper care of it, besides the delay occasioned. I believe it would be a great saving in hose, as well as in expense, and hope you will give the subject your earliest attention.

STRENGTH AND CONDITION OF THE DEPARTMENT.

Steamer No. 1 was built by Hunneman & Co., of Roxbury, and is a credit to the builders. It has been repaired the past year, and is in good order. There is in connection with the steamer a four-wheeled horse hose-carriage, carrying 1000 feet of hose. Attached to the steamer is a Company consisting of an engineer and driver; also a driver of the hose-carriage, who are permanently employed, and a foreman, assistant foreman, and eight hosemen, who do duty only in case of fire.

JOHN E. WOOL HOSE No. 1.

This is a four-wheeled carriage, and was placed in the Department in 1867. It carries 600 feet of hose, and is in good repair. It has a Company attached consisting of a foreman, assistant foreman and thirteen hosemen, none of whom are permanently employed.

One two-wheeled carriage was placed in the Department during the present year. It is capable of carrying 500 feet of hose, and has a Company consisting of a foreman, assistant foreman, and thirteen hosemen, doing duty only at fires. This Company occupies, at present, a room rented for the purpose in the Winter Hill district, but is poorly accommodated, and I would recommend that better accommodations be provided.

A similar carriage, with same amount of hose, is stationed on Spring Hill, but is in private hands. I would recommend the formation of a Company for this carriage, and that it be placed in the charge of the Department, as it is of little use without an organized Company.

PRESCOTT HOOK AND LADDER TRUCK.

This truck carries eight ladders, varying in length from twelve to fifty feet, with hooks, ropes, axes, rakes and forks in good order, but is without a Company, as it is impossible to organize one while the house has such poor accommodations. I would recommend that the carriage be placed in that part of the building now occupied as a sleeping-room and station.

TELEGRAPHIC ALARM.

I would call your attention to this subject, and refer you to our neighbors in Charlestown and Cambridge for a proof of the benefits to be derived.

HOSE.

There is in use by the Department four thousand four hundred (4,400) feet of leather hose, 1,200 feet of which were purchased the present year by the Committee on Fire Department from your Board.

Twelve Hundred ft. purchased in 1863.

One Thousand ft. purchased in 1865.

Five Hundred ft. purchased in 1868.

Five Hundred ft. belonged to the Hand Engine, and is in poor condition.

The subject of moving the Steamer from its present location has been discussed, but I believe it would prove a disastrous experiment. It would leave that portion of the town most liable to fires, containing many manufactories representing nearly a million of dollars in taxable property, without any adequate means of protection, as there are no hydrants in these localities, and I would propose that it remain in its present locality.

I would take this opportunity to return my thanks to the Committee on Fire Department from your Board, and to the Board generally for their kind support during the past year; also to the Members of the Department for the prompt manner in which they have performed their duties.

I would not fail to thank our Police and Night Watch for the valuable assistance rendered on many occasions.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DAVID A. SANBORN, JR.

Chief Engineer of the Somerville Fire Department.

POLICE AND WATCH.

The records of the past year show an increase in the number of arrests. In addition to the regular duties of the night watch they have been on duty the past season on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. This arrangement was found to be necessary. We would recommend that two day police officers be placed on duty the coming year.

We refer you to the Police Secretary's Report for the classification of crimes and other particulars in this department.

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF POLICE.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of Somerville.

In accordance with custom, I have the honor to submit my annual report, of the doings of the Police Department of this town, for the year ending December 31, 1869.

The whole number of cases brought into court is three hundred and forty-one, which were charged with the following offences :

Adultery,	1
Assault and Battery,	61
Assault of Officers,	4
Assault (Simple,)	22
Attempt to Rescue,	1
Attempt to Rape,	1
Attempt to Break and Enter,	3
Assault with Stones,	8

Stubborn and Ungovernable,	1
Showing without a License,	1
Setting a Bonfire,	2
Setting Fire to Lock-up,	1
Stealing Fruit,	14
Violation of Liquor Law,	20

This is an increase of one hundred and twenty-nine over last year, and does not include any arrest made in town by the State force. They were disposed of as follows:

Sent to the House of Correction and Jail,	45
Acquitted and Discharged,	41
Sentenced to pay Fine and Costs,	195
Sent to School Ship,	1
Bound over to Superior Court,	36
Appealed,	14
Discharged on Payment of Costs,	38

Respectfully submitted,

JAIRUS MANN, Secretary.

HEALTH.

This subject, although not placed in our report in the order which its importance merits, demands vigilant and careful attention.

The increase of filth in various forms which now accumulates upon the low lands and flats in some sections of the town, is a matter for serious consideration, and a method to remedy the evil effects is required. Our town has been free from epidemic and contagious diseases, and a general state of health has prevailed, but notwithstanding, we cannot be too careful of its sanitary condition.

Numerous complaints have been made to the Board against parties keeping swine in a filthy condition, and it has generally been found that the principal cause for complaint arose from an accumulation of foreign swill being kept on the premises.

We suggest that a form of license be adopted by the town so that this matter can be better controlled.

CLAIMS.

The several demands made upon the town for damage, &c., the past year, have not in all cases been settled, and could not, in the opinion of your Board, be consistently adjusted, either from the exorbitance of amount of damage claimed, or other causes.

The Committee's Report is herewith appended.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Of the various claims made against the town from different causes, a few only are of that character as to require any special mention.

The Mass. General Hospital purchased, in 1867, an additional tract of land known as the Barrell farm, containing about 80 acres, in Somerville. This land, it was claimed, was exempt from taxation under the 11th Chapter of the General Statute, sect. 5, which provides as follows :

“The personal property of literary, benevolent, charitable and scientific institutions incorporated within this Commonwealth, and the real estate belonging to such institutions occupied by them or its officers for the purposes for which they were incorporated,” shall be exempted from taxations.

This Hospital claims to be a “charitable and benevolent” institution.

By vote of the town the assessors imposed a tax on this land and a small dwelling-house let by the Hospital to one of its employees, at a valuation of $40,000 making a tax of $620, or thereabouts. This tax was paid under protest, and a suit instituted against the town for its recovery.

The suit is defended on several grounds; 1st, The land in question was not reasonably required and was not actually occupied by the institution or its officers for the purposes for which it was incorporated. It was claimed by the Hospital that the land was required for the purposes of light and air, and to prevent the near approach of nuisances, as well as for the general purpose of cultivation in order to furnish the inmates with suitable produce, and to afford patients the means of exercise, recreation and amusement. It was also claimed that the tax was illegal inasmuch as the description of the property was not in compliance with the Statutes of 1862 relating thereto. 2d, A part of the property, to wit: the dwelling-house, was certainly liable to taxation, even if the rest were not, and that the proper and only remedy was by application to the assessors for abatement, and the Hospital having failed within the time required by law, to resort to this remedy, had lost or waived any claims for abatement. The suit has been tried twice before the Superior Court, and argued twice before the Supreme Judicial Court, on all the grounds above stated, and is now held by the full bench of that Court under advisement. A decision will undoubtedly be rendered before another town meeting, when the legal rights of the town will probably be fully determined in the matter. As this matter has been referred by the town for investigation to a Committee of fifteen, it is presumed that a more elaborate and comprehensive report will be made by them directly to the town at an early day. The suit of T. J. Smith for damages sustained from an incumbrance in Medford street has been settled by the person causing the incumbrance, the town contributing a small proportion of the amount paid.

The suits brought by Mr. Richardson and Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett for damages alleged to have been sustained by a defect on Broadway and now pending before the Superior Court for this County, will probably be disposed of the present Winter. The suit brought by Mr. Campbell on an alleged breach of Contract for trenching for the water pipes, and the suit brought by Mrs. Brooks for damages alleged to have been sustained by stepping into the trench dug for water pipe, are pending, and are defended under the direction of the Mystic Water Committee, who have assumed the charge of the same.

CHARLES S. LINCOLN,
FRANCIS HOUGHTON,

Committee on Claims.

Your Board have not considered it necessary to append to their Report figures showing expenditures in the several departments referred to, as reference to the Treasurer's account will show the result in figures. It was our intention to keep expenditures within the appropriation, but we have not in all cases been able to do so. We have considered the interests of the town rather than the arbitrary line of exact appropriations, and feel that the expenditures have been judiciously made.

In accordance with a vote of the town passed in April last, your Board were authorized to purchase a lot of land for town purposes, and we were restricted by said vote to make a selection upon Highland Avenue; consequently a choice in lots seemed to present itself at once.

The lot agreed upon and purchased is bounded by Walnut street, Highland Avenue and Medford street; the frontage on the Avenue and Medford street is four hundred and fifty feet each, and occupies the entire front on Walnut street, between said Avenue and Medford street. The lot contains 149,524.6 feet.

The agreement in purchasing the above lot of land is such that the town is required to build a forty foot street adjoining the land of Jacob Sleeper — of whom the purchase was made — within two years.

Your Board trusts that very soon this lot of land will be crowned with a noble structure, which all citizens can look up to with pride and pleasure, feeling that they hold an interest in it.

The rapid progress made in building, and in various additions to the value of our town, calls for enlarged plans for improving the public ways and grounds.

Your Board respectfully presents the foregoing Report and views for your consideration.

OF

THE TREASURER.

In accordance with the Laws of the Commonwealth I hereby present to the Citizens of Somerville, my Seventh Annual Statement of the Receipts and Expenditures of the Treasury Department for the year 1869. By reference to the Reports of the various Boards and Committees herewith presented, they will receive a correct idea of the financial affairs of the town, and the causes of the necessary large increase in expenditures, &c which will render it superfluous for me to make any extended remarks; I therefore hope that the annexed statement may meet the approval of the citizens.

SOMERVILLE, January 1, 1870.

REPORT

OF THE

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The annual Report of the Finance Committee, is here with respectfully submitted.

The town debt Dec. 31, 1868, was	$178,924 0
Which was decreased during the past year by the payment of matured notes,	34,575 0
	$144,349 0
And increased by new loans during the year,	162,933 4
Making the present town debt	$307,282 4

Which will become due as follows:—

In 1870,	$20,933 44
1872,	128,495 00
1874,	62,000 00
1879,	49,854 00
1884,	46,000 00
	$307,282 44

By referring to the Report of the Chairman of the Auditing Committee, it will be seen that the increase in the amount of the Town Debt, was caused by a nearly corresponding acquisition of Town Property.

The Treasurer was authorized to borrow in anticipaon of taxes, to meet the current expenses of the town. No money was borrowed for this purpose, till the 25th of May, and all the temporary loans had been paid on the 9th of September. This part of the town finances was managed entirely by the Treasurer, and he is entitled to much credit for the skilful manner in which it was performed.

It is recommended that the Treasurer with the approval of the Finance Committee, be authorized to issue Coupon Bonds for $21,000, the proceeds to be applied to the payment of that part of the debt which will mature the coming year.

The practice in former years, — repeated once during the past year — of borrowing sums of money represented by units, tens, and hundreds of dollars, should be discontinued. The loans should be made for even thousands. This, with a little management, can generally be done. The theory that the value of property acquired, should be co-equal in amount with a consequent loan, is fallacious. The accountant who endeavors to make a ledger account serve the double purpose of "Notes Payable," and an "Inventory," undertakes more than he will be able to accomplish.

Respectfully submitted,

R. E. DEMMON,
CUTLER DOWNER,
AARON SARGENT,

Committee.

Somerville, Jan. 1, 1870.

REPORT

OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE

AUDITING COMMITTEE

A vote of the town passed at the Annual Town Meeting in March last, imposing new duties upon the Chairman of the Auditing Committee, seems to necessitate a Report at the close of the year.

The Town Valuation by the Assessors in May last, was $10,783,050; an increase of $1,408,900 from the previous year; and the rate of taxation, $13 on a thousand dollars valuation; a decrease of $6 on a thousand, from the year preceding.

The amount of taxes assessed was as follows:—

State Tax,		$14,400
County Tax,		5,862
Town Tax, (Appropriations)		118,750
Overlay,	$7,205 43 to which add taxes assessed by Collector,	372 10	7,577
A total of		$146,589
Of which there has been collected	128,086 50
And Abated	849 05	128,935
Leaving uncollected,		$17,654

In conformity with the vote of the town before alluded to, the bills approved by the respective Boards, have been by them regularly forwarded, (except that in no one instance during the year, has a bill been received direct from the Overseers of the Poor, or any member of that Board acting in his official capacity,) once countersigned, and promptly passed to the treasurer.

The Annual Report of the Treasurer exhibits a correct account of the cash debits and credits to the several accounts; which vary from the accounts in this report, only so far as these last have been affected by transactions in which Cash formed no part, and which, consequently, did not come within the province of the treasurer.

Everything in the Collector of Taxes' department is in a satisfactory condition, and this important branch of our town government is in good hands.

A vote of the town passed in April last, instructed the auditors "to insert in the Annual Report, the names of the persons taxed, and their places of residence": if by "places of residence" was intended the street and number of the street of each tax-payer, as has been intimated, the latter part of the vote was of no effect, as no appropriation was made to defray the expense; though if it could have been made effectual, it would certainly have been an ingenious method for supplying each family in town with a Directory, at a trifling cost.

Chairman of Auditing Committee.

REPORT

OF THE

Somerville Mystic Water Committee.

The Committee respectfully submit their second Annual Report.

The operations of the past year, authorized by votes of the town, passed April 26th — comprise the laying of 6,302.1 feet of distribution pipes, with the requisite gates, and the setting of 35 hydrants: also the purchase and assumption of 21,719 feet of distribution pipes, with gates, and 27 hydrants, located in former years.

TRENCHING.

The past year's trenching has been performed under the direction of a member of the Committee, and in as economical a manner as was consistent with a correct and expeditious execution of the work.

DISTRIBUTION PIPES.

These — both laid and purchased — are, (except as hereinafter noted,) of the same description as those used the preceding year. The laying of the pipes by Mr. Almy, under the supervision of Mr. Loring R. Horne, of Charlestown, as Engineer, has been successfully accomplished: and both of these gentlemen are entitled to much credit for their fidelity and interest in the prosecution of the work under their charge.

For the gratification of the incredulous as to the strength and durability of this wrought iron and cement pipe, a list of cities and towns in which it is used, is here given.

CONSTRUCTION.

All the pipes, stop-gates, hydrants, &c., specified in the foregoing statements — comprising all the works in our town through which the Mystic Water flows, with the exception of the Charlestown supply main, and about five hundred and fifty feet of pipe in an unaccepted street — are now the property of the town ; and Construction Account, as will be seen by the Treasurer's statement, shows a debit balance of $90,392.16.

All bills and indebtedness incurred by the Committee for the construction of the works to this time, have been settled, with the exception of what may be due the contractor for Trenching, in 1868 ; who demanded for "ledge work" what was, in the opinion of the Committee, at the time, an exorbitant price ; and the experience of the past year, with the same kind of work, confirms the previous opinion.

The Committee are fully prepared to defend the suit which has been commenced by the Contractor.

Another suit has been instituted against the town for damages occasioned to a lady by falling into a trench in the evening, but our contract with the same Contractor will throw the damages, if any, upon him.

The present value of the works may be stated as follows :

Expenditures by the Committee, in 1868 and 1869,	$90,392.16
Expenditures by the Selectmen, in 1865, 1866, and 1868, charged to "Miscellaneous" and "Hydrant" accounts,	1,211.11
Value of Hydrants furnished by the City of Charlestown in conformity to law,	600.00
Total Value,	$92,203.27

Of the pipe acquired the past year by purchase, that in Sacramento, Clark, and Milk Streets and Frost Avenue, was bought of the City of Cambridge; and its possession secures to us two large water takers — the Middlesex Bleachery, and the American Tube Works.

The water for the supply of the town is received by means of four connections with the Charlestown Water Works, viz; at the junction of Medford Street and Broadway; near the corner of Temple Street and Broadway, and at the Charlestown city line on Broadway, and on Perkins Street.

The stop-gate at the Cambridge city line is to be opened only in case of a temporary failure in the supply from the regular sources; and a similar precautionary measure having been taken by the cities of Boston and Charlestown, in the latter named city, our town, in case of emergency, can be supplied with either the Fresh Pond, or the Lake Cochituate water.

LOAN.

The loan of $50,000, authorized by the town on the 26th of April last, has been effected by the issue and disposal of a Coupon Bond for that sum, denominated "Somerville Water Loan," and numbered 4, dated July 1st, 1869, payable July 1st, 1872, with interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

Construction account, as will be seen, shows an excess in expenditures of $10,392.16 over the amount of this loan, and the loan authorized and effected in 1868: this excess has been paid from the funds in the Treasury of the town, to be reimbursed when required by the Treasurer, by the effecting of a loan for a part of the $20,000, authorized by the town on the 2d of Nov. last.

MAINTENANCE.

"Water Distribution" account of the Town Treasurer shows the net cost of maintaining the works the past year, to have been $2,815.87, or a tax of about twenty-six cents on a thousand dollars, town valuation.

The water is now supplied to 552 dwelling houses, (occupied by 672 families); 43 stables; 11 stores and shops; 4 meeting-houses; 2 manufactories; the Middlesex Bleachery; American Tube Works; the Mass. Brick Company, and the McLean Asylum.

The Committee are again under obligations to the Water Commissioners of Charlestown; to the Clerk of the Board, and to the Superintendent of the Works, for their many courtesies and kindly remembrance.

Our thanks are also due to the Authorities of the city of Cambridge for the spirit of fairness exhibited by them in the negotiations for the purchase of pipe of that city.

Rendering thus an account of their second year's work, the Committee have only to add, that they have endeavored to discharge faithfully the trust reposed in them.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

So little change from year to year has occurred in the nature of the applications for relief, and the distribution of aid to the destitute, that the history of preceding years is very nearly the history of the municipal year that has just closed.

The sum appropriated by the town for this department was $3,000, nearly all of which has been expended in relieving pressing wants of the destitute.

For a few months past, there has been considerable sickness in our town, especially of Typhoid fever, which thus tended in no small degree to increase the expense required for the relief of the indigent and suffering.

Allusion has been made in former Reports to the Act of our Legislature in 1865, called the Military Settlement Law, and to the recent repeal of the Naturalization clause hitherto existing, as conferring Settlements on a very large number of persons in our town, the result of which is becoming very apparent, from the fact that three families are now receiving partial support at the town's expense, by virtue of acquiring such settlements.

This, with the rapid increase of population of the town, will operate to very much augment the disbursements in future, for the relief of the poor.

It will be necessary for the town to appropriate, at least $3,500 the ensuing year, for this department to meet its legitimate wants.

Our course has been to assist widows with families of children attending our schools, although they have no settlement in the State ; where the required amount of aid did not seem to be too considerable for the town to meet, where there was no legal responsibility on its part, Fuel for a part of the year, enables most of such widows to keep their families together, and in comparative comfort, until their children shall attain the capacity for providing for themselves. We feel assured that aid thus rendered, has prevented much suffering, and will, we hope, be fruitful only of good.

The State has liberally provided well-furnished Alms-Houses, under the management of suitable and competent persons, where the destitute, having no settlement in any place in the State, may go and receive comfortable support ; to which persons having no settlement, and who are permanently incapacitated to provide for themselves should go, unless they have friends who will provide for them.

It is no act of charity to render some small assistance to such persons, in filthy and comfortless abodes, who have too much pride to allow them to dwell in an Alms-House, but feel it to be proper, and eminently just to subsist upon the charities of the town.

It is no part of the duty of the town to support this class of persons, and would be much more for their comfort to be removed to a State Alms House ; and with the largely increasing number who will ask for, and who can claim aid, it will be necessary to thus remove many of this class of persons, who have continued to receive aid by our board for a considerable part of the year.

Our acts have been criticized by some of our fellow-citizens, in some cases, as being too narrow and illiberal and as not coming up to the spirit of the town.

We do not object to any just and impartial scrutiny or criticisms. There has no doubt been destitution and suffering in many cases, notwithstanding what has been done to mitigate and prevent it.

Intemperance ever has exerted a potent influence to beget want and wretchedness, and where there is dissipation in either head of a family, there will be suffering and misery in spite of the efforts of Overseers of Poor Boards of Charity, or the munificence of the town. The way of the transgressor is hard, and we do not expect to make it easy or comfortable.

James M. Burns, was for insanity, removed to the Worcester Lunatic Asylum, some eight months ago, where he is supported at the expense of the town amounting to about $4.00 per week.

There are two insane persons receiving full support at the Vermont Asylum. Two sane persons at the Charles town Alms-House, and one in a private family in Boston.

We claim to have expended the money kindly entrusted to our care with fidelity to the town, and for the purposes, for which it was intended. And, that the poor and destitute have not been more liberally provided for, nor received fuller relief, in any of the contiguous cities for the past year, than in Somerville.

Respectfully submitted.

R E P O R T

OF THE

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

In compliance with Statute requirements, we respectfully submit the following as the Twenty-Eighth Annual Report of the School Committee.

We enter upon a review of our work with a grateful recognition of Him who has crowned the year with his goodness, and rendered it one of more than ordinary prosperity.

The lives and health of our children and youth have been preserved in a remarkable degree. Only three of the twenty-five hundred pupils have been removed by death.

Our schools continue to merit the commendations of former years.

We take pleasure in bearing testimony to the faithfulness and devotion of the teachers, and the general industry and correct deportment of the pupils, and would express our gratitude for the cheerful and almost universal co-operation of parents in the performance of our duties.

Great harmony has pervaded every department, and the entire machinery has moved on with little friction, considering its extent and complication.

Each succeeding year develops improved methods of instruction and additional facilities for imparting knowledge. The profession of the teacher is constantly gaining in popular esteem, and as a consequence, a higher order of talent is being attracted to it. Teachers are bringing to their work more ample qualifications and broader culture. The art of teaching is better understood. In the maintenance of order the moral element is superseding the physical. We are learning more generally that the noble natures of children and youth can be influenced most effectively through their higher sensibilities.

The discipline of the school is becoming more like that of a well-ordered family, and its attractions are constantly increasing.

In our estimation, the school-room should always be a cheerful place, and no needless shadow should ever be suffered to dim its brightness. While laboring, therefore, to secure the proper intellectual development of our children and their rapid advancement in knowledge, it has been our constant endeavor to render their school life bright and joyous. For there are no more certain guarantees of a virtuous and useful life, than a happy childhood and youth.

But as the fairest day has its clouds, and human life under the most favorable circumstances is but an alternation of light and shade, it may be unreasonable, to expect perpetual sunshine even in the best regulated school. We will not cease, however, to aim at the sun though our arrows may not always reach the mark.

The intellectual and moral culture of the young is a work of transcendent moment. We cannot over-estimate its magnitude and results. In an important sense the happiness, present, and prospective, of our children is committed to our keeping. Each day we are making indelible impressions upon those who are soon to take our places and assume our duties, and are giving direction to natures bearing the impress of immortality.

Their characters are being moulded by our own ; their minds will bear no higher stamp than we imprint upon them. How important then that we adorn ourselves with "Whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report ;" that we may be fitted for a work whose results reach to eternity.

"No unskillful hand should play upon a harp whose tones are left forever in the strings."

The character of the community to be formed of those now composing our schools will depend in a great measure upon our fidelity, or remissness in their training during these years of their pupilage.

Ever seeking the guidance of unerring Wisdom, we would prosecute our work with a steadfast purpose, with patient continuance, and an earnest zeal.

II. PROPERTY.

Estimated value of School Houses, furniture, land, &c. $207,702.39.

Our School Buildings are all in good condition, well furnished, pleasantly located, and of easy access, with the exception of the Jackson School House.

That building is so unfavorably situated, and the schools occupying it are rendered so uncomfortable in consequence, we feel constrained to urge upon the consideration of our citizens the importance of its immediate removal to a more pleasant and accessible location.

III. SCHOOLS.

Four new schools have been organized during the year. One in the Forster School House, one in the Prescott, one in the Bennett, and one in the Webster.

All the rooms in Prescott School House are occupied, but there are two vacant rooms in Forster School House.

As Walnut Street is one-eighth of a mile nearer Forster School House, than Prescott School House, it is proposed to make the district line more central, and to relieve Prescott School by transferring to Forster School those pupils who reside in the vicinity of Walnut Street, and north of this central line.

IV. TEACHERS.

There are forty-six female teachers, eighteen of whom were educated in our own schools, and have been members of our High School.

It has long been the policy of the Committee in making their selections of teachers to give the preference to graduates of our High School, other things being the same.

IN MEMORIAM.

It is our sad duty to record the death of one of our male teachers, an event new in our experience as a town.

John D. Marston, Esq., Principal of Franklin Grammar School, died on the 4th of November last, after a brief illness, aged 42 years. He was highly esteemed as a citizen, and greatly beloved as a teacher. By uniform urbanity and untiring devotion to his pupils, he secured in an unusual degree, their confidence and love. He possessed great purity of character, and those qualities of mind and heart, that admirably fitted him to excel in his profession, and in his death not only his school but the community has sustained a severe loss.

V. PUPILS.

Pupils who complete the course of study prescribed for the Public Schools, pass through thirteen separate asses; three in the Primary School, two in the Sub-grammar, four in the Grammar School, and four in the High School.

It requires one year for pupils of ordinary capacity to accomplish the work assigned to each class.

Largest number of pupils belonging to all the schools at one time during the year, 2,480.

This class numbered thirty-seven, when it entered the School in September, 1865.

Pupils having the industry and perseverance requisite to complete the entire Course of Study prescribed for the Public Schools, and who graduate at the High School are entitled to consideration, and ever have been regarded by the Committee with special favor.

Their graduation being an important event in their history, special effort has always been made to render the Anniversary of the school an occasion of peculiar interest, and we would interpose no obstacle to its rational enjoyment.

But we feel constrained to give expression to our regrets in view of the increasing expense, attendant upon the graduation of classes at the High School.

It is true, that the expense is met by the voluntary contributions of the pupils, but still our convictions are that a needless burden is frequently imposed where it is not always conveniently borne, and that the interests of the school will suffer in consequence.

It is the glory of our Free Schools, that their benefits are accessible to all, and their most honorable positions are open to the meritorious, irrespective of external differences.

We entertain great respect for those who cheerfully undergo privations, and subject themselves to personal discomforts that they may enrich and adorn their minds, and are anxious to remove whatever may prevent them from deriving all the benefits the schools can confer.

For the accommodation of those who desire to supplement their Grammar School studies, but do not wish to pursue the regular Classical Course, we are about to introduce an English and Mercantile Course of study into the High School.

Several valuable specimens for the Geological Cabinet, also a number of valuable books on the Geology of New England, have been presented to the school during the year, by Charles H. Guild, Esq.

The High School Association have sustained during the winter a highly interesting course of Free Public Lectures, which have been fully attended.

Under the auspices of the Association a class has been maintained for the study of the German Language.

At their Reunion in February last, they were favored with an Address of great beauty and appropriateness by John E. Tyler, M. D., of McLean Asylum.

PROMOTIONS AND EXAMINATIONS.

Regular class promotions are made in each Department near the close of the Summer Term.

The examination of applicants for admission to the High School, takes place at the High School Building, on the day next succeeding the Annual Exhibition of the school.

Each pupil brings from his last teacher a certificate, indicating that he has completed the course of study prescribed for the Grammar School.

When he enters the school-room for examination, he finds upon the desk he is to occupy, a slip of paper with his number, and on which he writes his name and age. This he retains until the result of the examination is known.

He is then furnished with sets of questions, designed to test his knowledge of the various branches taught in the Grammar School.

Sufficient space is left between the questions to contain the answers, which the pupil is required to write out in full.

These papers, to which is applied the pupil's number are carefully examined by the Committee and Principal of the school, and the per cent of correct answers is computed, before it is known to whom they belong.

A Blank similar to the following is filled out by the Principals of the Grammar Schools for each graduate.

Somerville, July, 1869.

The Committee, having before them the pupil's answers to the proposed questions, and a statement of his standing in the school whence he came, are prepared to form a correct judgment respecting his qualifications and fitness for promotion.

We regard a written examination, carefully conducted, fair test of scholarship. In every instance, at our last examination, those pupils who stood first in their respective classes, ranked the highest on examination; and the rank by examination of all the applicants, corresponded, very nearly, to their rank in their respective schools.

Ninety-eight per cent of all the graduates from the Grammar Schools applied for admission to the High School, and ninety-two per cent of the applicants were admitted.

APPROPRIATIONS.

To meet the current expenses of the Schools for the year 1869, the town appropriated $45,350.

The expenditures from January 1, 1869, to January 1, 1870, were as follows:

MORSE GRAMMAR SCHOOL HOUSE.

At a meeting of the Town, held on the 26th day of April last, $27,000 were appropriated to purchase land, and construct of brick, a Grammar School House in Franklin District.

The following named gentlemen were chosen a Building Committee by the School Board.

Enoch R. Morse,
George W. Durell,

Leonard Arnold,
Samuel A. Carlton.

A lot of land containing 32,320 feet, and situated at the corner of Summer and Craigie Streets, was purchased for $7\frac{3}{4}$ cents per foot.

A contract was made with Messrs. Barnard and Lancaster of Boston, to construct and complete the building ready to receive the school furniture, for $21,300. These gentlemen are fulfilling their contract to the entire satisfaction of the Committee.

The building, which presents a pleasing appearance from every point of observation, was designed by S. J. F. Thayer, Esq., of Boston, who also superintends its construction.

It is two stories high with a mansard roof, and a basement nearly out of ground. The basement contains the heating apparatus, a room for fuel, rooms for the janitor and two spacious entries for the pupils. Each of the two stories has two school-rooms thirty by thirty-five feet in area, and twelve feet eight inches high in the clear. Communicating with the school-rooms there are convenient clothes rooms, and closets for the teachers. The halls and stairways are light and spacious. The exhibition hall in the roof story is thirty-four by fifty-six feet, and eighteen feet high.

The building is fifty-three and one-half by sixty-five and two-thirds feet on the ground. Its front entrance is from Summer Street, and there are two side entrances for the pupils.

It is expected that it will be completed and ready for occupancy early in March next.

We have given it the name of Morse Grammar School House, in honor of Enoch R. Morse, Esq., of the School Board.

TRUANCY.

Cases of truancy are frequently occurring, and we have no legalized means of preventing them.

We would recommend the appointment of five Truant Officers, one for each school district, as the most effectual remedy.

It is a sound maxim, that peace is best secured by a thorough preparation for war. An efficient police force maintains the quiet of a city by preventing, rather than by quelling disorder.

Pupils inclined to truancy, will be restrained by a knowledge that there are those who are legally appointed to look after them, and to whom they will be held amenable.

DISCIPLINE.

We are happy to report that the excellent order so prevalent in our schools, is secured mainly by mild measures. In many of them, instances of corporal punishment are extremely rare.

In 1843, Hon. Horace Mann, then Secretary of the Board of Education, visited Europe that he might make himself personally acquainted with their system of Public Instruction. In his report published after his return, is his testimony: "During a period of six weeks, the greater part of which I spent in visiting schools in the north and middle of Prussia and in Saxony, though I saw hundreds of schools, and thousands, — I think I may say, within bounds, tens of thousands of pupils, — I never saw a blow struck, I never heard a sharp rebuke given, never saw a child in tears, nor arranged at the teacher's ear for any alleged misconduct. I heard no child ridiculed or sneered at, or scolded for making a mistake. No child was disconcerted, disabled, or bereft of his senses through fear. The relation seemed to be one of duty first and then affection on the part of the teacher, — of affection first, and then duty on the part of the scholar."

With confident expectation, we look forward to the time, by no means distant, when the same may be said of our own schools, and when the rod will be superceded by duty and love.

HEALTH OF PUPILS.

At certain seasons of the year, large numbers of pupils belonging particularly to the Primary and Sub-Grammar schools are absent on account of severe colds. If these are induced by causes under our control, it becomes us to search them out and apply the remedy. We cannot be too cautious in this matter; for no amount of knowledge within the province of the schools to impart, can compensate for impaired health and an enfeebled constitution.

It was a maxim with Dr. Hosmer, father of the celebrated Harriet G. Hosmer, that "there is a whole lifetime for the education of the mind, but the body develops in a few years, and during that time nothing should be allowed to interfere with its free and healthy growth."

Anything like a full discussion of this important matter is not compatible with the limits of this Report. But a very few and brief suggestions in relation to it, may not be out of place.

In cold and stormy weather, we have frequently seen children shivering about the school buildings before the doors were opened.

Our Regulations provide that the school-rooms shall be opened and that the teachers shall be present both morning and afternoon fifteen minutes, at least, before the time for the session to begin.

When the weather is cold or stormy, we would recom-end that the children be retained at their homes until they will be sure of gaining admittance to their school-rooms.

The temperature of the school-room should be kept as equable as possible. When it is much above sixty-eight degrees, lassitude is induced, and the liability to take cold increased. If it is allowed to fall much below that point, then discomfort to the pupils will ensue. Since our feelings are not always a sure guide in this matter, we should frequently consult the thermometer.

A current of air of lower temperature than that in the school-room should be most scrupulously avoided when the children are present.

“A draught is death’s dart.”

We should avoid it as we would the upas tree. Multitudes of children, by sitting in currents of cold air contract diseases that terminate in death, or so impair their constitutions that they are rendered invalids for life.

In pleasant weather pupils should spend their recess in the open air. When the weather is cold, care should be taken, especially in the case of small children, that they are properly protected by outer garments before they leave the dressing-room.

In their absence the blinds should be thrown back to admit the sun, and the windows opened for a fresh supply of pure air.

PROSPECTIVE WANTS.

Our High School Building is becoming too strait for the school.

Nearly every available foot of space in the school-room is covered with desks, all of which have been occupied during the year.

Ninety per cent of the pupils who graduated at the Grammar Schools in July last, entered the High School in September.

Should only seventy-five per cent of the pupils now constituting the first class in the Grammar Schools be admitted to the High School next September, it would cause an increase to the school of fifty pupils, after the graduation of the present first class.

It will be seen, therefore, that there is an immediate and urgent demand for additional High School accommodations, adequate to the wants of our rapidly increasing population.

A new school-house will soon be needed in the vicinity of Prospect Hill school-house, as all the rooms in that building are occupied, and some of them are crowded to excess.

A large tract of land situated between Cross and Walnut Streets, and extending from Broadway to the Lowell Railroad, is being covered with dwellings, and is destined to be occupied very soon by a dense population for whose accommodation a school-house will be needed at a point central between Prescott and Forster school-houses.

MUSIC.

Instruction in Vocal music has been given during the year by Mr. S. D. Hadley, and also by Mr. S. Henry O. Hadley, a graduate of our High School.

A lesson one hour in length, has been given each week in the High and Grammar Schools.

The interest of former years, in this important and delightful branch in our system of education, has been well sustained.

TEACHERS.

Having witnessed through a series of years the fidelity and devotion of our teachers, and their promptness in conforming to the wishes of those on whom devolves the responsibility of giving direction to their efforts, we can speak of them only in terms of high commendation.

Having passed through a similar experience, we know their perplexities, and are in full sympathy with them in all their efforts. In speaking of them and their duties, therefore, our words will fail to do justice to our emotions should they convey any impression but that of our highest consideration and regard.

Teachers, such are our convictions of the sacredness and importance of your work, and so great is our solicitude for its successful prosecution, we feel constrained to counsel you with great earnestness to a more devout and entire consecration of yourselves to your high vocation, to go forth each day under a new inspiration, and with a zeal worthy of those whose influence is to extend far into the unknown future, and whose work is for immortality.

Labor earnestly to render yourselves in all respects an example worthy of imitation. Strive to be what you would have your pupils become; for most assuredly you will witness in them a reflection of your own character.

In their presence be hopeful, cheerful, enthusiastic, kind, courteous. Let no storm-clouds dim the brightness of your school-room. Utter words of kindness and their echoes will be harmonious. No words of inspiration are more sure of fulfilment than these. "With what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again."

Always appeal to the higher motives. Pursue towards your pupils, at all times, such a course as will commend itself to their better judgment, when they become wise and thoughtful men and women.

Permit yourselves under no provocation to give utterance to a word respecting your pupils, that will tend to degrade them in their own estimation, or the estimation of their associates. Better far to maim the body than to wound the immortal spirit. Strive rather to cultivate in them feelings of self-respect, and inspire them with confidence in their own capabilities. Their way may be long and dark before them. They will need to be girded with all the courage and spirit God has given them, for life's conflict.

Should it ever become your duty to inflict punishment, first chasten your own spirit, and let it be manifest to the child, that you are impelled to the act by a kind regard for his welfare, and remember that where there is judicious management, such an occurrence is of rare necessity.

Since the calling of teachers involves such vast responsibilities, they need to be most thoroughly furnished, and liberally endowed by nature and by culture, and should realize most deeply the importance of the interests committed to their keeping.

At a time like the present, when science is making such rapid advancement, and new paths of literature are opening on every side, and the spirit of the age calls into vigorous exercise all the powers of thought, how important that those who are so largely to influence the rising generation, who are to put their impress upon the yielding mind, and heart of youth, should fit themselves by a liberal education, a many-sided culture, and a thoroughly practical and disciplinary training for such great responsibilities.

There exists, indeed, the necessity of a natural taste and fitness for teaching, else the most extensive acquisitions will be of little avail. No one can hope to succeed in any department, without the requisite natural endowments, as well as all needful acquired qualifications.

To be a skillful physician requires not only a thorough knowledge of physical science and the human system, which is the result of study, but quick perceptions, a tender heart, and an innate love for the human race, the gifts of nature.

So a good teacher needs not only to be instructed in all science, to know all the wisdom of the ancients, and all the theories of his own time; but he must have a patience that never fails, a moral force that cannot yield, and above all a hearty love for those committed to his care, and an earnest desire to instruct them in true wisdom, and to lead them to its source.

To develop these peculiar gifts to their highest capabilities, should be the aim of every one who undertakes to rear the tender thought," and no means should be neglected in securing the desired end.

To teachers we must look mainly for whatever of excellence we may desire in our schools. Whenever a teacher is fired with enthusiasm for his work, his spirit will be infused into his pupils. A live teacher will make a live school. A teacher cannot be deeply interested in any branch of study, without exciting a similar enthusiasm in his pupils. He is their model, their example. Whatever he firmly believes and enthusiastically teaches becomes their creed.

The character of a school depends not merely upon the extent of the teacher's knowledge, and his skill and enthusiasm in imparting it, but mainly upon what he is.

Personal character carries with it weight; and hence, moral force, broad culture, and refinement of tone and thought, are among the most essential elements in one who devotes himself to this most noble and holy calling. The fountain must not only be full, but its waters should be pure. How important therefore that teachers should strive to make their lives pure, their example worthy of imitation, and their characters such as to inspire trust, the respect, and the love of their pupils.

NORMAL SCHOOLS.

To those who design to become teachers, and who desire to secure a high rank in their profession, we would commend the superior advantages arising from a course of study in our State Normal and Training Schools.

We cannot appreciate or commend too highly the advantages of the course of study pursued in our High School. But our pupils necessarily graduate just at the time when by mental discipline, they are prepared to pursue study to the best advantage, and at an age when mere passive receiving ceases, and the real work of self-culture and world-knowledge begins.

A thorough understanding of science, and a lively appreciation of books and their uses, demand a mature age and minds which previous mental discipline has prepared therefor.

Normal Schools afford an excellent opportunity to continue the education which the High School so admirably commences but necessarily leaves incomplete. They aim to give to their pupils a wider experience in thinking and observation, and to teach them how to use the book lore laid up in the store-houses of the mind, and how to communicate their knowledge in the happiest manner to others.

What before had been dimly perceived is enlightened, and what had faded from the memory, is brought forth with new power and meaning. They secure a fuller development of mind, a wider scope of experience and a deeper comprehension of the magnitude of the teachers' work.

Many of the exercises of these schools, are especially directed to cultivating a taste for teaching and developing, not only the mental, but also the moral qualifications requisite in a good teacher. They aim not merely to instruct in all useful knowledge, but by a practical application of all their teachings, and by the training exercises which form a part of their discipline to give that peculiar direction to the mental and moral forces which must be brought into the teacher's vocation.

Should the discipline of the schools fail to accomplish these results in their pupils, then by timely advice they prevent many young persons from engaging in a pursuit which would be mere drudgery to them.

While we do not claim that Normal schools make perfect teachers, or that no teacher can obtain the highest position without them, we still think they go far towards accomplishing their purpose. They inspire their pupils with a sentiment of the sacredness of the teacher's vocation, and call forth an enthusiasm which no general course of study could arouse.

By order of the Committee,

J. H. DAVIS,

Superintendent of Schools.

Somerville, Feb. 1, 1870.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

Our schools of this grade number twenty-one, the list having been increased by two the past year.

Children remain in these schools ordinarily about three years, or until they learn to read with a good degree of fluency, to spell easy words readily, and are familiar with the Roman Numerals, the Abbreviations, Punctuation Marks, and Tables for the simple rules of Arithmetic.

The result of the recent examinations was highly gratifying. All the commendations contained in the full and able report of the schools of this grade, last year will apply to them with equal emphasis at the present time. We think all the Teachers are faithful and zealous and many of them from long experience, have acquired a skill in the management of children, truly surprising.

By proper discipline, we may retain a lively sympathy in youthful hearts and pursuits as years pass on. We deem it worthy of remark, that one of our most successful, and enthusiastic, and we think we may say popular teachers in this department, has been constantly employed in our schools, ever since the Town was incorporated in 1842.

To one having the tact to manage and a heart to love children, the Primary school is a delightful place; but a teacher who cannot love children, had better make up her mind to pursue some other employment. Her labor is unsanctified, and will exert a baleful effect upon the hearts and lives of her pupils. The school-room should be a sunny spot where all is cheerfulness; and the source of light and happiness must be the large, loving heart of the teacher.

Unreasoning little children, full of animal life, are very difficult to govern by harsh treatment, but their hearts are singularly open to appeals of affection. Once gain their love, and obedience becomes not a task, but a pleasure to them.

The great secret of the success of a good teacher of children, lies in a loving spirit, and a mild, firm treatment of them, leading them quietly by the higher motives of love.

All children are not equally attractive, as all flowers are not alike beautiful. But the true lover of nature, will find something to admire in every flower that blooms, no one having the true instincts of a teacher will discover something of interest in every child.

The affections of some children, develop slowly with the most fostering care, owing perhaps to unfavorable influences out of the school room; but as sure as the most tardy seed germinates in the light and warmth of the summer sun, so surely will love and kind treatment work upon the heart of the most obdurate child, and expand its life into gentleness and beauty.

O. S. KNAPP, Chairman.

SUB-GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

There are now twelve schools of this grade, one having been added to the list the past year. They contain about one-fourth of the pupils in all the schools, and occupy a very important place in our system of public instruction.

Probably there are no two years in the entire course, more important than those spent in this department. Children are then just at an age when their minds are peculiarly susceptible and pliant, and when habits are readily formed and firmly fixed.

We labor therefore to secure the most skilful teachers for this department, and we are happy to report that they are doing their work faithfully and well.

Special attention is given to the development and cultivation of the voice in reading, to spelling and defining, Mental Arithmetic, and Written Arithmetic through the Simple Rules, the elements of Geography, and to forming correct habits in writing.

The recent examinations indicated faithful instruction, and commendable industry on the part of the pupils, and were in a high degree satisfactory.

In every instance, the order was unexceptionable. In most of the schools, the reading was excellent, considering the age of the pupils. In a few instances there was want of flexibility of voice, and the style was labored and unmeasured, the result, probably, of an extra effort to secure distinctness of articulation.

We were greatly pleased with their promptness and accuracy in their spelling exercises. In some of the schools there was not a failure, and in several the failure did not exceed four per cent.

The proficiency of all the schools in Arithmetic and Geography fully equalled our expectations.

To those Teachers who, perhaps unconsciously to themselves, manifested a degree of nervousness over the failures of their pupils, we would say, that we do not expect perfect recitations at all times in any school. Every one, at all conversant with schools, knows that as striking contrasts are often witnessed in the same school on different days, as in different schools on the same day; and hence we form our opinion of their merits as we do of human character, not by any isolated event or exhibition, but by their general tenor, and prevailing tendencies.

We much prefer that pupils should never fail, and we think that great pains should be taken by teachers so to adapt their questions to a child's capacity, as to remove the necessity of failure.

It is often unpleasant to witness the immediate effect of failure upon a child, and painful to consider what may be the ultimate consequences of a habit of failing.

We have witnessed how a well disciplined army is demoralized by defeat. But the recitation seat is the child's battle-ground, and victory or failure here leaves its impress upon his character. Success inspires confidence, and this in turn insures success.

It has passed into a proverb, "He is most likely to win, who thinks he will ;" and it is equally true that he is most confident of victory who is oftenest victorious.

The Roman Legions, having never sustained a defeat, regarded themselves, and were regarded by their enemies as invincible.

We should omit no opportunity to inspire children with the feeling that they are fully equal to the duties assigned them.

E. R. MORSE, Chairman.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

The general condition of these schools is nearly all that could be desired; great excellencies, were found in some, marked deficiencies in none. The examinations showed that teachers and pupils had labored diligently and faithfully. The thoroughness with which the studies had been pursued, and the quiet self-reliance of the scholars were highly gratifying. In several cases the pupils requested that the examination should be continued even after the other schools had been dismissed.

A liberal provision is made for musical instruction and training in these schools, and it gives us pleasure to report that there is reasonable progress in this department. The facilities that are afforded to all, however limited may be their means for acquiring a sound practical education are rightly appreciated by the people generally, and they may well indulge a laudable pride in having schools that compare so favorably with the best in the State. It is well known that home influences extend to the school-room, and an unguarded word of a father or mother is not unfrequently the secret cause of disrespect and ill behaviour on the part of a child.

We desire to repeat, with marked emphasis, all that was said in the report last year of the need of great deliberation and caution in the administration of discipline.

The consciousness of possessing physical, legal and moral power over the child is in itself a strong temptation to the teacher. The question of expediency, as well as right must often be considered, and a wise discretion must be observed in making rules for the government of the school.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The annual examination of this School, was held during two days, and the result was very creditable to teachers and pupils. In all departments the instruction seemed to have been equally thorough, and the general deportment of the scholars indicated self-respect, and a correct appreciation of the necessity of maintaining good order in a room crowded to repletion.

We should fail in our duty to these teachers, and scholars, if we did not urge the need of better accommodation in rooms, sufficiently large to hold each class separately, as is now done in the Grammar Schools. The latter have all outgrown their old School Houses with a single School room, and miniature recitation rooms, and there seems to be no good reason for continuing this policy in the High School. If our citizens were disposed to send a large portion of their children to private teachers, as is done in many places, where an ill-founded prejudice exists against public instruction, there would be no increased accommodations needed for many years. But fortunately for Somerville, private seminaries of learning are not indigenous to its soil, nor have they been able when imported, to flourish by the side of our excellent public schools.

This we feel is a matter for sincere congratulation, and while our High School continues to send out such noble young men and women, fully prepared for college, and thoroughly trained for the industrial pursuits of life, we cannot fail to see that it is for our real interest to furnish every means for promoting its prosperity.

We may refer here with a just pride to the spirit which actuates the graduates of this excellent school, in creating and maintaining a lively interest among the youth of the town, in literature and science. During the past two years, the High School association composed of the past members and graduates, have formed classes in the Languages and Natural Science, for the purpose of pursuing still further the study of those branches of education. Courses of lectures, and musical concerts have been instituted under their patronage which the citizens of the town have been invited to attend, free of expense. We have yet to learn, that this has been done in any other town in the Commonwealth. Similar associations have been formed, in other places, but their ambition seems to have been satisfied with an annual supper, and a dance, or they have foundered on the rocks of private feud or dissension. As long as the graduates of this school show such a praiseworthy spirit of mutual improvement, and a desire to promote the public morality and intelligence, we feel confident that their efforts will meet earnest encouragement from all wise citizens. At the same time the fact of the existence, and prosperity, of such an association, reflects great credit upon the High School, and gives stronger evidence, than any assertions of the School Board could do of the wise management and elevating influences of this school.

The consciousness of possessing physical, legal and moral power over the child is in itself a strong temptation to the teacher. The question of expediency, as well as right must often be considered, and a wise discretion must be observed in making rules for the government of the school.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The annual examination of this School, was held during two days, and the result was very creditable to teachers and pupils. In all departments the instruction seemed to have been equally thorough, and the general deportment of the scholars indicated self-respect, and a correct appreciation of the necessity of maintaining good order in a room crowded to repletion.

We should fail in our duty to these teachers, and scholars, if we did not urge the need of better accommodation in rooms, sufficiently large to hold each class separately, as is now done in the Grammar Schools. The latter have all outgrown their old School Houses with a single School room, and miniature recitation rooms, and there seems to be no good reason for continuing this policy in the High School. If our citizens were disposed to send a large portion of their children to private teachers, as is done in many places, where an ill-founded prejudice exists against public instruction, there would be no increased accommodations needed for many years. But fortunately for Somerville, private seminaries of learning are not indigenous to its soil, nor have they been able when imported, to flourish by the side of our excellent public schools.

This we feel is a matter for sincere congratulation, and while our High School continues to send out such noble young men and women, fully prepared for college, and thoroughly trained for the industrial pursuits of life, we cannot fail to see that it is for our real interest to furnish every means for promoting its prosperity.

We may refer here with a just pride to the spirit which actuates the graduates of this excellent school, in creating and maintaining a lively interest among the youth of the town, in literature and science. During the past two years, the High School association composed of the past members and graduates, have formed classes in the Languages and Natural Science, for the purpose of pursuing still further the study of those branches of education. Courses of lectures, and musical concerts have been instituted under their patronage which the citizens of the town have been invited to attend, free of expense. We have yet to learn, that this has been done in any other town in the Commonwealth. Similar associations have been formed, in other places, but their ambition seems to have been satisfied with an annual supper, and a dance, or they have foundered on the rocks of private feud or dissension. As long as the graduates of this school show such a praiseworthy spirit of mutual improvement, and a desire to promote the public morality and intelligence, we feel confident that their efforts will meet earnest encouragement from all wise citizens. At the same time the fact of the existence, and prosperity, of such an association, reflects great credit upon the High School, and gives stronger evidence, than any assertions of the School Board could do of the wise management and elevating influences of this school.

REPORT

OF THE

SELECTMEN.

CITIZENS OF SOMERVILLE:—Agreeably to a long and well established custom, it becomes the duty of the Selectmen, at the close of the year, to submit for your consideration a general statement of the condition of affairs in Town. This they will try to do as briefly as is consistent with a clear understanding of the several subjects to which your attention is invited.

The Selectmen are charged with the care and conduct of many important public interests, several of which, have about equal claims to precedence in this Report. Some order of arrangement being necessary to facilitate this work, and the subject of good roads being one of those interests which most deeply concerns the inhabitants of the Town, we first submit for your consideration the

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HIGHWAYS.

Among the various subjects of interest connected with our Town affairs, that of Highways is one of the most prominent; as good roads are essential to its welfare and prosperity. It is the first object that attracts, and enlists, the attention of the public, as the true index of the public-spiritedness of its inhabitants.

We cannot therefore afford to avoid the cost of maintaining this important branch of public improvement. Liberal expenditures for building, and maintaining good roads, are but so many evidences of a well devised, and judicious public policy, towards enhanced valuations, and largely increased taxable property.

STREETS ACCEPTED.

The following streets have been accepted by the Selectmen, during the year, and the Town has ratified their action, viz.:

Glen, between Pearl and Flint streets.

Mount Vernon, between Perkins and Pearl streets.

Heath, between Temple and Bond streets.

Evergreen Avenue.

Mount Vernon, from Pearl to Washington streets, upon condition that the abutters cut and grade the same, beginning at Pearl street and extending two hundred and fifty feet towards Washington street, three feet in depth at the brow of the hill, graduating each way in an easy grade.

Dane street, upon condition that it can be made safe for public travel, by the County Commissioners causing a watchman, or suitable gates to be placed at the Fitchburg Railroad Company's crossing over said street, and maintained by said corporation.

Petitions for acceptance of various other streets have been received, and referred to your Committee, and in each case carefully examined and considered; their width and condition ascertained.

The following are recommended for acceptance at the next Town meeting, viz.:

Belmont and Forest streets.

REPAIRS.

The principal repairs, (which include stoning and covering) and expenditures, have been made as follows, viz.:

Cedar, from Broadway to Clyde street, and a portion between Summer and Elm streets at a cost of,	$1,225.00
Medford, from Broadway to Central street, . . .	2,912.00
Broadway, between Cross and Walnut streets, . . .	1,315.00
Elm street, from its junction with Milk street to Cherry street.	2,406.00
Porter street,	255.00
Flint street, its entire length,	1,178.00
Belmont street, its entire length. Three hundred dollars of which was paid by the abutters, . . .	871.00
Webster Avenue, between the Fitchburg Railroad and Prospect street,	545.00
Medford street, between the Fitchburg Railroad and Cambridge line,	1,270.00
Washington street, from Charlestown line to Tufts street,	6,305.00
Paid Middlesex Horse Railroad Company towards removing track into the centre of Washington street,	2,833.00
School street, from Highland Avenue to Milk street, .	1,590.00
Webster, between Cross and Glen streets, . . .	539.00
School, between Medford street and Broadway, . .	613.00
Twenty-eight cesspools have been constructed the past season, at a cost of about,	2,000.00
Paid Franklin Meade on account of contract for crushing stones,	2,500.00

The expenditures upon Washington street may seem large to those unacquainted with the circumstances, but when it is understood that the Richardson survey widened and straightened the street, and in making the repairs, we had to fill the widening from one and a half, to two and a half feet deep; the cost will not appear excessive. This widening covers about one half the width of the street, and could not well be deferred.

General repairs have been made in all parts of the town, from time to time, as occasion required. In making repairs, it has been the intention of your Committee to give precedence to the most urgent cases.

One team has been constantly employed in patching streets, and cleaning cesspools, and we are satisfied that a larger force might be employed to advantage in this particular direction. The amount of labor performed upon our streets the past season, has largely exceeded that of any previous year. The result is before the citizens of the town, and we hope it will meet their approbation. Your committee have endeavored, that the repairs upon the roads should be performed in a permanent, and satisfactory manner. Special attention has been given to the principal main thoroughfares, and the process of macadamizing, (which is the only substantial, and practical method, of building roads capable of sustaining the large amount of heavy travel constantly passing over them) has been conducted as nearly upon scientific principles, as circumstances would admit.

It has been suggested, that some system of under-drainage should be devised for the removal of the surface water from our principal streets, but the construction of sewers which has wisely been commenced, furnishes cess-pool drainage which is superior to any method of under-drainage that can be adopted.

EDGE STONES.

The number of feet of edge stones set during the past season, is two thousand and eighty-three feet, at a cost of about fifteen hundred dollars. But little interest has been manifested during the year in this important branch of street improvement. This work is entirely dependent upon the action of the abutters, and is therefore an uncertain expense. By a vote of the town, the Selectmen are instructed to set all edge stones asked for; but it is to be presumed, however, that they have some discretionary power in the matter, as otherwise they might be called upon to make expenditures to an unlimited amount. It is desirable that a reasonable amount should be set each year, especially on streets having sewers, so that the gutters may be paved, for the conveyance of water.

STONE CRUSHING.

The removal of the Union Horse Railway track into the centre of Milk street being under consideration, and the Board not deeming it necessary or desirable to make any essential change in the grade of the street, it became apparent to your Committee that only a thin layer of macadam would be required to grade the street after the track was laid. Therefore some material uniformly broken and more durable than blue ledge stone, seemed desirable. To obtain granite chips was found too expensive, no alternative was left but crushed field stone, and a contract was made with Franklin Meade, to crush three thousand yards to be used in making repairs on Milk street. This trial will give the town an opportunity to thoroughly test the value of crushed granite, as compared with blue ledge stone. For top dressing, filling cuts, and making slight repairs, crushed stone makes much neater, and more durable work; the material being finer, and the pieces of more uniform size.

GENERAL REMARKS.

In conclusion, your Committee earnestly recommend a liberal appropriation for Highways, and would urge the necessity of continuing the policy of making repairs upon the principal main thoroughfares, until thoroughly and permanently repaired. Beacon street, Mystic Avenue, portions of Broadway and Milk street require repairs, that should be made as early in the spring as possible, and on no account permitted long to remain, in their present imperfect and unsatisfactory condition. Linwood street and Medford, from Washington to Milk street are at times almost impassible ; it is the intention of your Committee to grade and macadamize both during the winter. Drainage, being an important element in the maintenance of our streets, advantage should be taken of the numerous sewers constructed the past season, by an increase of cesspools of adequate capacity, within equal and uniform distances, thereby relieving the street of the surface water, and at the same time preventing the sewers becoming filled with sand. Soon as the main streets are put in proper condition, the cross streets, over which there is heavy travel, leading from one principal avenue to another, should be put in order.

Following these, side-walks from one principal point of centre, to another, should be constructed, in different sections of the town, thus contributing to the general convenience of the citizens, and improving in beauty and usefulness, our Highways.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SEWERS.

Much importance has been attached to the matter of inaugurating a matured system of sewerage throughout the Town, adapted to the peculiar formation of its territory and the somewhat complex system, or rather want of system, of streets. A large portion of the most-popu-ous districts has been carefully surveyed, and outline maps have been drawn showing the courses of the principal drains projected as requisite to accommodate the various sections. A general plan has thus been presented and confirmed and established by subsequent partial execution, which determines the several outlets through which all the sewers must be made to discharge.

The step thus adopted, though bold in character and weighty in consequences, is taken in the right direction; for it must be evident on a moment's reflection that no system of small sewers can be made available for house-rainage without duly providing for the outlets: and it will also appear that an early and large expenditure in the construction of Trunk conduits must be made, imposing a large burden upon the town, in meeting its proper share of the cost.

Both the general plan devised and the particulars as to depth and other characteristics of construction have been established only by a complex and laborious study: each separate question involves in its settlement other cases, and sometimes this is in a very remote manner and far from obvious. Sometimes conflicting considerations are to be harmonized or compromised. The task of securing the largest immediate benefit coupled with the greatest present economy is a case where conflicting interests cannot be harmonized, and compromise is the only mode of action left possible. It need hardly be said that the Engineer employed to furnish the project of a system has been guided, not to say governed, by a great variety of facts. He has attempted to secure the immediate benefit, the present economy, and still beyond this the permanent utility of each portion of work constructed. The present and future condition of the highways in which these sewers are to be maintained, the streets that are yet to be opened, the water areas that are yet to be reclaimed, and a variety of far less obvious matters are have their weight in the inquiry.

The general "Map of Drainage" and the two "District Maps" referred to in the last Annual Report, all prepared by Edward Frost, Esq., C. E., from surveys executed under his supervision by the order of this Board, embody in permanent form the outlines and the ruling features of the Sewerage System now growing into existence. We are assured by him that it meets the chief requirements and harmonizes with reasonable success the conflicting conditions under which we are working. We consider that it is a safe and reliable guide, and proper to be invariably consulted when we seek to determine in what direction the sewerage funds shall be applied. It is not so rigid as to be deficient in adaptability, nor on the other hand so lax and vague as to fail of affording a guide and rule. It has proved elastic enough to meet some temporary necessities by the partial progress already attained towards its construction, but this circumstance scarcely detracts from the urgency, and certainly not from the confidence, with which we urge upon our successors and fellow citizens the growing and imperative need of its further prosecution growing out of the dependence of all real estate values within the town upon the condition of this great question, and from a pecuniary point of view, if from no other.

Sewers have been built in the following named streets and of the length herein designated.

Total length of Sewers built in 1870, 18,380 feet.

The plans and profiles by which the work was constructed will indicate the locations, depths and lengths of the several sewers, also the sizes, shapes and materials of their construction.

The whole cost of the Sewers constructed as appears from the various reports,	$49,304.91
The whole amount of assessment,	32,028.52

The matter of assessment has been one of much perplexity. The Statutes does not lay down any rule except that the parties benefited shall pay a proportional part of the charge, certified by the Selectmen, the party feeling himself aggrieved having the right to appeal to a jury. Much pains has been taken to render the assessments as just as possible, and much difficulty has been encountered from causes essentially unavoidable.

First: The Board have to determine what share, any, the town shall assume, then the party assessed interested to make his own tax as small as possible. When the sewers are small, the difficulty in a measure or wholly disappears. The rules of other towns and cities in this regard, so far as any have been adopted have been examined and are found to possess no great uniformity, and our own experience has not yet sufficiently supplied us the data for the adoption of any distinct rule of universal application.

Second: The application of a uniform rule to individual cases has been found difficult when from the situation of the premises the benefit to be derived is small, when the sewer is not available to the estate, or when the sewer is not immediately needed or required in the estimation of the owner.

The action of the Board thus becomes one of great delicacy, and liable to encounter much sharp criticism, not to say opposition. Their position is not a pleasant one, but their duties however conscientiously discharged are frequently subjected to much severe comment. This is quite natural, and not without its proper and salutary influence. The objections urged by various parties have been carefully considered, and in many instances the force acknowledged. A few years experience, it is to be hoped, will obviate many of the difficulties hitherto regarded as serious and perplexing.

PROPOSITIONS FOR THE COMING YEAR.

By inspecting the map of the Broadway District it will be observed that several of the open drains and water courses have been diverted into the large Trunk sewer in Middlesex street, thereby relieving the respective neighborhood of nuisances and certain estates from easements more or less impairing their value and availability for building purposes. This relief alone amply compensates the large outlay. There yet remains in this vicinity one other open drain extending from Cutter street through private land, and crossing Glen and Rush streets, to Cross street; at this point emptying into the sewer constructed during the year now closing. Upon this open drain a large portion of East Somerville depends, and this becomes an increasing cause of complaint to parties adjoining. The nuisance may readily be removed either by diverting the drain through Glen to Brook street, and through Brook to Cross street, together with a southward extension of the Cross street sewer to meet the same, or by carrying it into Broadway and so westerly to meet the latter at a lower point. This improvement is very earnestly recommended.

Your Committee desire to call the attention of the Board and the inhabitants of the town to the plan for the relief of the District south of the Fitchburg Railroad. It is proposed to build a sewer at an early day nearly parallel with the Railroad through a private street already partially laid out, and which also may be required for the proper accommodation of the public travel.

This work operating jointly with that already constructed in Milk street will relieve the Fitchburg Railroad of a large amount of water and filth now flowing in open ditches along their track, and will afford suitable drainage for a large area of land heretofore very wet and unhealthy, and quite unfit in its present condition to be occupied with dwellings. Although your Committee do not wish to unduly press their views, or to seem to dictate the action of any future Board, they cannot but feel it incumbent upon them to invite the inhabitants of the town, especially those in this section, as well as our successors in office, to a careful consideration of this particular proposition.

The Perkins and Mt. Pleasant street sewer is provided with a temporary outlet of discharge through a private sewer emptying upon the territory of the Boston and Maine Railroad Corporation. It was the intention of the Board to prolong this sewer across Broadway and private land to Mystic Avenue: sinking and enlarging a small portion of the Mystic Avenue drain to a proper depth and size. The lateness of the season and the absence of some of the proprietors of lands through which this extension must be carried, rendered it impracticable to do the present year, but it is hoped that another year will see it accomplished.

The outlet or trunk sewer for the Broadway district has been constructed to a point in Middlesex street 40 feet northwardly from Broadway. The plan of sewerage contemplates extending at a future time across the marsh to Mystic Avenue, thence to Mystic River, this proposed extension being for a distance of about 2300 feet. The entire construction of the work will not be immediately required, several years may well be taken for its completion, building each year such portion thereof as circumstances may require. It will become immediately important however, that a sufficient width of land be taken under the Statutes of the Commonwealth, or otherwise bought from the owners, on which to establish the line indicated. By the formation of a street from Broadway to Mystic Avenue upon the desired route, a double purpose will be accomplished, as a large tract of land, otherwise of but little value, will become a developed and available property.

A proper outlet is desired to be built on Medford reet, to be arranged in conjunction with the new abutments and bridge that is likely to be provided in lieu of the present. Many concurring reasons demand that this arrangement be accomplished without delay.

There is urgent occasion for immediately providing sewerage for Summer street from School street to Union square, securing thereby an opportunity to drain the estates on Putnam and Prescott streets, whose need of this accommodation is very considerably felt. As a temporary arrangement, this Summer street line may be made to discharge into the line already carried through Union Square.

The intercepting sewer in Cross street, which occupies a very important place in the operations by which the drainage of a very large district is to be accomplished, could be soon extended to the point where it will intersect the natural water-course near Oliver, late Broome street, and if practicable, in such manner as to command the flood water that sometimes chokes the ditches and covers the tracks of the Boston & Lowell Railroad, in which case the Railroad Company will undoubtedly liberally contribute to the expense.

Perhaps it is hardly necessary to say that the labor of attending to the construction of sewers during the last year has been much greater than ever before. The want of a suitable superintendent has been seriously felt by the Board, and as the work and care of sewers must necessarily increase from year to year, this want becomes the more pressing. There should be some person whose exclusive duty it should be to have a direct and supervisory charge of sewers in connection with the Superintendent of streets. The large cesspools emptying into the various sewers require vigilant care, if their usefulness to the streets would be perfectly realized; certain requirements or regulations should be adopted, so that these cesspools at stated periods, and otherwise if necessary, may be examined and cleaned.

In closing, the question of a thorough and adequate system of sewerage, and its bearing upon health, convenience, utility, condition of streets, and improvements of lands, and a judicious economy is respectfully submitted to the consideration of our fellow citizens.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RAILWAYS AND BRIDGES.

The work of reconstructing that portion of the Middlesex Horse Railway, in the centre of Milk street, between Union Square and Elm street, was the first business which occupied the attention of your committee, and an arrangement was made with the Union Railway Company to rebuild said Railway in the centre of said street, between the points above named. Subsequently the question of laying a sewer in the centre of Milk street came up, and it having been decided to build the sewer, prevented the plan of rebuilding the Railway track before next Spring. Your committee fully appreciated the importance of building a sewer before the track was placed in the centre of the street, but much regret that the work prevented consummating the plan of relaying of the Railway track the present season.

That portion of the Middlesex Horse Railroad Company's track lying between Charlestown line and Tufts street, on Washington street, was removed and a substantial track was built in the centre of said street, between the points above named, the distance being about nineteen hundred feet. The great improvement caused by rebuilding the above piece of track in the centre of the street, must show to all citizens the necessity of having all our Horse Railway tracks placed in the centre of our streets at the earliest practicable time.

The efforts which have been made by your Committee to cause the removal of a portion of the track of the Somerville and Medford Horse Railway Company on Main street, having failed to cause its removal, legal proceedings were instituted against the Company, and which are now pending. Although now too late in the season to do the work of removing said track, your Committee feel that arrangements will be made before the official year closes, so that the plan of removing said track can be done early in the spring.

Upon the petition of R. A. Demmon and others for re-locating that portion of the track of the Middlesex Horse Railroad Company between Union Square and Cherry street, action was taken on said petition, and legal proceedings have been made to cause a new location for said track in the centre of streets over which it may pass.

The Boston & Lowell Railroad Company having built a branch from their main track near Central Street to the Arlington branch of the Fitchburg Railroad Company's track, had, of necessity, to cross over several of our streets, viz.: Lowell and Cedar streets, Willow Avenue, and Grove, Elm, and Holland streets. The season was so far advanced before the track was laid that the rails could not be properly leveled at Holland street, or the work of grading any of the streets completed this season.

The Railroad Company intend erecting two depots on this branch, which will afford to citizens in that neighborhood additional facilities for quick despatch to Boston, and which will partially remunerate for crossing so many streets. The President of said Company has assured your Committee that said streets shall be suitably and satisfactorily graded as early as practicable in the spring. The track across Holland street is five inches above the grade intended.

The President of said Company has also assured the Committee that the bridge on Cedar street over their road shall be rebuilt and widened next spring. Your Committee feel that this is an important matter, and that it should have early attention. The present structure is a frail one, being at an angle with the line of the street, and too narrow to admit of teams passing each other abreast.

The Committee have arranged with the President of the Fitchburg Railroad Company to rebuild the bridge on Washington street over their road. Said bridge is to be straightened on the south-easterly side and widened to forty-five feet; the approaches and abutments are to be extended to a corresponding width. This work will be commenced at the earliest practicable time.

The question of a legal and protected crossing on Dane street, across said Company's track, is now resting with the County Commissioners, and action will soon be taken in the matter. A safe crossing here is much needed, as there is now only one protected crossing over said railroad, between Washington street (near Union Square) and Beacon street, (near Porter's Station); the distance being nearly one mile and a quarter.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON POLICE.

One of the most important elements of our Town Government is a well organized Police Department.

On entering upon the duties of organizing the police force of the town for the year, the propriety of increasing the number of night watchmen was duly considered, and the Committee was unanimous in the opinion that the police force should keep pace with the rapid increase of population.

That the good reputation of the town, the security of its property, and the safety of its citizens demanded additional police force.

The result of the Committee's deliberations was reported to the Board ; and the Selectmen gave instructions to have the town new districted, and two additional officers appointed. The town is now divided into seven districts, each of which has a regularly appointed night watchman, who is held accountable for the disorders that may occur, and the crimes that may be committed, until he shall bring the offenders to punishment according to law.

In order to secure the services of good, true, and faithful men to take charge of these districts, your Committee recommended to the Board that the night watchmen of Somerville be paid three dollars a day for their services ; which recommendation was adopted by the Board.

By raising their pay dignity is given the position ; the officers are enable to maintain themselves and their families respectably without engaging in other occupation, thus giving them an opportunity to devote their whole time and talents to the service of the town.

The place of confinement for persons under arrest, known as the "Lock-up," ought to be enlarged. Before hot weather returns, some plan should be devised to furnish further accommodations for this department of our police.

For details of this department you are referred to the report of the Secretary of Police which follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FIRE DEPARTMENT.

SOMERVILLE, Dec. 31, 1870.

With the date of this Report closes a year of remarkable exemption from losses by fire.

The fire department of the town is in good working order; and to a casual observer it might seem that no changes are required to make it more efficient; but the rapid growth of the town, with the consequent increase of the number of buildings, and the increased danger of fire, from the tendency to crowd buildings together as land rises in value, renders it necessary, in the opinion of the Committee, that some further means should be provided to increase the usefulness of the fire department; among the most important of which are the following:

First. A more suitable building for the accommodation of the Company and apparatus of the hook and ladder truck.

Second. A more suitable house, and an alarm-bell thereon, for the use of the Winter Hill hose company; as, in case of fire in that vicinity, the members of the company are dependent for an alarm upon the bell on the Forster school house, which is altogether too remote from their present house.

Third. An alarm bell in the Spring Hill district.

The Committee believe that the last two measures, if adopted, will answer the purpose for an alarm in case of fire, until the time, not far distant, when a fire-alarm telegraph will be necessary.

For information more in detail concerning the Fire Department, the citizens are referred to the Annual Report of the Engineer.

ROBERT A. VINAL,
JOHN G. HALL,
CYRUS F. CROSBY,

Committee on Fire Department.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen :

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the usual custom I submit the Annual Report of the strength and condition of the Fire Department, with a few suggestions of improvements which are much needed.

STEAM FIRE ENGINE.

This branch of the department is of the utmost importance in our town, much more so than in many towns for the reason that our town is blessed with such a large amount of elevated ground, which in many places is very thickly covered with wooden buildings, and the pressure on the water pipes is so light in many places, that it is of no service without the aid of a steamer. We are often compelled to force water a great distance, and should a fire break out in some of these localities, one steamer would be insufficient to cope with the fiery element. I would therefore recommend the purchase of another steamer to your consideration, with the hope that it will meet with your approval, and be adopted by the inhabitants. As the town is growing very rapidly, and is in many places closely settled, every one will see that we are very liable at any time to have one of those destructive fires which have visited other places, and if we do not provide ourselves with apparatus to help defend our homes, we should not expect that our neighbors will do it for us. And although they stand ready at any time to lend a helping hand, yet it is not fair to expect them to do it all.

WATER.

I would again call your attention to this important subject with a hope that measures may be taken to have a better supply in some localities. On the south side of the Fitchburg Railroad there is a large territory almost wholly without a supply, and the buildings are of such a nature that should a fire break out at any time in this region, we may expect it to be very destructive, and should this happen, we are poorly prepared to battle with the fire. There are other localities very poorly supplied, and I would recommend that hydrants be placed on the pipes in every street at intervals not to exceed five hundred feet.

NEW HOSE CARRIAGE.

It was also voted to procure a new hose carriage and hose to take the place of the Steamer in its present house when the steamer should be removed to its new quarter. This carriage is nearing completion, and will add much to the strength of the department.

HOSE TOWER.

I would again call your attention to the subject of a tower in connection with the present steamer house which is to be occupied by the new hose carriage, as I think it will be needed in connection with the new tower which is being erected with the new house, which tower will not accommodate all the hose of the department.

NEW HOUSE FOR HOSE Co. No. 2.

Your Honorable Board are aware that the house occupied by this Company does not belong to the town, they being tenants at will and liable at any time to be warned to leave the premises. The company are poorly accommodated, the room being small, and very cold. They are dissatisfied with their situation.

It has been some trouble to keep the company reconciled to their quarters with the hope that they would have a new house, and I hope you will give it your consideration and favor.

TELEGRAPH ALARM.

This is one of the most important subjects for the citizens to consider. Some means are needed by which an alarm of fire can be given to all the inhabitants at once, thereby saving that delay which is occasioned by the present mode of giving an alarm. I would again refer to our neighbors, Charlestown and Cambridge for information on this subject.

STRENGTH OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The Department consists at the present time of Steam Engine No. 1, which is at present located on Washington street, and is in thorough repair. In connection with this Steamer there is a four-wheeled hose carriage, and a company consisting of an Engineer and Driver of Steamer, and driver of hose carriage, who are permanently employed, an assistant Engineer and company of nine men who do duty only in case of fire.

JOHN E. WOOL HOSE Co. No. 1.

This is a four wheel carriage of the Philadelphia pattern, drawn by hand, carries six hundred feet of hose and is in good repair. The company attached to this carriage consists of a Foreman, first and second assistants and twelve members, none of whom are permanently employed.

WINTER HILL HOSE Co. No. 2.

This company have in their charge a two wheeled carriage carrying five hundred feet of hose. The company was organized about one year since, and has proved a great addition to the strength of the Department. The company consists of fifteen men, employed only at fires.

PRESCOTT HOOK AND LADDER Co. No. 1.

Since my last Report there has been a company organized for the care of this carriage. It consists of Foreman, first and second assistant foreman, and nine ladder men, on duty at fires only.

SPRING HILL HOSE Co. No. 3.

This carriage is still out of the department, it being in charge of a citizen of Spring Hill. I would suggest that it be placed in charge of the Department, as it is of no service to the town in its present situation.

HOSE.

There is in the Department at the present time 4400 feet of leather hose, a portion of which is old and nearly useless. By vote of the Town last April, the Selectmen were authorized to procure 2000 feet of new hose, which s being made, and will be ready when the new carriage is completed, making a total of 6400 feet.

DUTIES OF THE DEPARTMENT DURING THE PAST YEAR.

We have been called out 33 times, 19 times to fires and alarms in Somerville; 6 times to fires in Charlestown; 6 times to Cambridge; 1 to Medford; 1 to Brookline. It will be seen that we have had 13 less alarms than last year, which is a credit to the town, as the number of fires and alarms in some of our neighboring cities and towns have increased.

Our loss has been comparatively small, the largest being that of the Metallic Compression Casting Co., whose loss was increased by the hose being cut by a train of cars on the Fitchburg Railroad. In almost every case the insurance has more than covered the loss. The labor has been faithfully performed by the companies, and I think we can say our Department compares favorably with any in the State.

I would take this opportunity to thank the Board of selectmen generally, the Committee on Fire Department from the Board, my associates in office, the Members of the Department, the Police Force, and all others who have in any way assisted me in my labors.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DAVID A. SANBORN, JR.

Chief Engineer of Somerville Fire Department.

REPORT ON COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

The Claim of Massachusetts General Hospital pending at the writing of the last Annual Report was decided adversely to the town by the Supreme Judicial Court, the tax having been decided illegal by that tribunal. A settlement however was made in accordance with the vote of the town, by which the town is to refrain from taxing the Hospital lands in future, till other use should be made of the same; than the present, and the town is not to be required to refund the money or taxes already paid.

The suit of Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett, and that of Mr. B. F. Richardson, for damages sustained on Broadway, have both been settled by arbitration.

The suit of Mrs. Brooks for damages alleged to have been sustained from a fall in the trench of the water works has been twice tried, the jury disagreeing at the first trial, and rendering a verdict of $8000 against the town at the second trial. Exceptions were taken to the ruling of the Court, and will be argued during the present winter. The defence of this action is assumed by the Somerville Mystic Water Committee, who hold Mr. Campbell, the Contractor, responsible under his agreement. The suit of Mr. Campbell is still pending, and trial is postponed to await the result of the former action.

Miss Ada A. Byrnes has also brought a suit against the town for damages alleged to have been sustained in Union Square at the estate of Hill, Walker, & Co., and is now pending in the Supreme Judicial Court.

Hugh Mullin has also brought a suit against the town for damages alleged to have been sustained from falling into the water trench. This suit is defended under the direction of the Water Committee, who hold Mr. Campbell responsible.

A claim was made against the town by Geo. C. Gaul for damages sustained by running into a trench, dug by some one on Washington street, without the consent or knowledge of the Selectmen. The Board found it difficult to fix the responsibility upon any one with reasonable certainty, and settled the claim by the payment of one hundred dollars, to avoid a lawsuit. Mention is made of this matter particularly to show the residents the town, the necessity of obtaining permission before digging up the streets, that the Superintendent may be cognizant of the fact, and erect suitable protection for public travel. It must be well-known that the Law forbids digging up the street, without permission from the proper authorities, and imposes severe penalties against offenders. It is to be hoped in future no similar offence will be committed.

NELSON HOWE,
CHAS. S. LINCOLN,
Committee on Claims.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON GAS.

Your Committee respectfully report that new posts have been erected as near the places petitioned for as the public good would allow. The constantly increasing number of our tax-paying citizens makes the subject of "more light" on our streets — whether accepted or not — more and more important. And for the information of all our citizens, we would state that on the deposit of $30 with the Selectmen, which sum pays for the post, they will, as soon as possible, cause the same to be set and lighted at the expense of the town.

The whole number of lamps now lighted is 219, of which 26 are lighted with fluid.

CYRUS F. CROSBY,
FRANCIS HOUGHTON.

DEC. 31, 1870.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Selectmen for the last two years, have been constituted by vote of the town, a Board of Health. Its duties have commanded more or less attention, although the season has not been marked by unusual sickness, and no contagious diseases have prevailed, and the town may well be congratulated on its general sanitary condition.

With a bountiful supply of water and a matured system of sewerage, now partially complete, an important step has been taken towards protecting the inhabitants against diseases and epidemics. Open drains and stagnant water are disappearing, and it can safely be predicted that by perseverance in this direction, a few years will entirely relieve the town from this great source of complaint and cause of sickness. This subject should never for a moment be lost sight of by our citizens. A very great complaint has been made during the past year, from the large number of swine kept and maintained in our midst. It may not generally be known to what extent this business is carried on, and the causes that operate to increase it. Our neighboring cities have enacted ordinances prohibiting the keeping of swine within their respective limits, and have thus compelled owners of swine either to change their residence or occupy tenements near the town line, and build and fence their pig-pens within the limits of Somerville, subjecting its inhabitants in their vicinity to much annoyance and discomfort. The population of the town is becoming so dense that stringent measures should be adopted, that this and kindred sources of complaint may be removed. Suitable by-laws should be adopted at an early day to avert this growing nuisance in our town. The "Swine boys" deserve a passing notice. Quite a trade is driven by a large number of boys in the collection of swill, and our citizens are beginning to complain of the frequent and untimely visits from those engaged in this traffic. It is due to our citizens that some measures should be adopted by which the work of collecting swill and house-offal should be subject to proper and official regulation, either by requiring license to be granted to a few persons ons, by districts, or by the town's taking the entire charge of the matter.

Slaughter-houses, Pork and Lard factories, are questions to be considered. When? where? and to what extent, are they to exist? Shall they be erected and maintained near or near our main thoroughfares, and in the midst of a crowded population? And are they to be permitted to empty their filth and offal into the streams of our town with impunity? And will the increase of taxable property compensate for the many annoyances and unhealthy influences of such institutions? Does our town become any more attractive, wholesome, or desirable, as a place of resort or residence? The most important avenue, so far as the amount of travel is concerned, to our town, takes the traveller through just such scenes as are here described. How long shall they continue? Other matters might properly be dwelt upon. Vaults, sink-drains, stagnant water, low lands, accumulated filth, and personal uncleanness, are all frightful causes of disease, and too many pains cannot be taken to guard against the accumulation of all kind of impurities.

GENERAL REPORT.

The Reports of the several Standing Committees of the Board treat the subjects to which they relate with so much ability and completeness that little remains to be said in conclusion.

There are, however, some matters of general interest and importance, not included in these Reports, to which your attention is respectfully invited.

TOWN STABLE.

The subject of building a town stable on the town land was brought before the town at the March meeting; and that meeting instructed the Selectmen to procure plans, with estimates of the cost of building a suitable town stable, and a tenement for the men who have charge of the horses, and report at the April meeting.

When the article relating to this subject was reached, in the April warrant, a motion to indefinitely postpone the subject prevailed, before the Selectmen had an opportunity to submit the plans and estimates.

At present the town has nine^s horses constantly at work on its highways. Six of these horses are stabled in the town barn, and three in a shed adjoining, where stalls were temporarily fitted up for the summer.

There are about thirty (30) miles of accepted streets and sixteen (16) miles of non-accepted, in this town. Many of these streets are opened to lay gas and water pipes, and to construct sewers. When the trenches opened for these purposes, are filled, it is not often that the streets are left firm and solid as before; thus, a great deal of extra labor is required to make repairs on such streets. This adds very much to the general labor upon our streets, and makes the necessity for additional teams more pressing.

A large number of cesspools have been constructed along the line of the sewers; and all these have to be cleaned out once a month, and oftener if necessary, during the spring, summer, and autumn.

These cesspools must be kept clear, or the sewers will fill, and their efficiency be destroyed.

From the foregoing, it must be evident to all, that the street force is insufficient to do all the extra work, and keep the streets in an acceptable condition.

During the past year, quite a number of extra teams have been constantly employed on our streets. This plan must be continued, unless the number of teams is increased. It is for the town to decide whether additional teams shall be purchased, or the present system continued.

WIDENING STREETS.

The attention of the Selectmen has, at different times, been called to the subject of widening streets; but thus far no streets have been widened.

In most instances, many of the abutters living along the lines of such streets have objected to the widening, through fear that they should be injured in their property by the application of the Betterment Law.

The widening of some of the more important streets and thoroughfares cannot much longer be delayed; for, as the population becomes more dense, and travel increases, to meet its increasing wants, additional space must be given.

In all cases, where the public convenience requires the widening of streets, we would recommend that a liberal policy be pursued toward the abutters along the lines of such streets; so as to encourage the widening, while land is cheap, and it can be done at a comparatively small cost to the town.

The advantage of wide streets are so apparent, and so well understood by the inhabitants, as to need no words of commendation from us.

WATERING STREETS.

As the town grows, new wants are manifested. During the last very hot and dry summer the subject of watering our streets has been often and earnestly discussed by those who live along the lines of the streets most frequented.

Street material kept moist retains its place much better than when it is allowed to become perfectly dry. Hardened by moisture and travel, it offers more successful resistance to the constant wear and tear to which it is subjected. As its power of resistance is increased, the cost of repairs is lessened. This being true, is it not for the interest of the town to encourage the watering of some of our principal streets by contributing a per cent of the cost?

ROOMS FOR TOWN OFFICERS.

The inconvenience of having the several departments of our town government located in different sections of the town, so widely separated, is augmented, as the business of the town increases.

If the New High School Building is erected on the location now selected, when the present building is vacated we recommend its removal to a more suitable location on the town land, near where it now stands; and that its external architecture be modernized, by adding a few modest ornaments, so that the general appearance of this building shall moderately correspond with other buildings erected on this land.

This done, have a suitable "Lock-up," constructed in the basement; and retain the rooms as now divided and finished, in the upper part of the building, for the use of the Selectmen, Town Clerk, Treasurer, Collector, School Committee, Somerville Mystic Water Board, Assessors, Overseers of Poor, and Town Surveyor.

The town will then have under one roof, all its records, its maps, its valuable papers of every description, which may, with ease and convenience, be consulted as occasion may require. Thus facilitating in a great degree the business of the several departments, with comparatively a trifling expense; and deferring for many years the necessity of building a Town House, or City Hall.

APPROPRIATIONS.

The Selectmen have endeavored to keep as nearly within the Appropriations made as was consistent with a due regard for the best interests of the town.

When the sum was named for Miscellaneous Account, in asking for appropriations, no provision was made for paying damages awarded by the Committee on Claims. By referring to their Report, it will be seen that several claims have been settled, and the damage charged to this account, which is a sort of waste basket, into which are thrown all the bills not otherwise provided for; and in this case, the appropriation has been largely exceeded.

In all cases where settlements have been made, it seemed to be so clearly for the interest of the town to settle, and save the expense of litigation, that the Board felt warranted in using from the available funds in the Treasury of the town, and charge to this account.

INDEXING RECORDS.

During the past year, the Records of the town, and of the Selectmen, have been indexed; so that any information, relating to any subject, that has become a matter of record, since the incorporation of the town, may be referred to at any time, without delay or inconvenience.

Before this was done, not unfrequently great delay was caused by having to look through years of records, to glean therefrom, some item of information, without which, the business under consideration could not be transacted understandingly.

This much needed and very laborious work has been performed by our ever faithful Town Clerk, Chas. E. Gilman, who has spent months of patient labor in perfecting the system.

In future, it is intended that the indexing shall keep pace with the records ; for no records are complete without an index.

STREET BOOK.

A book has been purchased, in which are entered the names of all the streets ; their length, width, and their junctions with other streets.

SEWER BOOK.

A book has been purchased, which is to contain a copy of all contracts for building sewers, their size, cost of construction, assessments, and any other information relating to the subject that may be deemed of importance.

APPOINTMENT OF COLLECTOR OF TAXES.

A vacancy, in the office of Collector of Taxes, was made by the death of Benjamin Randall. The duty of designating his successor devolved upon the Selectmen, and they appointed Thomas Cunningham to fill the vacancy.

In making this appointment the offices of Treasurer and Collector were united in one man. The question of uniting these offices has been considered, at some of the preliminary meetings, held to nominate Town Officers, before the annual election, and the decisions have been adverse ; but, when those decisions were made, the belief was quite general that the objection was not so much to the offices being united, as it was to that of depriving an old and highly esteemed resident of an office which he desired to retain.

The Selectmen thought it would be generally more satisfactory to the citizens, to place this important trust in the hands of one who had acceptably served the town many years, than to take a new and untried man.

A statement of the account of the late collector with the town, will be found in the Report of the Auditing Committee.

TOWN LAND.

The purchase of the "Sleeper Land" on Central Hill may be regarded as one of the important transactions of the year; whether it is considered in a pecuniary point of view, or in its bearings upon the future growth and prosperity of the town.

This purchase, definitely settled the question of a recognized Centre. This question being no longer in dispute, plans for the future development of the town may be made with especial reference to this fact.

The rapid rise in the price of land, throughout the town, which so quickly followed the consummation of this purchase, clearly indicates the interest felt by the inhabitants in this matter, and shows their estimate of its importance.

The town now has suitable grounds upon which to erect such public buildings as may be required for town purposes.

The beautiful monument erected by the citizens to perpetuate the memory of our "Fallen Heroes," is now situated in an out of the way place, with unattractive surroundings, where it is seldom seen, unless it be by those who are personally interested in the departed whose remains are there deposited. Thus losing to the young, and the public generally, the valuable lessons of self-sacrifice, which the true patriot is required to practice in times of war.

The custom of the age in which we live, forcibly suggests the propriety of placing this monument, at the earliest practicable moment, upon this lot of land, a portion of which, has, by its revolutionary reminiscences, been fitted and sanctified for its reception. This will add a new interest to those already clustering around this beautiful spot.

The plot of ground contains sufficient area for all practical uses, and has some to spare for ornamentation and we would respectfully suggest that the town appoint a Committee, composed of gentlemen of taste and leisure to consider, and bring forward a plan for laying out these grounds.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

BUILDING ENGINE HOUSE.

Plans for a new Engine House have been drawn by S. S. Woodcock of this town, and adopted by the Selectmen.

A contract has been made with R. T. Glidden for its erection, on the town land, on Central Hill, at a cost of fifteen thousand nine hundred dollars.

The work is progressing as fast as circumstances will allow; the foundation has been laid, the walls constructed, the roof covered, and it is expected that the building will be finished, ready for occupancy, early in the spring.

ALEWIFE BROOK BRIDGE.

At the April town meeting, an appropriation of twenty-five hundred dollars was made for rebuilding this bridge, and for widening and grading the street in connection with the town of Arlington, according to a plan drawn by A. F. and N. N. Sargent.

A contract was made with Bernard McCarroll to build, of granite, an arched bridge forty-three feet in width; also to build side-walls against the embankments, cap them with granite, and set a railing on the cap stones, fill and grade the street according to plan, for the sum of six thousand dollars. The town of Somerville to pay twenty-two hundred and eight dollars, as per agreement with the town of Arlington.

This work has been completed, except setting the railing, stoning and gravelling the travelled way between the side-walls. It will be finished this winter, and accepted when it is made satisfactory to the towns of Arlington and Somerville.

SUMMER STREET EXTENSION.

The East end of Summer street has been built by Bernard McCarroll as laid out by the County Commissioners, at a cost of four thousand seven hundred ninety-four dollars, (4,794.00,) according to the plan drawn by A. F. and N. N. Sargent. This portion of the street has been accepted by the Selectmen, and opened to public travel.

The West end is now under contract to build at a cost of four thousand seven hundred ninety-five dollars (4,795.00.) This portion of the street will, undoubtedly, be finished during the winter. When it is completed to the satisfaction of the Selectmen, it will be opened to the public.

HIGHLAND AVENUE.

The subject of widening and extending Highland Avenue is in the hands of a Special Committee, and a report, with plans, will be submitted at the next town meeting, agreeably to a vote of the town.

CORPORATE SEAL.

The subject of procuring a design for a Corporate Seal is in the hands of a Special Committee; and a design will be submitted to the town, for its consideration, at the March meeting.

CLOSING REMARKS.

We congratulate the inhabitants of the town upon its rapid growth in wealth and population ; upon the general good health that has prevailed in all parts of the town ; upon its freedom from fires, and upon the promptness and efficiency of its Fire Department ; upon the security of persons and property, naturally resulting from the influence of a quiet, industrious, and law abiding people, and from the united and untiring efforts of an ever watchful Police ; and upon the progress, thus far made, in public improvements essential to the present and future prosperity of the town.

The laying of gas pipes, the introduction of pure water, the system of sewerage, and the general improvement of the streets and sidewalks, combined with its beautiful scenery, its pure and invigorating atmosphere, its fertile soil, its numerous churches, and its excellent school system, are all so many inducements to men desirous of enjoying such comforts and advantages to select homes in our beautiful town.

The growth of the town, thus far, has been healthy and legitimate ; and there is no good reason why it will not continue, if a judicious system of public improvements shall be carried out, so as to keep pace with those in other towns in the vicinity, having the same number of inhabitants.

The Superintendent is ex-officio a member of all the Committees.

At a meeting of the School Committee, held Dec. 31, 1870, it was voted, "That the Committee adopt the report submitted by the Superintendent of the public schools, and present it to their fellow citizens as the Report of this Committee."

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

GENTLEMEN OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

IN compliance with your instructions, the following Annual Report for the year 1870, is respectfully submitted.

The year just closing has been one of uninterrupted prosperity. Nothing has transpired to affect materially the harmony and efficiency of the schools.

Teachers have prosecuted their work with commendable zeal and enthusiasm. Pupils, in the various departments, have made satisfactory advancement in their studies, and have manifested their accustomed willingness to submit to all the restraints and requirements essential to the maintenance of good order, and the successful accomplishment of school work.

We can look with complacency upon the results of the year when we compare them with those of former years. But we would aim at a still higher degree of excellence.

The limits of this report must necessarily restrict us to a brief exhibit of the work of the schools, and the labor requisite to sustain their former reputation, and to render them still more meritorious.

The wants of the school are ever recurring wants. The earnest, faithful labors of any one day must be repeated with renewed zeal on each succeeding day. Now as ever, knowledge and culture are the reward of labor. They come of careful observation, patient reflection, persistent and laborious study. "There is no royal road to learning." The student of to-day must ascend by the same rugged way that was traversed by scholars of former ages.

The wisdom of the present develops but little that is new in principle. But, profiting by the mistakes no less than by the wisdom of the past, we possess more perfect systems of instruction, and may be more skilful in the application of principles long established, and should exhibit a higher type of whatever tends to elevate and improve.

The number of persons in Somerville between the ages of five and fifteen years, on the first day of May last, as ascertained by the Assessors, was 2570.

The number of pupils belonging to all the public schools in January last, was 2465, and at the beginning of the school year in September last, it was 2739, as follows :

In the High School,	165 or 6.02	per cent of the whole.
“ Grammar Schools,	666 or 24.315	per cent of the whole.
“ Sub-Gram. Schools,	682 or 24.899	per cent of the whole.
“ Primary Schools,	1226 or 44.76	per cent of the whole.

To provide for this increase, four new schools have been organized within the year, as follows :

In the Prospect Hill School House,	1
“ Jackson School House,	1
“ Lincoln School House,	1
“ Forster School House,	1

For the relief of Prospect Hill School, a Hall in its immediate vicinity, well adapted to school purposes, has been rented and furnished ; and is now occupied by the Prospect Hill Primary School. This arrangement postpones the necessity for the construction of a new school building in that locality.

At the present time there are 52 Schools. High 1, Grammar 15, Sub-Grammar 15, Primary 21.

Twenty-five per cent of these schools have been organized within the last three years.

The average annual increase of pupils for the last fifteen years, has been 100.

HIGH SCHOOL HOUSE.

At a meeting of the town held on the 12th of November last, the School Committee were authorized to furnish further High School accommodations by the erection of a new High School Building on such portion of the "town land" on Highland Avenue, as may be deemed expedient by the School Board and Selectmen in joint convention, at a cost not exceeding $60,000.

At their next regular meeting, the Board elected from their number, the following named gentlemen as a Building Committee: SAMUEL A. CARLTON, JOSHUA H. DAVIS, JOHN P. MARSHALL.

At a subsequent meeting, Prof. Marshall declined serving on the Building Committee, in consequence of contemplated absence, and Oren S. Knapp, Esq., was chosen in his place.

In accordance with the instructions of the town, the Selectmen and School Committee met in convention at the High School House, Monday evening, December 5th, and decided to locate the new building on the highest land next south of the Unitarian Church. The distance of the north end of the building not to exceed 100 feet, from the southerly boundary of the church lot.

PROSPECTIVE WANTS.

Prescott School House, with ten school rooms, contains 600 pupils. Within the limits of Prescott District there are 48 dwelling-houses in process of construction, or just completed and ready for occupying.

Prescott School cannot be relieved by a transfer of pupils to Forster School, as was proposed in our last Report, since all the school-rooms but one in Forster School House are occupied, and more than 30 dwelling-houses are being constructed in Forster District.

The demand for additional accommodations is imperative. We would therefore recommend the construction of a wooden building, containing four school-rooms, for pupils of the primary and sub-grammar grades; in the neighborhood of Cross Street, and between Pearl Street and Broadway.

TEACHERS.

The following changes have taken place in the corps of teachers, within the year.

RESIGNED.

Chas. G. Pope, Esq., for six years Principal of Forster School, resigned in September to accept the situation of Principal of Bunker Hill School, Charlestown.

Mr. Pope is highly esteemed by the Committee, and carries with him to his new sphere of labor their kindest regards.

Miss Emily M. Warren, first assistant in Forster Grammar School, a teacher of rare abilities, resigned in October.

Miss Susan M. Priest, for thirteen years, a teacher in Prescott Primary School, and Miss Ida F. Paul, teacher in Franklin Primary School, resigned at the close of the summer term.

TRANSFERRED.

Miss Caroline S. Plimpton, from Brastow primary to Prospect Hill grammar school.

Miss Anna M. Snow, from Prospect Hill grammar school to Forster grammar school.

Miss Rebecca A. Fillebrown, from Union primary school to Prospect Hill grammar school.

Miss Frances M. Gupstill, from Forster sub-grammar school to Forster grammar school.

Miss Ella L. Burbank, from Lincoln primary school to Lincoln sub-grammar school.

Miss Edith C. Long, from Forster primary school to Forster sub-grammar school.

Miss Helen E. Magoun, from Cedar Street primary school to Forster primary school.

Miss Lizzie C. Howe, from Webster primary school to Franklin primary school.

Miss Alida C. Willis, Teacher in Forster Sub-Grammar School.

“ Charlotte R. Cutter, “ “ “ Gram. “

George R. Bradford, Esq., Principal of Forster “ “

Mr. Bradford is a teacher of long and successful experience. He served the town with great acceptance as Principal of Prospect Hill School from March 1864, to May 1866. Also as Principal of Franklin School from September 1867, to February 1868.

Miss Esther S. Ross, Principal of Franklin School, died on the tenth day of November last, after a short and severe sickness.

Miss Ross commenced teaching, December 1866, in the Harvard Primary School. In September 1868, she was transferred to the Franklin Sub-Grammar School. When the Grammar School was removed from the Franklin to the Morse School House, she was appointed Principal of the Franklin School. She was ever faithful, kind and judicious; and entirely devoted to her calling. She was highly esteemed by the Committee, and greatly beloved by her pupils, and associate teachers.

For a series of years, this school has maintained a high rank among similar institutions in the Commonwealth. Its benefits to our community are beyond computation. Already many of those who have enjoyed its advantages are occupying prominent positions, and are adorning the various walks of life.

The high estimation in which it is held by the community is manifest from its constantly increasing numbers, and the liberal appropriations furnished for its maintenance, and to increase its facilities.

The influence of a well-regulated High School is not confined to those only who become members of it; but, standing as it does at the head of our Public School System, it reaches out and elevates the various schools in the lower grades, and extends to every pupil composing them.

Heretofore the opinion has prevailed that our High School with all its excellencies, was not fully meeting the demands of the community. The records of the school show that a large proportion of the pupils who enter it do not complete the course of study and graduate. This applies more especially to the boys.

Various causes contribute to this result.

Our near proximity to the city, and the inducements constantly presented for young men and lads to enter upon some active occupation, induce many of them to leave prematurely. Some, having a fondness for study, and an ardent desire to pursue it, are compelled by circumstances beyond their control to enter early upon some remunerative employment. Others, who may possess good abilities for acquiring knowledge, have not a taste for study and fondness for books, and are wanting in the needful application. Consequently the restraints of the school, and close and continuous study are exceedingly irksome to them.

Coercion, in their case, beyond certain limits, may be regarded as unwise. To compel such pupils to remain for a long period in the High School, may prove alike injurious to them and detrimental to the school. Society has a niche for such as these. They may become happy and useful citizens in the pursuit of employments adapted to their capacity, and congenial to their inclinations. Parents, doubtless, act wisely when they yield to their importunities and furnish them with employment more in harmony with their desires.

It would give us great pleasure, if all of our pupils could pursue to the end, the entire course of study prescribed for the school, and avail themselves of all the advantages furnished by our system of public instruction. Since, however, this desirable result cannot be obtained, and all cannot be induced to pursue to its completion one uniform course of instruction, we deem it wise to make such an arrangement of the studies of the school as will meet the manifest wants of the community, and secure the highest good of the greatest number. "If the mountain will not come to the Prophet, he must go to it." The High School being a public institution, supported by general taxation, should be adapted as far as practicable to the public necessities.

To meet, as far as possible, the wants of all, and to encourage a still larger number of the graduates of the Grammar Schools to avail themselves of the advantages of the High School, even though it be for a brief period only, we introduced at the commencement of the present school year, an

ENGLISH AND MERCANTILE COURSE OF STUDY.

The entire course embraces a period of four years, and those who complete it, will receive Diplomas. But, with proper restrictions, the studies of this course will be elective, and so arranged that those pupils who do not wish to complete the course, can pursue those branches which will be of the greatest practical utility to them.

All persons, whatever may be their pursuit in life, should possess a knowledge of all the branches taught in the Grammar Schools. Hence the studies of those schools should not be elective. But there comes a period when young persons exhibit a preference for some particular calling or profession, and generally their preferences are in the direction of their capabilities. These tendencies are developed earlier in some than in others, but usually they are manifest when pupils arrive at an age to enter the High School.

The ancient Philosopher, who was asked what a boy should learn when young, answered discreetly, we think, when he replied, "What he will wish to practice when he becomes a man." Therefore when the pupil enters the High School, or as soon, certainly, as his tendencies are manifest, his studies, to a certain extent, should be elective, and especially adapted to his contemplated profession or pursuit; and this adaptation should gradually become more direct as he approaches the end of his school course.

The pupil who is looking forward to a Bank or Counting-room for employment, and who has only a brief period to attend school, should devote much of his time to gaining a knowledge of Accounts, and in acquiring elegant and rapid Penmanship. Another, having a preference for the Mechanic Arts, will need a practiced eye and hand, and a thorough knowledge of the particular department of his choice. Hence, the study of Mechanics, and practise in Mechanical Drawing should absorb much of his attention. Still another, who is looking to the ocean for employment, and designs to become a ship-master, will need to be a merchant, as well as navigator. He, therefore, should devote his energies to securing a knowledge of Accounts, of Geometry, Logarithms, Trigonometry, and Astronomy.

In a regular classical course, the studies of the first year or two, are mainly preliminary and preparatory to those which are to follow. When pupils with the intentions specified, have but a brief period to attend school, it may be regarded a hardship if they are compelled to devote a large portion of that limited time to studies which are only preparatory to those they will never pursue. All this is obviated by our present arrangement.

We cannot refrain from stating in this connection, however, that it is with caution, and a degree of reluctance we make any innovation upon the regular and uniform course of study hitherto pursued in the school.

Such is our appreciation of a thorough and systematic course of training, and the incalculable benefits accruing from a careful study of the Ancient Classics, we cannot disguise our regrets that the necessity for the introduction of an English Course seems imperative.

We do not undervalue the Mathematics, the Natural Sciences, and English Literature. These all have their appropriate places, and are invaluable. But there is a grand defect in the education of those, who, from necessity or choice, have failed to enrich their minds from the fountain of classic learning. Therefore we would say to the young, omit no opportunity to secure a thorough knowledge of those ancient languages from which our own is so largely derived. The mental discipline consequent upon this acquisition is above price. A large class of faculties is improved thereby. It strengthens the memory, comparison, and judgment, quickens the perceptions, refines the taste, imparts a delicate appreciation of our own language, and secures a command of it obtained by no other means.

A valuable Microscope has been added to the Apparatus of the school, the gift of Edward Everett Edgerly.

Mr. Edgerly graduated with the class of 1863, was the second President of the High School Association, and ever manifested a deep interest in whatever was conducive to the prosperity of the school. He was highly esteemed in the community, and his early death, which occurred on the 6th day of May last, was much lamented.

The High School Association, as in former years, is sustaining a course of interesting Free Public Lectures.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

These schools are all under the direction of experienced teachers in whom we have great confidence. The work accomplished in them cannot fail to be satisfactory to all who are in any way interested in their welfare. The Annual Exhibitions in July last, were occasions of more than ordinary interest. Many of the exercises would have been creditable to pupils in the High School. The usual Annual Examination of the first class from each of the five Grammar Schools, at the close of the summer term, gave satisfactory evidence of thorough and accurate instruction.

We cannot over-estimate the importance of any department of the schools. But the Grammar Schools must ever hold a prominent place in our regard. They reach and affect the masses ; and are emphatically the school of the people.

SUB-GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

With few exceptions, the Annual Examinations of these schools realized our expectations, and gratified our wishes concerning them.

There is, however, a marked difference in the advancement of the several schools of this grade ; for which there must exist some adequate cause.

We are not inclined to attribute this difference to any disparity in the capabilities of the pupils, or to any want of effort on the part of either teachers or scholars. Possibly, some teachers discriminate, more wisely than others, between what should be thoroughly learned by the pupils, and what requires only cursory consideration. All schools, doubtless, are open to the criticism, that much needless work is done in them. Other things being the same, the best results, with the least labor, will always be secured by those teachers who most wisely select, from the voluminous text-books in the schools, what is really valuable and important to be studied.

Mental Arithmetic holds an important place among the studies of the Sub-Grammar Schools. We are not quite certain that it is always taught in the best manner. There was a time, within our recollection, when no explanations were required in the schools. Perhaps we are verging towards the other extreme, and are exacting too fine analyses from our pupils.

The tendency of the times, in this particular, is well illustrated in a paragraph of that admirable book, "In the School-room," by John S. Hart, for several years, Principal of the New Jersey State Normal School.

“A primary teacher asks her class this question: ‘If I can buy 6 marbles with one penny, how many marbles can I buy with 5 pennies?’ A bright boy who should promptly answer ‘30,’ would be sharply rebuked. Little eight-year old Solon on the next bench has been better trained than that. With stately and solemn enunciation he delivers himself of a performance somewhat of this sort. ‘If I can buy 6 marbles with one penny, how many marbles can I buy with 5 pennies?’ Answer, ‘I can buy 5 times as many marbles with 5 pennies as I can buy with one penny. If, therefore, I can buy 6 marbles with one penny, I can buy 5 times as many marbles with 5 pennies; and five times 6 marbles are 30 marbles. Therefore, if I can buy 6 marbles with one penny, I can buy 30 marbles with 5 pennies.’”

Every teacher in a Sub-Grammar school, who has tried the experiment knows, that to secure such an analysis requires weeks of wearisome effort. This question presents itself: Is it not profitless labor; and a waste of valuable time?

The minds of children in these schools act quickly to the extent of their comprehension. Plain facts and simple processes are learned with great facility. We must patiently wait for the natural development of their reasoning faculties. Then they will learn analysis with comparatively little study or effort.

In practice we drop at once the analytical and adopt the direct method, and aim to arrive at correct results in the shortest way possible. It may be well to acquire the habit in early childhood.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

These schools constitute one of the most interesting departments in the school system, and are delightful places for labor, to those who have a natural fondness for children and an aptness to instruct and manage them. We receive a favorable report of their condition from the Committee whose duty it was to examine them. Many of them are taught by teachers of long experience and may justly be regarded as model schools.

The one at Prospect Hill containing 100 pupils under the direction of Miss Irene E. Locke, is used as a training school.

Miss Locke's long experience and admirable tact in the management of children, render her peculiarly adapted to such a position.

Several young ladies who have assisted her, and enjoyed the benefit of her experience, are teaching with marked success.

DRAWING.

The Legislature at its last session, amended the first section of the Thirty-eighth Chapter of the Revised Statutes, so as to include Drawing among the branches of learning which are, by said section, required to be taught in the public schools.

It was also enacted — "That any city or town may and every city and town having more than ten thousand inhabitants shall annually make provision for giving free instruction in Industrial or Mechanical Drawing to persons over fifteen years of age, either in day or evening schools, under the direction of the School Committee.

The conditions of the first section have been complied with, and Drawing is taught in all the schools. Instruction will be furnished in accordance with the second section, whenever it is desired.

In the future, an ability to impart instruction in Drawing, will be required of all applicants for situations as teachers. Teachers already in the schools will doubtless vail themselves of every opportunity to become proficient in this important art.

PENMANSHIP.

To give increased interest to this useful art ; to secure more uniform and systematic instruction ; to aid pupils, now in the schools, to form correct habits of writing, and through the teachers, those pupils also who are to follow them, we have employed a special teacher to give a series of lessons in Penmanship in the High, Grammar, and Sub-Grammar Schools. By this arrangement, teachers are furnished with an opportunity to see writing taught by one who makes instruction in that art a speciality ; who has a thorough system, and rare ability to communicate a knowledge of it to others.

With the co-operation of the teachers, we anticipate great benefit to the schools from this effort.

MUSIC.

A new impulse has been given to music in the schools by the introduction of Mason's Charts. It is being studied more as a science. Pupils are acquiring a knowledge of its first principles, and are beginning to read it with a good degree of facility.

SCHOOL REGULATIONS.

We would respectfully call the attention of teachers to the Rules of the Committee for the regulation of the schools. These Rules were printed in the Report for 1868, and a copy of them is in each school-room.

With slight modifications, they have been adopted by successive Committees for many years. Guided by them the schools have enjoyed great harmony and success. Their strict and habitual observance is essential to continued prosperity ; indispensable to that mutual respect which must ever characterize the intercourse of those who would labor together harmoniously in a work involving such vital interests ; and needful to secure the continuance of existing relations.

TRUANCY.

The following By-laws, concerning truant children, and absentees from schools, were adopted by the Town, April 28th, 1870.

SEC. 1. The Town of Somerville hereby adopts the provisions of the forty-second chapter of the General Statutes of this Commonwealth, so far as applicable to Truant Children and Absentees from School ; and all the provisions of the two hundred and seventh chapter of the acts of 1862, entitled, "An Act concerning truant children and absentees from school ; and the several acts in addition to or in amendment thereof.

SEC. 2. Any minor, between the ages of seven and sixteen years, convicted of being an habitual truant, or any child between the ages aforesaid, convicted of wandering about in the streets or public places of the Town of Somerville, having no lawful occupation or business, not attending school and growing up in ignorance, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty dollars ; or instead of such fine, may, at the discretion of the Court or Justice having jurisdiction of the case, be committed to any such institution, house of reformation, lock-up, or suitable situation provided for the purpose, as such Justice or Court may determine.

SEC. 3. Any Judge or Justice of any Police Court in the County of Middlesex, and any Trial Justice in said county, shall have jurisdiction of the offences described in Section 2.

SEC. 4. Three or more Truant Officers shall be annually chosen by the Town, at its annual meeting in March or April, whose duty it shall be to make complaint of all persons who have violated any of the provisions of these By-Laws.

SEC. 5. The Selectmen of the Town shall fix the amount of compensation of said Truant Officers for their services, as they shall think just; and the sum shall be paid from the Treasury of the Town.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the School Committee and of the teachers of the public schools to report the names of all persons violating the provisions of these By-Laws to the Truant Officers of the Town, that they may be complained of therefor.

DUTIES OF TRUANT OFFICERS.

1st. To look after habitual Truants and children between the ages of five and sixteen years, not attending school, or without any regular and lawful occupation, or growing up in ignorance.

2d. Upon request of either of the teachers, or of either member of the School Board, to look after Truants and bring them into school.

3d. To make complaint of children violating the By-Laws of the Town concerning Truants, and to carry into execution judgments thereon.

4th. To exercise a general superintendence and care of the school buildings, especially when the schools are not in session.

The Selectmen very cordially and promptly co-operated with the School Board to secure the objects contemplated in these By-Laws.

The following named gentlemen were appointed Truant Officers.

Jairus Mann,

R. R. Perry,

Granville Leland,

C. C. Cavanagh,

J. H. Hanley,

F. D. Snow,

M. C. Parkhurst.

To the members of the Board, I would express my gratitude for their uniform courtesy and kindness, and for the constant aid afforded me in the performance of my duties.

To the teachers, for their sympathy and cheerful co-operation, and to the pupils, whose respectful and kind greetings I am constantly receiving, I extend my warmest thanks.

J. H. DAVIS,

Superintendent of Public Schools.

DEDICATION OF THE MORSE GRAMMAR SCHOOL HOUSE.

This edifice was formally dedicated to the cause of education on the evening of Monday, Feb. 28, 1870.

The exercises were commenced with prayer, by Rev. Henry H. Barber.

Remarks of Rev. GEORGE W. DURELL, of the Building Committee, and delivery of the keys.

It is a just cause for pride and self-congratulation that we behold on every hand, evidences of our material prosperity as a town. None know these proofs of our advancement better, none, perhaps, among all of our citizens who love to contemplate their goodly heritage understand the nature and extent of these evidences of rapid growth so well as you, yourself, sir.

To show how peaceful and happy the people should one day become, it was said by the Prophet that "The city should be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof." Each year brings to us its increasing number of boys and girls. To educate and train these for usefulness and honor, our people give with a liberal hand. Building after building devoted to this use rises in every quarter of the town, and sometimes it almost seems that the old law is reversed, and the supply increases the demand. When we prepare and fill some large, new room, to relieve another, presently, it is found that both are more crowded than the old one was.

Here the demand for ample accommodation had become urgent, and at the annual meeting of the town, in April last, the sum of $27,000 was appropriated to build a substantial house of brick, suited to our needs. As one living in this vicinity, and on behalf of my neighbors, I thank you, fellow citizens, for this liberal appropriation.

Immediately after that meeting, the following were appointed by the School Board as a Building Committee. Messrs. Enoch R. Morse, George W. Durell, Leonard Arnold, and Samuel A. Carlton. I desire to state briefly to you, sir, the Chairman of the Board, and through you to our people, the manner in which we have discharged the duty intrusted to us. A large tract of land that will rapidly increase in value, containing 32,320 feet, was purchased for $7\frac{3}{4}$ cents per foot. It is on the corner of two streets, one of which must be a great, leading thoroughfare of our future city. The cost of this lot was \$2,500. The design for the structure, with the working plans, was obtained from the accomplished and judicious architect, Mr. Thayer, of Boston.

A contract to complete the building according to the designs was made with Messrs. Barnard & Lancaster, of Boston, and they have faithfully and honorably fulfilled the terms of their contract.

Mr. Thayer has had the general oversight of the work, and Mr. Arnold, of our Board, has rendered most important service in superintending the mode in which the details of the several plans were carried out.

The building consists really of four stories. In the basement, which is above the surface of the ground, convenient rooms are provided for, and already occupied by the Janitor. Here is also a large, partly finished room that can be used for school purposes whenever it shall be needed.

In each of the two stories above this, there are two school rooms, 30×35 feet, and more than 12 feet in height, three of these are furnished, and will be occupied to-morrow by their happy and busy young laborers. Convenient dressing-rooms are attached to these main school-rooms, and the entrances and stairways are remarkable for their beauty, and the substantial richness of their finish.

The Exhibition Hall, in the upper story, is 34 by 56 feet, and 18 feet in height.

Water and gas are carried through the several apartments, and the entire building is warmed by two of Chilson's large furnaces.

With the exception of the grading, fencing, outhouses, gas and water fixtures, the cost has not exceeded the sum appropriated by

The beautiful clock that ornaments the Hall, is the gift of E. R. MORSE, ESQ., of the School Board.

This house, beautiful for situation and hardly less beautiful in its proportions and in its tasteful ornamentation, is worthy of the liberal spirit, intelligence and growth of our people. It is now complete, thoroughly furnished, and ready for its high and almost sacred uses. To your hands I now surrender it, hoping for your approbation of the mode in which we have discharged our duties. Accept these keys as the token of the surrender of our office and its cares.

Remarks of OREN S. KNAPP, Esq., Chairman of the School Committee.

In behalf of the School Board I have the honor to represent, allow me to extend to you their thanks for your services in the erection of this beautiful edifice.

We have watched its progress day by day, we have seen its walls in their construction, we saw the heavy beams that stretched their length from side to side, we looked upon the strong timbers that braced and held the different parts. Still later we saw the lathing, plastering, the finish, the paint and final completion of the work, and are gratified to know that beauty is united with strength, convenience and durability. You have sought to erect a building that shall be an ornament to the neighborhood, and that shall bespeak the liberality and public spirit of its citizens, that shall in all its appointments teach the lessons of order, arrangement and method. The site you have selected is one of the most commanding in the vicinity. The view from either window is one of the most interesting, instructive and fascinating that can possibly be conceived.

The long hillside sloping southward till it reaches the busy street, the hundreds of church spires pointing heavenward and towering above the tall shade-trees, the glitter of the water of the armlets of the sea, as seen in the distance, and still farther on, the wide hill-sides capped with their mantle of snow, and shutting in a further view, all conspire to make a scene that for beauty and sublimity is not surpassed for miles around. Truly we may say with the King in the play of Macbeth :

“ This castle has a pleasant seat ; the air
Nimbly and sweetly recommends itself
Unto our gentle senses.”

Pupils looking from the window of this building will gather mental power from the reflections that must come welling up, suggested from the beautiful landscape spread out before them. Along in the valley at the south sits old Harvard with its ancient walls, its grand old trees ; an institution rich with the lore of more than two centuries, famous in the long line of eminent men that have graduated there, the pride and glory of our state. To the west, on one of the seven hills of Somerville, stands in the full vigor of its youth, a most worthy son of Harvard, Tufts' College. Each of these institutions of learning are within full view of the pupils attending this school. What youth can sit here and look upon these classic institutions, and not catch an inspiration that shall fire his soul, that shall awaken his ambition !

It has long been customary in towns and cities in this vicinity to name school-houses in honor of some prominent citizen, especially for one who has identified himself in behalf of public schools. Dr. Bell, Charles Forster, Col. Brastow, Charles S. Lincoln and Clark Bennett, have each interested themselves largely in behalf of our schools, and there are school-houses in town bearing their names. We often hesitate to bestow honors of this class upon individuals until they are removed from the reach of envy by their removal to another world. But be it said to our credit that the people of Somerville have shown themselves superior to the suggestions of envy, and have bestowed these honors upon persons meriting them, and who may live to know and feel while yet on this mundane sphere that their services were appreciated. We have one among us who by his personal industry, by his steady march in the straight and narrow way, has obtained a name of good report, who is respected and loved for his generous hospitality, for his urbanity of manner, and for his many Christian virtues, who has contributed so often, and with such happy success on many public occasions, to the entertainment and instruction of the people in pleasing strains of poetry, that he is known as the bard of Spring Hill. He has interested himself largely in this school, and in the erection of this building, and we have thought it best to perpetuate his name, and to suggest to the youth of this neighborhood our approval of his industrious and honorable course of life, by calling this school the Morse School. We dedicate this beautiful structure, the Morse Grammar School, to the cause of popular education. We dedicate it to the use and improvement of the youth of this district. We place it here as a pledge of our abiding faith in the usefulness of common school instruction. We offer it to the rising generation as a token of our interest in their behalf. May it be a power for good. May it stand forth a bright and shining light in the world of letters. Having accepted the keys at the hands of the Building Committee, and having examined the building, and finding it complete in all its parts, and admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is designed it becomes my privilege to present them to the teacher under whose more immediate charge the building and school are to be placed. Mr. Allen, though an important trust has been committed to us, yet a far more important and serious trust is put into your keeping. It has been our duty to cause the erection of a structure composed of materials that time will efface, that will crumble and wear away, but the houses you build never fade ; the structures you erect stand forever ; they outlive all the changes of time. We place under your care and guidance our dearest interests, our fondest hopes. You will give direction to the thoughts, the aspirations, the character for all coming time of the youth seeking these walls. See to it that you are equal to the heavy responsibility that the presentation of these keys imposes upon you. Our business were but poorly done, and our work would pass for nothing, did we not select with great care for the instruction of the children who may assemble here, teachers whose literary qualifications are ample, and who can properly communicate their knowledge. A teacher's literary qualifications, important as they are, become engines for mischief, unless he is controlled and directed by sound moral and religious principles, and fortified by habits of speech and habits of manner worthy of imitation. It is but a feeble satisfaction to parents to know that their children are mental giants, but moral dwarfs.

* * * * *

Our schools should improve the mind, establish correct moral and religious principles, cultivate good habits of conversation, and easy and graceful manners. We speak strongly in this direction, because we have the fullest assurance that we have elected a principal for this school who will meet our expectations. May the paths of learning here, be strewn with flowers. May the course of instruction here both by precept and example, be such that it shall send forth graduates strong in mental and moral power, and may God in his goodness bless and prosper this educational enterprise.

DEDICATORY ODE,

COMPOSED FOR THE OCCASION, BY MRS. M. P. LOWE, AND SUNG BY THE SOMERVILLE MUSICAL ASSOCIATION.

Hail to the Sun that is dawning on earth,
Knowledge, directing and cheering our feet !
Hail to the beautiful land of our birth,
Land where the church and the school-house shall meet,

Linked in a friendship unchanging and sweet
 Naught can molest them nor make them afraid ;
 So shall we grow up a nation complete,
 Love and the Light for our corner-stone laid.

Here shall the rich and the poor be alike,
 Here at the gates they together will throng,
 Here shall young manhood be ready to strike,
 Strike at the cause of oppression and wrong ;
 Here shall fair womanhood learn to be strong,
 Growing in knowledge and wisdom and grace,
 Till all her being shall blossom in song,
 Cheering the waste and the desolate place.

Let us surrender these walls to the truth,
 Not to the terrors of law and the rod,
 Showing the turbulent spirit of youth,
 Liberty, won by the children of God :
 When we are laying down under the sod,
 They shall arise in our places and say,
 "Good is the road which our fathers have trod, Priceless the gift we inherit to-day."

ADDRESS BY PROF. JOHN P. MARSHALL.

Upon an occasion like this you will expect me to speak upon some subject that has a bearing upon education. The time, however, that properly falls to my share in the exercises of the evening is too brief to allow of the thorough discussion of any one of the numerous topics that are full of interest to the friends of our common schools. I shall attempt to do nothing more than to offer a few suggestions upon the proper use of methods in teaching.

The importance of conducting the education of the young by correct methods is self-evident. Without systematic effort, the pupil wastes time and energy. Hence our legislators enact School Laws. School Committees frame School Regulations, and teachers devise methods of imparting instruction, and of maintaining order, all of which are intended to give greater efficiency to the means provided by the people for the promotion of general intelligence and virtue.

Since the very existence of our republican institutions depend upon the education of the people, every ignorant person is to a certain extent a dangerous element in the community of which he is a member. It is then of the highest importance that every child should have

According to old and long tried methods his course was plain. He had only to watch for the first signs of an outbreak, and then show himself master by a grand exhibition of physical force, even though it might result in serious personal injuries to his pupils. But who does not know that, under all the outward respect for authority exhibited by scholars, when thus subdued, the elements of insubordination are still seething, and an eruption is likely to occur at any favorable opportunity? The first day came to a close without any unusual violation of good order. At the opening of the school session on the second day, there were unmistakable signs of a disturbance. After the reading of the Scriptures, the teacher called the reputed leader to his desk. He left his seat with a swaggering air, and a gleam of defiance in his eye, which plainly indicated that he was ready and anxious that the storm might burst at once.

"William," said the teacher in a quiet, confidential undertone, "Here is a check on the Boylston Bank. I need the money, but cannot get into the city during bank hours; are you willing to go and draw the money for me?" The boy's eye brightened with pleasant surprise as he eagerly took the check and prepared to do the errand. He forgot his purpose of revenging himself upon this teacher for the numberless floggings that he had received in past years, and with a new-born impulse, hastened to the city, transacted the business, and returned promptly with the money. He never after this gave his teacher a moment of anxiety. His example was contagious, and so great was the respect of the pupils for the teacher, that corporal punishment became obsolete in the school.

What caused this sudden change in the boy's behavior? His self-respect had been almost instantly restored by this simple act of confidence, and with that came love and respect for his teacher. Then good resolutions were formed, and his deliverance was complete. Severe punishment might have created in him respect for the teacher's animal courage and strength, but could never have restored respect for himself.

The attempt to govern children by set rules is always a failure. They must be allowed a certain freedom of action, or they can never acquire self-control. When there is no higher motive than escape from the penalty of violated rules, we shall, in vain, expect any high type of moral excellence. If you would exalt youthful minds, set before them all that is noble in character,—truth, patience, forgiveness, gentleness, firmness, and enthusiasm.

The path of education is strewn with rejected theories and methods of teaching. It is not, perhaps, too much to say that the greater part of them had their origin in the almost insane desire of book-makers to crowd our schools with worthless text-books, and gratify their own love of gain.

One author informs us that children must learn to read by first acquiring the sounds of the letters before learning their names, and then be taught to combine them into words. Another, that they must learn to spell before learning to read ; and still another, that the words must be learned as pictures before the power of the letters is taught. In spite of these different methods, children learn to read, but exactly how, must always be a puzzle to the mental philosopher. The living teacher is, however, indispensable, and the progress of the pupil is in direct ratio to her gentleness, and patience, and love.

As an illustration of what these can accomplish with older pupils, I will cite the case of a boy of twelve years of age, who was expelled from a public school in the city for idleness and truancy. He had grown rapidly, was large and finely formed, but being slow of comprehension, had dragged along with his class without understanding his lessons. After a time he was degraded to a lower class, but this did not remedy the matter. It only served to discourage him, and, ashamed to recite with children much younger and smaller than himself, he absented himself from school and spent his time about the streets and wharves.

After his expulsion from school, he was sent to an academy in the country. The teacher understanding his case, allowed him to join a class of boys of his own age, in Natural Philosophy. His schoolmates, with that quickness of perception that characterizes the young, understood the motives of the teacher, and lent their assistance. Cheered on all sides, this boy worked faithfully, improved rapidly, and, after graduating at a New England college, became a successful lawyer.

To pursue, in our public schools, precisely the course adopted by the teacher in the case alluded to, would be impracticable. It was not the method of teaching which saved the boy. It was the sympathy and encouragement of his teacher and fellow pupils.

1. I believe the time is coming when every child, capable of instruction, will receive in the public schools such education as will fit him so become an intelligent and respectable citizen. Our schools are making progress in that direction. The fountain from which the nation draws its life is every year sending forth more healthful waters.

We have no sympathy with those who decry popular education. Our public school system is not chargeable with any of the evils that grow out of the management of individual schools, through the ambition or incapacity of the teachers.

Wapacity of the teachers.

We are assembled in another of the beautiful temples of learning, of which Somerville may justly be proud. The rooms are pleasant, commodious, well ventilated, well lighted, and well warmed. When we consider that nearly a fourth part of the lives of our children are spent in the school-room, every question relating to their welfare here becomes of vital interest. The material influences that surround them here determine largely their future well being. But, above all, we should be careful to select for them teachers distinguished for their broad views of education, their skill in imparting instruction, their wisdom in discerning character and motives, their love of the youth intrusted to their charge, their earnest devotion to duty, and their respect for truth and religion.

EXTRACTS FROM POEM, BY ENOCH R. MORSE, ESQ.

The bright sun had given his farewell to-day,
 And slowly his beams from the clouds passed away ;
 When Night, drew the shadows of evening, and spread
 Their folds where the Day-God had pillowed his head.
 Then the stars, one by one, all silently came,
 And lit their pale fires with a silvery flame ;
 And all the sweet voices of Nature were still,
 Save the whispering breeze, or the light laughing rill,
 Whose waters were dancing, as onward they sped
 To the welcoming sea from their rough rocky bed.
 And I mused on the task you had set me, to write
 The rhymes to be read on this festival night,
 When I fell into slumber, still seeking a theme,
 And lo ! this fair temple arose in my dream ;
 And sweet voices, angel-tongued, floated along,
 Its every arch filling with music and song.
 Yet louder and higher the joyous notes rang.
 And one burden ever the songs that they sang ;
 'Twas Beauty, the gem of creation's great plan ;
 'Twas Beauty, the first gift of Heaven to man ;
 And I thought as the seraph-strains still floated o'er,
 "The things that are beautiful live evermore."

And Beauty, bright Beauty, shall be my glad theme ;
 And lo ! at the thought I awoke from my dream.
 But dreams leave their impress, as ocean's wild wave
 Writes its name on the sand ere it sinks in its grave.

And true to the mandate, I heard in my dream,
 Let Beauty, bright Beauty, still be the glad Theme.
 How oft we've seen in silent night's blest shade,
 When "nature's sweet restorer" lends its aid,
 Some blissful vision, some unclouded joy,
 And seen the morning all our hopes destroy ;
 And waking fondly wished once more to dwell
 'Mid those bright scenes that held their mystic spell ;
 Then come, O goddess of my dreaming hour,
 And guide my song where Beauty holds her power.
 This matchless charmer of our mortal years,
 Whose smile lights up the vale of human tears,
 Can make our lives, too often-robed in gloom,
 Appear in all the glow of Eden's bloom.
 Then Beauty, sing through all her wide domain,
 O'er sunny fields, or seas, or starry plain,
 On Westland clouds, or 'neath the Orient skies,
 Where tropic whirlwind sweeps, or zephyr dies ;
 Through time and space, wherever man hath trod,
 Or where we see the footsteps of our God.

Creation broke, and Beauty woke
 To hail its early dawning ;
 The sleeping day to light gave way
 When sang the stars of morning.
 Like sparkling gems, the diadems
 Of night, all brightly shining,
 Come breaking through the ether blue,
 On silver clouds reclining.
 And then their race, through trackless space,
 Moved on its course supernal,
 And this the song through all their throng,
 "Our march shall be eternal.
 The hand divine, that made us shine,
 Will keep our light from fading ;
 On worlds below our beams will glow,
 To chase away the shading."
 Thus from afar, each glim'ring star,
 A hymn to Beauty lending,
 Sings through the skies, the echo flies,
 Its way to earth descending.

And now to Eden's fertile fields we turn ;
 Its flames that rolled and surged have ceased to burn.
 Its waters find once more their native seas,
 And new-grown verdure trembles on the breeze,
 A thousand sweets from Earth's unnumbered flowers
 On unseen wings are wafted thro' its bowers.
 Here winding rivers on to ocean run,
 And as they flow they sparkle like a sun.
 To walk these shades, unseen to mortal eye,
 Cherubic convoys leave their native sky.
 And here the Queen of Beauty builds her throne,
 And 'mid its matchless splendor reigns alone.
 And thus in solitude, the new made Earth
 Moved on its way, thro' all the years of God ;
 Till Life, in myriad numbers came to birth,
 And man, the blooming fields of Eden trod.
 His voice, who speaks, and systems gem the skies,
 Called Adams' dust to leave the slumbering clay :
 And lo ! we see a human form arise
 To live, and all the works of God survey.

* * * * *

Again, to change the scene our wandering theme
 Now leads us back to childhood's happy day,
 When Life to us was one long summer-dream
 Nor shadow fell across our sunny way.
 Our stock in trade, made up of tops and strings,
 Possessed a wealth to money-kings unknown ;
 Not e'en the honor that this office brings
 Can give the joy those early days have shown.
 Among the pleasant things of bye-gone years,
 The dear old school-house, last but not the least,
 In all its former glory yet appears
 To be the master-piece in memory's feast.
 Unlike to this, it paint nor putty knew ;
 Its frame-work rocked with every wind that blew ;
 Leaves from its " trees of knowledge " were, tho' green,
 Like angel's visits, few and far between.

* * * * *

If " as the twig is bent the tree 's inclined,"
 Then shape it well while in its tender years ;
 Each lifeless limb, lop of, and we shall find
 The comely branch on which the fruit appears.

Amid the far-off hills a little brook
 Came tripping down o'er rock and shining sand,
 Its waters flowed through dell and shady nook,
 And made its way to cheer some thirsty land.
 Through summer's heat, and winter's icy reign
 So swift it moved, it seemed its waters flew ;
 Its music echoed o'er the distant plain,
 Or mingled with the fragrant winds that blew.
 On, on, it sped through growing channels deep,
 Or winding where the waving meadows lay,
 Now dashing down the mountain's craggy steep ;—
 And through long ages kept the same wild way.
 But hark ! the thunder speaks, the lightning's play,
 The gathering clouds, like chariots, seem to fly,
 And hastening darkness shrouds the lingering day,
 And spreads its terrors o'er the azure sky.
 And fast-descending rain now sweeps along,
 And angry winds wail down the mountain-side,
 And towering oaks, — those forest giant's strong —
 Fall like the chaff, to float adown the tide ;
 And down they drift until the current stays ;—
 Checked on its course the rising river swells,
 And o'er the moss-grown bank the water strays,
 To wander far through other shades and dells.
 And now 'mid deserts wild the little stream
 Bears on to solitude unknown before,
 Whose barren wastes begin with flowers to teem,
 And thirsty cattle graze along its shore.
 The lofty pines, whose trembling branches wave
 To beat the measures in old Nature's song,
 May plant their foot-steps where its waters lave,
 As fast to far off seas it glides along.
 Thus moved the brook, through storms and cloudless days,
 And new creations woke, then passed away.
 So let the path of Childhood, like the stream,
 Lead on to bless the world, and light will gleam
 Through all the night of Life's uneven road,
 To guide the soul to Paradise and God.
 In that fair realm unfading beauty dwells,
 And song seraphic every harp-string swells ;
 In dress immortal may our spirits rise,
 To walk those fields beneath celestial skies.

POEM, COMPOSED FOR THE OCCASION, BY MRS. S. KNAPP.

When Science shall within these walls
Her golden gates unfold —
And Learning's banner, grand and high,
Be proudly here unrolled :
Then here an intellectual light,
Will cast its gleams afar,
Chasing the clouds of mental night,
Without one waning star.

May youth, who hither come to taste
The sweets of mystic lore.
And garner treasures richer far
Than gold or silver ore —
Forget not, while they gather gems
To deck the mental part,
To seek that wealth which will adorn
And beautify the heart.

To weave a garland, fair and bright,
Of never fading flowers,
Which ne'er will droop, but sweetly bloom
In the immortal bowers.
Let Wisdom's lilies there appear,
With Truth's blest rose enshrined,
And blossoms, too, of Peace and Love,
With thornless ivy twined.

Then gather priceless riches here,
Treasures which never die,
And oft you 'll bless this hallowed spot,
As future years roll by ;
And when the frosts of wintry age,
Youth's aspirations chill,
Even then, will memory's pencil paint,
The school on fair Spring Hill.

REPORT

OF THE

SOMERVILLE MYSTIC WATER COMMITTEE.

The Committee respectfully submit their third Annual Report.

The transactions of the past year, authorized by votes of the town, embrace the laying of 58,932.3 feet of distribution pipes, with the requisite gates, and the setting of 36 hydrants.

Conformably to a vote of the town, the Committee applied to, and obtained from the Legislature

AN ACT IN ADDITION TO AN ACT FOR SUPPLYING THE TOWN OF SOMERVILLE WITH WATER.

[Chapter 72, Statutes of 1870.]

Be it Enacted, &c., as follows:

The town of Somerville is hereby authorized to raise by taxation, or by borrowing from time to time, an amount not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, in addition to the amount authorized to be raised by Chapter two hundred and two, of the acts of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, to be used for the purposes therein specified.

Approved, March 11, 1870.

The value of the works is as follows : —

Value Jan. 1, 1870, as per Committee's Report for 1869,	$92,203.27
Expended during the past year,	66,546.50
Total value,	$158,749.77

The loans authorized by the town have been effected by the issue and disposal of Coupon Bonds, — denominated "Somerville Water Loan," — as follows :

- $20,000, dated April 1, 1870, payable April 1, 1873, interest at 7 per cent per annum.
- \$40,000 dated Oct. 1, 1870, payable Oct. 1, 1880, interest at $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum.
- \$20,000 dated Dec. 31, 1870, payable Jan. 1, 1881, interest at $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum.

The net cost of maintaining the works the past year has been $4,589.04, or a tax of about thirty-six and a half cents on a thousand dollars, town valuation. The water is now supplied to 994 dwelling houses (occupied by 1183 families,) 18 stores, 4 meeting-houses, 2 halls, the Middlesex Bleachery, American Tube Works, Massachusetts Brick Company, Tufts Brick Company, McLean Asylum, several small manufacturing establishments, and many of the public buildings belonging to the town.

During the past season, the Mystic Water Board of Charlestown — by legislative authority, — have commenced the construction of an additional supply main through our town, (a 30-inch wrought iron and cement pipe,) from the reservoir on Walnut Hill; entering the town near Willow Bridge, and running through Broadway, Medford and Pearl streets: to be continued through Mount Vernon and Perkins streets to Charlestown.

The advantages to this town, consequent upon the laying of this new main, besides the increase of head and additional safety against accidents by breaks and leaks in the immediate sources of supply, will be seen by the following: —

[AN ACT IN ADDITION TO AN ACT FOR SUPPLYING THE CITY OF CHARLESTOWN WITH PURE WATER; CHAPTER 216, SECTION 5, STATUTES OF 1870.]

The said City of Charlestown shall erect proper Hydrants, in number equal to one for every five hundred feet of such new aqueduct, and in any event to the number of twenty in the Town of Somerville, along the line of said new aqueduct, or elsewhere in the pipes connecting therewith, as the Water Committee of the Town of Somerville, and the Selectmen of the Town of Medford shall direct; and said Towns of Somerville and Medford shall at all times maintain said Hydrants, and draw water therefrom, without charge therefor, for the extinguishment of fires, under such regulations as the City of Charlestown may from time to time establish under authority of this act. And for this purpose there shall be allowed to said Town of Somerville by the said City of Charlestown, in the settlement for Water for Hydrants under the contract now existing between said City of Charlestown and Town of Somerville, the sum of twenty-eight dollars for each Hydrant thus erected in said town.

The original supply main from the Reservoir on Walnut Hill, (a 24-inch cast-iron pipe,) enters the town near Fremont Street, crossing Fremont and Brooks streets, and running through Heath and Temple Streets and Broadway, to Charlestown.

In conclusion, the Committee would cheerfully bear testimony to the many words of encouragement they have ever received from their fellow townsmen, on all matters connected with the work under their charge; and would express their obligations to all those, through whom the operations of the past year have been brought to a successful termination.

R E P O R T

OF THE

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

We read in the good Book, that the “poor ye have always with you,” and this has been the experience of the Board of Overseers of the Poor of Somerville ever since the town was incorporated in March, 1842. One of the Board that year and for several years since, has served on the Board. The first year we found only one in the limits of Somerville who had a settlement in the new incorporated town. This was James Gedde, whose brain was injured a few years previous by the bursting of a gun, which caused him to become an imbecile. After inquiring for his whereabouts, we found him in East Cambridge jail, confined with eight or ten others of about the same capacity, and condition, in one room, which we thought not to be a suitable place for such an inoffensive person as he seemed to be. The reason of his confinement there, seemed to be that he had strolled away from the Charlestown Almshouse. We soon had him removed to the McLean Asylum, and from thence to the Brattleboro’, Vt., Institution for the Insane, where he was taken good care of, boarded and clothed for over twenty years, at $100 per annum, and where he died about three years since. Since that time the average number who have been wholly supported has not been more than two or three. During the past year, pretty much the same course has been pursued with those needing a partial support, as heretofore. It seemed to be the public opinion, and the opinion of citizens, generally, that widows with small families, and there are many of them in this town, who were temperate, industrious, and striving hard to make a living and educate and keep their children together, should be assisted, especially during the winter season, with fuel, some clothing, and partially supplied with provision; but not with many delicacies, if in good health. If we have found any selling or using intoxicating drinks, we have utterly refused any assistance whatever. This system, or procedure has been found to work advantageously in many instances. One may be mentioned in particular. Over twenty years since a young woman came from the "old country,"—lived in a family for a few years—then married an industrious young man, and after having three sons and three daughters born to them, he was unfortunate by having his eyesight nearly destroyed from a blast of powder, and soon after by breaking a leg which soon caused his death. The widow has since been very prudent, working out by the day, and by some little assistance from the town, such as fuel in the winter, a little cotton cloth, and a few dollars' worth of provision, she has been able to educate and bring up her children respectably, so that now and for a few years past, they have supported themselves. Three of them working out have good places, where they are well paid and much needed, and are laying up money to invest in real estate, or to commence business with for themselves.

One of our Board having served as Overseer of the Poor in a neighboring town where there was an Almshouse, he is aware that it was less trouble and work for the Board than in this town, where there is no provision of the kind made; but still we do not recommend the erection of any thing of that kind in this town at present, as we believe that it would be more expense than it is now. Not long since, one of a Board of Overseers of Poor, where they had a farm and Almshouse, said "That it would be less expense to support their inmates at the Revere House in Boston, than at their poor establishment, as they did."

In regard to the expenditures, your Board have endeavored to comply with the liberal sentiments of the citizens of the town, and, at the same time, avoid an injudicious liberality. We believe it to be the wish of our citizens that none amongst us should suffer from cold or hunger, and although there may be now and then a person, who — in a great measure, from his thriftless habits — is himself to blame for his destitute condition, we feel more like giving the hand of pity and encouragement, than of punishment and reproach.

"Ill-clad and ill-fed and o'er-burdened with care
Oh, turn not away with a look so repelling —
Thy kindness may save them perhaps from despair."

We have, therefore, somewhat exceeded our Appropriation. This was understood and expected at the commencement, owing to our rapidly increasing population; many of them being of the laboring classes, who are sometimes compelled to call for temporary relief during the severest part of the winter; and also the payment of a bill to the Lunatic Asylum, Worcester, which ought to have been charged to last year's account. Deduct this bill, and the several sums charged to the State, Cities, and Towns, and the excess will be a mere trifle. In thus rendering an account of our Stewardship, we would say that we have endeavored to do our duty faithfully. Doubtless there may have been some impositions practised upon the Board, but they must have been very few, as we have no knowledge of the fact. "It were better that ninety-nine guilty went unpunished than one innocent person suffer."

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The Annual Report of the Finance Committee, is herewith respectfully submitted.

The town debt Jan. 1, 1870, was	$307,282.44
Which was decreased during the past year by the payment of a matured note,	20,933.44
	286,349.00

And increased by new loans during the year,	164,500.00
Making the present town debt,	$450,849.00

Which will become due as follows:—

In 1872,	$128,495.00
1873,	20,000.00
1874,	62,000.00
1879,	49,854.00
1880,	116,500.00
1881,	28,000.00
1884,	46,000.00
	$450,849.00

In their Report for 1868, this Committee recommended that the offices of Town Treasurer and Collector of Taxes be filled by one and the same person. On the decease of the late Collector of Taxes, the Selectmen appointed the Treasurer to be Collector of Taxes; and it is hoped that the union of the two offices,—thus commenced,—will for many good reasons which might be given, be continued by the town: prominent at this time among the reasons, it may be stated, is an annual saving in Interest account, by the tax collections being placed immediately in the Treasury, without first doing duty elsewhere.

No part of the Town Debt will become due during the year 1871; but it is recommended that the Treasurer with the approval of this Committee, be authorized to issue Bonds, to meet such part of the debt, due in 1872, as will become payable before the annual appropriation meeting for the year.

Respectfully Submitted,

R. E. DEMMON,
CUTLER DOWNER,
AARON SARGENT,

Committee.

SOMERVILLE, January 2, 1871.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER.

In presenting the following statement of accounts of this department I would say, that after a consultation with the different Boards of Town Officers, I came to the conclusion to so consolidate my report, as to give all the general detail necessary, and still make them full and complete. In this I have followed the course of nearly all our neighboring towns. As our town increases in population, the enumeration of small payments in detail and repetition, causes large expense in printing. In the following statement I have been governed by dictates of economy, and hope that the citizens may approve the same.

THOS. CUNNINGHAM, Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE COLLECTOR.

On the first of October 1870, the Office of Collector of Taxes became vacant, by the death of Benjamin Randall, and it devolved upon the Selectmen, by the laws, to fill that office by appointment, and their choice fell upon me. Having accepted the same, the citizens will pardon a few remarks in connection therewith. The Office of Collector of Taxes, when the incumbent performs the duties as required by the Laws and Instructions, does not generally increase his popularity, but all good citizens will agree that he should perform his duties with promptness, and without prejudice or partiality. With these views, I accepted the position, and have endeavored to perform the duties. The large growth of our town must necessarily change the former manner of conducting the business of this office. The Collector who expects to keep correct accounts with 3,000 Tax Payers, must do his business in the office where his books are kept, for his own security, as well as for those who pay Taxes. I have found it my only security, and hope that all our citizens, under the light of past experience, will see the wisdom of such a change. In the matter of collecting Poll and Small Property Taxes, a radical change is necessary. There is now on the Tax Lists of the last three years, at least 1800 Unpaid Taxes of this description. It is no hardship for a poor man to pay two or three dollars in the warm season, when labor is plenty, but it may become so, in the fall and winter months. In my short experience in the office, I find a very general expression among the Tax Payers, that the town should allow a discount on Taxes paid on or before Sept. 20, and that interest should be charged on all not paid on the 20th of October, interest to date from the 20th of September, thereby fixing the interest clause definitely as to time. The Tax account herewith gives the amount collected.

THOS. CUNNINGHAM, Collector.

REPORTS

TOWN OFFICERS

OF

SOMERVILLE,

FOR THE YEAR 1871.

BOSTON:

ALFRED MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 34 SCHOOL STREET.

1872.

REPORT

OF THE

SELECTMEN.

IN submitting this, the last Annual Report of the Town of Somerville, for the consideration of its citizens, the selectmen desire to present all subjects of interest or importance in such a manner as will enable the legal voters to clearly understand the true condition in which its business is handed over to the city government.

The board is organized by the appointment of standing committees, to each of which special duties are assigned, on which they have reported to the board in the order in which they are named; and their several reports have been adopted as a part of the report of the selectmen.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HIGHWAYS.

AN increased interest in the matter of highways has been manifested the past year, and a large amount of work performed.

A marked improvement in the condition of our streets is plainly discernible, and it is of the highest importance that the utmost vigilance should be used not only to maintain, but to improve, upon their present condition.

STREETS ACCEPTED.

The following streets have been accepted during the year.

ARLINGTON STREET.

ALDERSEY STREET.

BROOK STREET.

DANE STREET.

JENNY LIND AVENUE.

An order has been received from the county commissioners authorizing the town to cross the Fitchburg Railroad with Dane street at grade.

STREETS LAID OUT UNDER THE BETTERMENT LAW.

HIGHLAND AVENUE, its extension and widening.

WILLOW AVENUE.

PRESCOTT STREET.

PUTNAM STREET.

BONAIRE STREET.

RUSH STREET.

All of the above streets have been legally laid out, and plans of the same made indicating the boundaries of the land taken, also the grade at which the streets are to be finished.

The building of Highland avenue extension has been contracted to Messrs. Scanlon & Trenholm, for the sum of seventeen thousand three hundred and twenty-five dollars, and the work is nearly completed. In laying out this avenue, a uniform grade has been adopted, making it much easier for public travel, and less likely to be injured by the wash, when there are sudden showers, thaws, or heavy rains. The expense of building a sewer and laying gas and water pipes will be much less, the excavations being uniform, and only so deep as is required for their security. The street is now all graded ready to set edgestones, when the abutters require them, so that in future years there will be no damage to be paid for a change of grade. Grade damages are much less when land is worth one thousand dollars an acre, than they will be when it is worth ten times as much, if by reason of a change of grade the abutters are damaged. For favoring the laying out of this avenue, we have been subjected to the unfavorable criticism of many of our citizens; but time, the disposer of all things, we are well satisfied, will convince the most captious that no improvement has been made that promises greater pecuniary advantage to our town.

The existence of large clay beds in the soil of Somerville has induced brickmakers to dig up the surface of some of the finest lands in the town, and after using the clay in the manufacture of brick, which are drawn to market over our streets to their great injury, these lands are left in a shapeless and uninviting condition, paying but a small tax compared with what they would have paid had they remained in their natural condition. An acre of land with a bed of clay averaging eight feet deep over its entire surface, is valued at six thousand dollars for making brick. By laying this avenue through clay lands suitable for building first class residences, these lands are made worth eight to ten thousand dollars an acre. Under these circumstances, may we not reasonably expect to see these lands sold for building purposes, and first-class dwellings erected thereon, and those dwellings occupied by tax payers, that will lessen rather than increase the burdens of taxation? At the same time we may save much in the wear and tear of our street.

The enhanced value of land bordering on this avenue will at the present rate of taxation more than pay the interest on the cost of construction, and after one year more will fast reduce the principal, so that this investment will all soon be returned to the town treasury, and ever afterwards be a source of income to the town. It was the intention of the selectmen to have widened the avenue; but this work could not be done during the summer without great injury to the trees, and shubbery, which must necessarily be removed; and during the fall the press of business to finish up what work we had already begun was so great as to prevent our engaging in this work.

Willow avenue is laid out in a straight line fifty feet wide from Elm street to Broadway. It has been constructed and accepted by the selectmen from Elm to the northerly side of Appleton street, at a cost of four thousand seven hundred and forty-seven dollars.

It is important that the portion of this avenue, lying between Appleton street and Broadway, should be completed this year, so that the assessments may be made upon the abutters within the time limited by law.

A contract has been made with Charles A. Morgan to grade Putnam and Prescott streets, and the grading of Putnam street is partially completed. A communication has been received from the contractor and placed on file, stating his inability to fulfil the contract, and asking to be relieved of grading Prescott street.

The work of grading Rush street has been begun; but owing to the lateness of the season it could not be finished without incurring unnecessary expense.

REPAIRS.

Street expenditures are as follows, viz.: —

Milk and Elm street, from Union Square to Cherry street, at a cost of $12,052 75

Bow street	$300 00
Park street	300 00
Summer street	300 00
Linwood street, its entire length	2,758 68
Medford street, from Washington street to Highland avenue	1,821 00
Elm street, at junction of Holland and Summer streets	2,439 00
Adams place, as per agreement made by sewer committee in 1870	475 00
Laurel street	500 00
Rush street, partial grading of	850 00
Glen street	204 84
Pearl street	367 75
Broadway, from Charlestown line to Cross street,	3,294 50
Sanding sidewalks	1,145 00
Fifty-five cesspools have been constructed at a cost of	3,645 77
Paid Franklin Mead, for crushing stone	3,085 25

The following purchases have been made and charged to highway appropriations: —

Two horses	$650 00
Two carts	210 00
Two cart harnesses	95 00
Three snow plows	75 00
One large stone roller	300 00

The town appropriated eleven thousand dollars to defray the expense of removing the Somerville Horse Railroad track into the centre of the street, from Union square to Cherry street. We were instructed by the town to pay nine thousand dollars of this amount to the railroad company when the work of laying the track was completed. The cost of grading Milk and Elm streets, on the sides of the track, was twelve thousand fifty-two dollars and seventy-five cents, all but eighteen hundred eighteen dollars and twenty-five cents of which has been charged to highway appropriations. This work was commenced on the ninth day of May, and was completed on the tenth day of August, during which time all the town teams, with one exception, were employed on this work, together with all the extra teams that could be hired at current prices. This work proving more formidable than was anticipated, has prevented the grading of other streets as was contemplated in the spring.

Extensive repairs have been made on Elm street, at its junction with Holland street. The construction of the Lexington Branch Railroad at a grade above that of Elm street, precipitated this work, which might otherwise have been omitted. A part of the expense of this work has been borne by the railroad, as will appear by reference to the report of the committee on railways. Repairs have been made on Broadway from Charlestown line to Cross street, with crushed stone, in order to test the relative value of this material for making repairs on our principal streets as compared with that of ledge-stone. The comparison, in the judgment of your committee, is decidedly in favor of crushed stone.

EDGESTONES.

The number of feet of edgestone set during the year is eight thousand nine hundred and ninety-three at a cost of five thousand eight hundred ten dollars and eighty-one cents. A much greater interest has been manifested during the year in this department than ever before, showing that the people are beginning more fully to appreciate the advantage of having edgestones set in front of their estates. Many of our streets where edgestones have to be set are constructed, and accepted with a surface grade which has to be made uniform before the stones are set; this change of grade is not unfrequently attended with greater expense to the town, than the setting, and is charged to the highway appropriation.

MEDFORD STREET BRIDGE.

The town appropriated five thousand dollars for building Medford street bridge, and to grade the street out to its full width. Estimates were obtained and the contract awarded to Franklin Meade for the sum of twenty-two hundred dollars. Upon removing the timbers of the old bridge the abutment walls were ascertained to be insecure and unfit to build upon. An agreement was made with the contractor to take down and rebuild the same, for the sum of three hundred and seventy-five dollars. The bridge has been completed, and accepted by the selectmen and the town teams are now at work grading its approaches and the street out to its full width.

TOWN STABLES.

A town stable and hay barn separated by a brick wall and fire-proof door has been built on the southwest corner of the town land, situated on Broadway and Cedar street, in which stalls for twenty horses have been made. Attached to the hay barn is a shed one hundred feet long of sufficient capacity to accommodate the town with storage room for all the carts, sleds and other tools used in the construction of streets. Also, a neat and convenient double tenement for the use of the men who have charge of the stable and teams.

The land set apart for yard room has been enclosed with a high board fence. The contract for building was awarded to W. J. Vickery, for the sum of nine thousand two hundred and ninety-five dollars. The building of a fence, alterations and other additional work, not provided for by the specifications, was performed by the contractor at a cost of fourteen hundred forty-eight dollars and fifty-eight cents.

The town has three ledges in working order; one near the junction of Broadway and Holland street, one on Milk street near its junction with Elm street, and one on Bond street, Winter Hill.

It will be seen that the stable is located near the centre of a triangle, the angles of which are located at the different ledges. By extending Vernon street (so called) to Cedar street, these buildings will, when this street is finished, abut on a street leading from Central to Cedar street. Another street has been laid out and formed from Summer street to Highland avenue, which is to cross the Lowell Railroad a few feet east of these buildings, and go in a straight line to Broadway. By the foregoing explanation, it will readily be seen that when these streets are opened the teams can go direct from the stable to the ledge nearest the work on which they are engaged. Land is rapidly increasing in value, and if at any future time the city should wish to dispose of this land for building purposes, the stable as it is now located will not injure the sale of this property.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SEWERS.

TOWN OF SOMERVILLE,
BOARD OF SELECTMEN, Dec. 29, 1871.

THE efforts made by the selectmen during the past four years to inaugurate a system of sewerage gives promise of many gratifying results. The magnitude of the work, beset with a variety of difficulties, not at first fully comprehended or appreciated; the want of a thorough acquaintance with, and knowledge of, many important elements necessary to make its application meet the growing demands of the place and the hour; the unprepared condition of the public mind fully to welcome and encourage an improvement of this kind, as well as the increase of public burdens it threatens to impose,—all conspire to make this branch of our official duties one of great delicacy and perplexity, and yet one whose responsibilities must be assumed and borne, however arduous or unpalatable.

The work to be accomplished must of necessity be slow, or so graduated as not to draw too heavily from the public treasury; at the same time be so conducted and distributed to meet the incoming demands as to equalize its benefits and still provide for more urgent emergencies as they may arise.

The great difficulties in determining on a plan or system of sewerage in this town are in the location and construction of the trunks or outlets; involving, as they do, a large outlay at the expense of the town, with only a small proportion to be returned in the form of assessments, no small care or pains should be bestowed in the steps first taken.

In the report of 1870, certain routes were indicated as the result of a careful investigation, by the engineer employed; not, indeed, as irrevocably fixing them as the only feasible lines, but as those which seemed most obvious at this stage of inquiry. And the purpose of the report was as much to invite friendly and candid inquiry and reflection among our fellow-citizens, as to give our own views in respect to the matter. It is a subject in regard to which there may be a diversity of opinion, and upon which most people of observation, however limited, may have something to say or advice to give; all such inquiries when candidly and intelligently made cannot but be productive of good.

There have been no trunk sewers or outlets constructed during the past season. Several causes conduce to this. The contemplated trunk in Milk street has been postponed to await the action of the county commissioners on the long pending petition to widen this street. It is obvious that the widening of this street and the possible change of grade would somewhat vary the location of the proposed sewer.

The agitation of the nuisance question in regard to Miller's creek and the slaughter-houses bordering thereon, is likely to result in the adoption of some plan by the joint action of the city of Cambridge and Somerville, for the construction of a sewer running nearly parallel to Milk street, and for filling up the adjoining flats. A petition to the legislature has already been published, praying for an act which will clothe the two municipalities with sufficient power to forever remove this great nuisance and cause of complaint from our midst. People unacquainted with the law as it has existed, and the inadequacy of the power it confers on municipal officers to handle and dispose of an affair of this magnitude, will not readily see how little can be done.

The proposed outlet for the accommodation of the Washington street district, East of the Lowell railroad, has been necessarily postponed, although it had been adjudged a necessity by the selectmen. The construction of the trunk sewer required the taking of and passing through private lands. A strong remonstrance sprang up among the abutters and owners, and much delay was occasioned by the hearings and objections made. These outlets are both important, and the urgent demands for their completion deserves immediate attention. Other outlets will be required if the wants of the other sections of the town are to be regarded. The north-westerly portion of the town adjacent to Cambridge, is yet to be provided for. Two methods are presented for consideration; one by an arrangement with the city of Cambridge to use their trunk sewer in North avenue, the other by an independent route wholly in Somerville, entering Alewives' brook near Cambridge almshouse. The report of the engineer on the subject is very full, and has been placed on file for future reference.

The following sewers have been built during the past season:—

	Feet.	Cost.
1. In Bolton from Houghton to Oak st.,	456	$810 12
2. In Summer and Bow streets, from School street to Union square .	1,822	5,076 92
3. In Putnam street	1,229	1,843 50
4. In Prescott street	1,093	1,676 00
5. In Marshall street, near Pearl .	165	330 36
6. From Centre to Glen street, in Glen street to Brook street, thence to Cross street	994	2,076 49
7. In Cross street, from land of Sam'l Poor to land of Edgar Paine .	994	3,228 75
Amount carried forward,	6,753	$15,042 14

	Feet.	Cost.
Amount brought forward,	6,753	$15,042 14
8. In Everett street, from Cross street,	700	1,114 97
9. In Glen street, southerly from Brook street	292	452 60
10. In Rush street, northerly from Brook street	341	528 55
11. In Otis street, westerly from Cross street	843	1,346 65
12. In Vinal avenue, easterly from Summer street	983	1,720 45
13. In Pinckney street, easterly from Pearl street,	306	673 28
14. In Porter street, from Elm street, .	558	954 05
15. In Marshall st., near Oakland ave.,	226	361 60
16. In School street, easterly from Summer street,	935	1,848 00
Total . . .	11,937	$24,042 29
Total assessments, . . .		$17,336 67

Several other sewers have been called for, but from the want of a suitable outlet, and other causes, they have necessarily been deferred. As nearly or quite all of these applications have been referred to the favorable consideration of the incoming city government and are to be spoken of in another place, they hardly need be mentioned here.

The method of assessment is substantially the same as that adopted last year, and it has been the effort and desire of the committee to apportion this tax according to the benefit received, having regard to the area of the land to be drained, not computing on more than one hundred feet in depth. It has been the aim of the Board to make the assessment as uniform as the circumstances of the case would permit.

There have been less applications for abatements this year than heretofore, and it is quite generally acknowledged that sewers are a public necessity, and a general readiness is evinced to share the burdens they impose.

There have been few cases of appeal from the action of the board for a jury. The case of Arthur W. Tufts, was referred to arbitration and has been adjusted. The cases of the Stearns heirs on their application for a jury to revise the assessment on Mystic avenue, are still pending. In neither of these cases are the parties residents of the town.

In closing our report, we are impelled to congratulate our fellow-citizens that this great branch of public improvement has been so liberally encouraged, and that the opposition to its progress has become so inconsiderable; and we still heartly commend this subject to the favorable consideration of our successors in office and of the inhabitants of the town.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RAILWAYS AND BRIDGES.

THE consideration of the subject of reconstructing that portion of the Somerville Horse Railroad Company's track lying between Union square and Elm street, and placing the same in the centre of the street, occupied the first attention of the committee.

Before the above work could be commenced, a petition was presented to the board, praying that the reconstruction of said track might be extended from Milk street on Elm to Cherry street.

Action having been taken on the petition, it was referred to the committee, who proceeded to make arrangements with the railway company to lay a track in the centre of the street from Union square on Milk street to Elm, and thence on Elm to Cherry street.

The sum paid by the town to the railroad company toward this work was nine thousand dollars, and the committee feel that a more judicious expenditure for the interests of the town could not have been made.

The committee anticipated the widening of the bridge on Washington street over the Fitchburg Railroad early last spring; but circumstances beyond the control of the committee prevented the accomplishment of the work as proposed, and the bridge was rebuilt upon the old plan and abutments.

The committee consider that it is a matter of regret that the plan as arranged last spring should not have been carried out.

Dane street, having been laid out as a highway across the Fitchburg railroad, is an important improvement, one which will be much appreciated, especially as it is now protected by a flagman placed there by the company.

The committee feel that the bridge over the water course at the above crossing should be rebuilt, so that the full width of the street at this crossing can be used, and they recommend early attention to this matter.

Efforts have several times been made to have Clark street protected by a flagman, or otherwise, as we consider it a dangerous crossing; but nothing has been accomplished yet.

In accordance with arrangements made by the committee with the Boston and Lowell Railroad Company, the rebuilding and widening of the Cedar-street bridge above their road has been commenced, and it is expected that it will be completed early in the spring.

The building of the Arlington Branch Railroad across Elm and Holland streets necessarily hastened the grading of the square at the junction of said streets, and the railroad company having contributed a liberal amount towards the work it has been completed and the result is a great improvement in that locality. The committee presented to the railroad company the fact of the selectmen having purchased the small lot of land lying between Holland and Elm streets and in front of the depot now being built, and suggested that it seemed to us to be a case of mutual benefit between the town and the railroad company, that said lot of land should be made a part of the highway, as otherwise it might become a nuisance. The company took this view of the case, and have agreed to pay half the expense paid for said land by the selectmen.

The new depot now being erected at this point is 50 × 20 feet, and is nearly complete.

The sum agreed upon for the railroad company to pay the town is as follows, viz.: —

324 yards of Macadam, at $1.50 per yard . . .	$486 00
Three cesspools, at $50	150 00
Twenty-five yards of excavating, at 30 cents . .	7 50
And one-half of the amount paid for lot of land before referred to, $389.50	194 75
	$838 25

The subject of removing a portion of the Medford and Charlestown Horse Railway Company's track situated on Main street adjoining Broadway, has not yet been accomplished. The railroad company having brought a bill in equity to enjoin the selectmen from removing their track on Broadway, this important matter has necessarily been subject to the law's delay.

We will state the case as briefly as possible, that all may understand.

In September, 1869, the selectmen voted to set edgestones on Main street, against the estate of Mr. E. C. Byam, and on the second of October following, the company were requested to remove their track, so that the same should not interfere with the sidewalk; the president of the company requested a delay, until the following spring, promising a compliance with the order of the selectmen; but failing to do so, the selectmen, on the second day of April, 1870, again voted, that the company be requested to remove their track on Main street, and a special committee was at the same time appointed to carry out the vote.

Several interviews were held with the officers of the company, who claimed that their road was leased to the Middlesex Horse Railroad Company, and that really they had no control over the matter; but that their lessees stood in their place, and were bound to assume their obligations in law, and to carry out the orders of the selectmen.

On conferring with the officers of the Middlesex Horse Railroad Company, it was found that very different views were entertained by that company, and it then became apparent, that whatever action was taken must be under the statutes of the commonwealth; therefore, on June 4th, 1870, an order was passed in accordance with the provisions of the statutes, giving notice to all parties interested that a hearing would be had on a petition to alter the location of the track on the 22d day of June, another on the 29th of July, and again on the 20th of August, and on the last date the selectmen passed an order requiring the track to be taken up and placed in the middle of the street on or before October 1st, 1870. The track not having been removed on the eighth day of October, the superintendent of streets was instructed by a majority of the selectmen to remove the track unless the company should commence before the following Thursday to take it up themselves. Before the time arrived to carry out the instructions of the selectmen, the Medford and Charlestown Railroad Company brought a bill in October, 1870, to restrain the officers of the town from taking up their track, and a temporary injunction was granted in October, 1870, and after a full hearing in November, the injunction was confirmed; insufficiency of the terms of the order was the ground taken, — Mr. Lincoln, legal adviser of the board, being absent at the time, the order was drawn by other counsel.

The action of the parties necessitated the commencement anew of further proceedings, and legal notices were accordingly given November 26th, 1870, — this being as soon as practicable after the decision of the court, — that a hearing would be given in accordance with the statutes, on the petition of Samuel A. Carlton and others, for the alteration of the track on Main street; and on the 21st day of January, 1871, the selectmen ordered the track placed in the middle of the street. This order not having been complied with on the 5th day of June last, the location of the Medford and Charlestown Railroad, on Main street, was revoked.

Before the expiration of the thirty days within which the company were bound by law to remove their track, the Medford and Charlestown Railroad applied again to the supreme judicial court for an injunction restraining further action of the selectmen until the questions of law involved in the case might be determined by the full bench of that court — where the case is now pending, — and will be heard in January, at Boston, which is the first term for Middlesex cases since the bill in equity was drawn. No unnecessary delay has been allowed in our efforts to bring this matter to a close at the earliest possible time.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON POLICE.

IN submitting our annual report on the condition of the police department, it gives us great pleasure to assure our fellow-citizens that the officers and men have, individually and collectively, been prompt, faithful, and efficient in the performance of their several duties; that Somerville has a police force second to no one in its vicinity.

The resignation of H. B. Runey as captain of police made a vacancy, which was filled by the appointment of M. C. Parkhurst. This gentleman served in the army during the war. He went out as corporal in a Somerville company, and returned as first lieutenant, commanding a Springfield company. Taught by his military experience the necessity of a cheerful and prompt obedience to the orders of superior officers, and of having thorough discipline in the ranks, tempered with firmness, moderation, and kindness, he was deemed a suitable person for the position, and was appointed by a unanimous vote.

The town is still divided into seven police districts as before. The officers of the force consist of a chief, captain, first and second lieutenant and clerk. There are under pay one captain, eight night watchmen, and four day policemen. These last ought to have their pay increased.

Soon after the re-organization, rules and regulations for the government of the department were prepared by the committee and adopted by the board; for up to this time, the police force had practically no rules and regulations for its government. It was, to a very great extent, the creature of circumstances, subject to such temporary orders as were suggested by any emergency that should arise.

In these rules and regulations the necessary qualifications for appointment as a police officer are defined with considerable exactness; also, the duties of both officers and men, the manner in which those duties are to be performed, and the general deportment of all its members while on duty towards the citizens and those composing this body.

In making appointments, time has been taken to carefully investigate the claims and character of applicants; and as there have usually been several for each opening, the police committee has had an opportunity to select good men, and, at the same time, make a great many enemies among disappointed applicants and their friends.

Regardless of personal considerations, the members of this committee, and the selectmen, have tried to so discharge their duties as to promote the public good.

Perfection is rarely attained in this life, and with all the time and labor expended in trying to perfect this department of the town government, by those who have had it in charge, it is undoubtedly susceptible of further improvement. At the same time, it gives us great pleasure to commend this department to the favorable consideration of the New City Government.

In looking over the duties performed and classified Miscellaneous, it will be seen that the police office is thought by a great many to be the proper place to adjust difficulties of all kinds, and the number of complaints investigated (many of which are family quarrels), may to some extent account for the necessity of an office of this kind. In the many cases of disturbances and theft occurring the past year, but few were caught in the act. And in several cases the perpetrators were unknown to the officers, but here the beneficial results of a well regulated department are made available for the public good, as a daily evening report is made at the police office by the patrolmen who have been keeping silent guard over their several districts. Thus, when a crime has been committed, the department is generally in the possession of some knowledge, or some little fact, however small, that eventually leads to the detection of the criminal.

LIQUOR LAW.

The number of prosecutions made under the liquor law, exceeds that of former years, and may be attributed to the increase of dram shops and disorderly places. Prosecutions have been entered against, with a view to suppress all places where thieves and idle persons congregate, where shops are found open on the Lord's day, and all places complained of as being disorderly. On proper investigation, no one will for a moment doubt, the necessity of making such prosecutions, and in some degree prevent the misery arising from the excessive use of strong drink by persons who, unable to control themselves, violently abuse their family.

Police office, lock-up, and accommodation for lodgers should, in my opinion, be all in one building suitable to accommodate twenty or more persons. At present the lock-up contains only three cells, and at times during the past year, we have had more prisoners than could be accommodated, and were obliged to commit them to jail in Cambridge. In closing my report, I desire to express my sincere thanks to the board of selectmen for the uniform kindness extended to me during the past year. I also have testimony that the major part of the force under my charge are honorable and faithful men, who believe the duty of a policeman to be an honorable and respectable one, and who do all in their power to make it so. Such men are entitled to the thanks of their superiors and the support and confidence of the public.

Respectfully submitted,

MELVILLE C. PARKHURST,

Captain of Police.

SOMERVILLE, December 31, 1871.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FIRE DEPARTMENT.

SOMERVILLE, Dec. 30, 1871.

WE have again to congratulate our citizens on the small loss of property by fire during the year so nearly closed.

The steam fire-engine house on Highland avenue has been completed during the year, and placed in charge of the engineers of the fire department.

It has accommodation for the steam fire-engine, horse hose carriage, five horses, and also for washing and drying at one time twenty-eight hundred feet of leading hose. The total cost of the building, including alarm bell, steam heating apparatus, grading, etc., is twenty thousand five hundred and seventy-six dollars and thirty-one cents.

The purchase of the new horse hose carriage, horse, hose, etc., was referred to the board of engineers; of the appropriation for said purchase, the sum of three thousand one hundred and nine dollars and eighty-eight cents has been expended. The engineers have ordered the balance of the hose called for under the appropriation, and it will arrive and be tested in a few days.

There was much delay in procuring a suitable location for the new Winter Hill hose house, occasioned by the unwillingness of owners of real estate in the Winter Hill district to sell for that purpose; a lot was finally secured on Marshall street, near Broadway, which, it is believed gives general satisfaction to the inhabitants of said district. The building has been commenced and is progressing slowly, great difficulty being experienced in getting the contractor to do the work as fast as the committee desire.

A petition was received, late in the season, for the purchase of a hose carriage, and the erection of a suitable building for the same, near the "Willow Bridge house."

There being no appropriation for the purpose, and it being so near the expiration of the year, it was referred to the incoming city government.

In consequence of the rapid growth of the westerly part of the town, your committee recommend that the hose house, when built, be located near the Lincoln school-house.

A petition from Chas. A. Southworth, and others, for the location of a hose carriage, and the formation of a company for the same, in the Franklin school district, was received the last week in December, and referred to the incoming city government.

We would again call attention to the lack of any suitable means for an alarm, in case of fire at the westerly part of the town.

The fire apparatus of the town is in good order, the department thoroughly organized, and when the hose now ordered arrives and is put into commission, it is believed by your committee that the town will have a department as effective for the suppression of fire, as any of its size in the vicinity of Boston.

ROBERT A. VINAL,
JOHN G. HALL,
CYRUS F. CROSBY,
Committee on Fire Department.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER.

SOMERVILLE, Jan. 5, 1871.

TO THE HON. BOARD OF SELECTMEN:

Gentlemen, — In compliance with the usual custom, I herewith submit the annual report respecting the number of fires and alarms, together with a statement in regard to the condition of the houses and apparatus belonging to the department, with a few recommendations for further improvements.

Since my last report the department has been called out thirty-seven times, nineteen times to fires in town, and eighteen times to fires in Cambridge and Charlestown.

CONDITION OF ENGINE AND HOSE HOUSES.

The houses occupied by the department are in better condition than they were a year since. The new house for the steamer on Highland avenue has been completed, and was occupied by the company for the first time July 20th. It is regarded as the finest building of the kind in the State.

JOHN E. WOOL HOSE HOUSE.

This house has been painted throughout and otherwise improved and is in good condition.

WINTER HILL HOSE HOUSE.

At the April meeting of the town it was voted to procure land and erect a building for the use of the company. The building is in progress and will be completed the present winter.

GEO. H. FOSTER HOSE HOUSE.

This carriage occupies a part of the building on Washington street, formerly used as steamer house, but has poor accommodation, and I would recommend that the lock-up be removed from this building as soon as other quarters are furnished for that purpose, and that the room now occupied by that be taken in connection with that used by the hose company, making a great deal more comfortable room.

SPRING HILL HOSE.

This carriage occupies a building on Summer street owned by Mr. Pitman, and has poor accommodations. I would recommend the erection of a building near the junction of Summer and Cedar streets, suitable for the accommodation of a horse hose carriage. I think such a carriage is very much needed in this locality, owing to the number of wooden buildings being erected there.

PRESCOTT HOOK AND LADDER.

This carriage occupies a portion of the building on Washington street formerly used by the steamer, and is much better accommodated than at the time of my last report. Since then the room has been thoroughly repaired and painted and is in good condition. I would say in this connection that neither of the companies in this building have any room in which to hold their meetings, and I would recommend that the hall in this building be divided into suitable rooms for the accommodation of these two companies.

WATER.

The supply has been somewhat increased the past year; yet there are a great many places where a better supply is much needed, and the department has at several fires the past year, labored under great disadvantage for the want of a better supply.

That portion of our town situated on the south side of the Fitchburg railroad has the poorest supply, and there being a number of large manufacturing establishments in this vicinity, we are liable to have a second Chicago disaster.

TELEGRAPH ALARM.

I would again call the attention of the citizens to this subject, as I consider it one of great importance, and many of our citizens can testify to its benefits. Our neighboring cities have adopted it and recommend it very highly. Under the present system it is impossible to communicate an alarm from one part of the town to the other when there is a high wind, the bells for that purpose being small. I hope this subject will have careful consideration.

THE STRENGTH OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The department consists of a chief engineer and four assistants, one steam engine and horse hose carriage run in connection with it, with a company of ten men who do duty only in case of fire, an engineer of steamer and two drivers, who are permanently employed. The steamer and hose carriage in charge of this company have had some trifling repairs the past year, and are in good condition. There are three horses at this station.

JOHN E. WOOL HOSE.

This is a four-wheeled carriage, drawn by hand, and has a company of fifteen men. I would recommend the purchase of a horse hose carriage for this company, as I do not think that men should be required to do the work of a horse.

WINTER HILL, HOSE 2.

This is a two-wheeled carriage, drawn by a company of fifteen men. I would recommend the purchase of a horse carriage for this company, as the new house built for them is arranged for that purpose, and I hope you will give it your consideration.

GEORGE H. FOSTER, HOSE 3.

This is a four-wheeled carriage drawn by a horse, and was placed in the department in May last, and I think it has proved beyond a doubt the advantage of horse power over hand in drawing the carriage to and from fires, and it only requires ten men to make it very efficient, one of whom, the driver, is permanently employed at this station.

SPRING HILL HOSE.

This carriage was purchased some two years since, but never has been placed in the department, and has no company attached.

I would recommend that a horse hose be located in the westerly part of the town.

There are a great many wooden buildings being erected there, and there should be some better protection against fire, as there is no apparatus west of School street.

PRESCOTT HOOK AND LADDER.

This is drawn by a horse, and has a company of twelve men, and is an important branch of the department. This carriage is in good condition.

HOSE.

There is at present about 6,000 feet of hose in the department, the most part of which is in good condition. It is divided between the several companies.

HYDRANTS.

For a list of hydrants I refer you to the report of the water committee, as I am informed that the chairman is preparing a list for publication.

I would call the attention of the city government to the practice of some builders in the construction of the flues in their buildings whereby they are very dangerous.

I would also call their attention to the careless practice of placing ashes in wooden vessels.

The total loss by fire the past year as near as could be ascertained, has been twenty-one thousand dollars, on which there was an insurance of seventeen thousand, leaving a balance of four thousand dollars over insurance.

I would, at this time, state that the best of feeling has prevailed throughout the department the past year.

The members have performed their duties faithfully, and I think our department will compare favorably with those of our neighboring cities and towns.

I would take this opportunity to return my sincere thanks to your honorable board generally, and particularly to the committee on fire department from your board, to my assistant engineers, and to the department generally; also to the captain and all of the police force, and to all others who have aided in any way, either by counsel or otherwise.

I would not forget to thank my friends Chief Engineer John S. Damrell, of the Boston department, and his assistants; also Chief Magoun, of Charlestown, Chief Raymond, of Cambridge, Chief Sampson, of Medford, and their various assistants, and my friends generally, for their kind support.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DAVID A. SANBORN, JR.,
Chief Engineer Somerville Fire Department.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

No claim of importance has been presented against the town during the past season. The suit of Mrs. Brook, in which exceptions were pending in the supreme judicial court, has been finally decided against the town. The liability of Mr. Campbell to the town has not been tested.

The suit of Hugh Mullin, for injuries alleged to have been sustained in a trench of the water pipes, is still pending, and is defended under the direction of water committee.

The suit of Miss Ada A. Byrnes, pending at time of the last annual report, has been adjusted and the suit dismissed. A suit has been commenced by Hugh Carney, claiming damages on account of the grading of Belmont street. This suit is now pending in the superior court for the county of Middlesex. This is the only case now pending of which the selectmen have a direct charge.

A claim was made against the town for damages alleged to have been sustained by William Humphrey, from an obstruction in Elm street, near Broadway. It was generally felt that the town in this matter were liable, and the claim was accordingly adjusted by the payment of $300.

This is one of the cases of obstruction to our streets where there was great difficulty in fixing the responsibility upon the right parties, and the town must consequently sustain the loss. On the whole, we may consider the past year a fortunate one in the number of accidents on our highways, and in the number of claims made from all causes.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES ON GAS.

YOUR committee are pleased to find that the citizens more fully appreciate the matter of lighting our streets by gas, twenty-one new posts having been added the past year, all of which have been paid for by private subscription, making the whole number now lighted by gas (213) two hundred and thirteen, and (21) twenty-one by fluid.

You committee further find the posts furnished by private parties are not of like weight and pattern as those furnished by the gas company, and would recommend a uniform weight and pattern for the future.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

It is a pleasure to be able to report that the sanitary condition of the town during the period since the last annual report, has been, with trifling exceptions, excellent. Three or four cases of small-pox have occurred, and these were confined to the locality where their appearance was first made known.

No other cases of contagious diseases have come to the knowledge of the board, and bating the few cases of sickness ordinarily incident to this climate, the inhabitants may be regarded as fortunate in its exemption from the ravages of disease. Serious attention has been called during the past season to other matters pertaining to the duties of the board as a health committee.

Miller's river and creek are rapidly becoming the receptacle of filth, and the sources of offensive odors ; contributory to this are drains, stagnant water and the business of slaughtering and rendering, established along the line. In Somerville and Cambridge, the management of an affair of such magnitude is naturally attended with great difficulties, involving as they do grave responsibilities, large expenditures, and treatment of conflicting interests.

This is true, even when no question as to the legal authority to act exists. The case becomes still more embarrassing when the most obvious remedy cannot be applied from the want of such authority. The most effectual means to remove this great cause of complaint is, by the construction of trunk sewers, of such magnitude and in such location, as to carry off the accumulation of filth, at the same time by filling up the flats and low lands bordering upon the line of the creek. This will be rendered more feasible and economical by accepting the invitation of the city of Cambridge, to join with them in obtaining an act from the legislature which shall confer the power sufficient to overcome the existing evil. A petition has already been published by that city, asking for such an act. Your committee urgently recommend this course.

The keeping of swine has already become a flagrant source of filth and inconvenience to the inhabitants. It may not, perhaps, be known to our citizens in what numbers the animals are raised in our midst.

Many persons engage in the business as a source of profit. The business is aggravated by the importation of swill from the neighboring cities. The power to remove this evil is inadequate in town officers. Numerous notices have been served on the owners, and much pains have been taken to render the localities where swine are kept clean and less open to complaint. Nothing, however, in the judgment of your committee, will satisfy the reasonable demands of the community against this growing nuisance but prohibition. The density of our population, visible to the most casual observer, renders the call for reform in this direction the more imperative.

The pit-holes in the neighborhood of Franklin street have several times been visited with a view of relieving the residents in that vicinity from the causes which are operating to create a nuisance in their midst. Some remedy must soon be applied to check the same the coming season.

NEW STREET ORDERED.

The county commissioners have laid out a street, nearly parallel with the Lowell railroad, leading from West Medford to College avenue, making a junction near the railroad bridge at College Hill Station.

This street crosses Mystic river over the old canal bridge, which will have to be widened, one half of which is in Somerville. It crosses a corner of Somerville territory, and the commissioners have ordered it built. The selectmen of Medford will notify Somerville when Medford is ready to begin the work.

MYSTIC RIVER BRIDGE.

The legislature, in the year 1869, authorized and empowered the county commissioners to lay out a highway and construct a pile bridge and draw across Mystic river, "if, in their judgment, the public convenience and necessity require it." [See chapter 187 General Laws and Resolves.] They have decided to lay out this highway and construct the bridge and draw, but have not definitely fixed upon the route, or location. The cost of constructing the Somerville portion is variously estimated at forty to sixty thousand dollars, depending upon the length of the bridge and at what point its junction is made with Mystic avenue.

The expense of constructing this highway and bridge is to be assessed on the towns benefited in proportion to the benefit received. As Somerville will gain but little, great care ought to be taken that her assessments do not exceed the benefits received.

This avenue begins in Stoneham and comes through Malden, Edgeworth, Wellington farm and ten hill farm, to Mystic avenue.

SETTLEMENT WITH LATE COLLECTOR.

The estate of Benj. Randall, late collector, having been declared insolvent the account has been presented to the commissioner appointed to adjust claims, and allowed. It is probable that the estate will pay a large percentage. The sureties on the collector's bond were early notified of the state of affairs, and have made no question as to their liability, although no suit has been brought against them. The dividend will soon be paid by the administrator, when the exact deficiency will be ascertained.

WATERING STREETS.

An appropriation of twenty-five hundred dollars was made at the April meeting to be used in defraying the expenses of watering streets, provided the citizens would, by subscription, pay one half the cost.

The experiment has been tried on Milk street from East Cambridge line to its junction with Elm street; also, in Union square, and on Washington street from the square to the bridge over the Fitchburg railroad.

The whole expense has been sixteen hundred and seventy dollars, of which sum, one half has been charged to the appropriation as will appear by the treasurer's report. The other half has been collected of subscribers who live in the vicinity of the streets watered. So far as we know, the subscribers are well satisfied with the result, and the selectmen think the town's money not unprofitably expended.

BUSINESS REFERRED TO CITY GOVERNMENT.

Petitions to have the following streets laid out as town ways : —

Aldercy street repairs.

Bonner place.

Brickyard lane and extension.

Everett avenue.

Hamlet street.

Highland avenue and its widening.

Otis street.

Oxford street and extension.

Pearl street, its widening and extension.

Also repairs to be done on this street by the city of Charlestown on account of opening it to lay water main.

Petition of Joseph Clark and others to have sidewalk lowered at corner of Central and Summer streets.

Petition of A. J. Taylor and others, for sewer through Franklin and Washington streets.

Petition of R. E. Demmon and others, for sewer in Elm street.

Winter Hill hose house, contract and specifications.

Petitions for hose company on Spring hill.

For hose carriage at Willow bridge.

For hose carriage in Franklin school district.

Health report on Miller's river.

Order of notice Fitchburg railroad to locate a branch road between Somerville and Watertown.

REMARKS.

During the year the general condition of our streets has been much improved; sewers have been constructed, cesspools built, gas and water pipes laid in many of the streets. These improvements being carried on in all parts of the town have given it an appearance of life, enterprise, and activity, that never fails to attract the attention of observing and public-spirited men.

Fires, incendiary or otherwise, have been very rare during the year. The interest manifested in the fire department by the citizens, in cheerfully and promptly furnishing it with buildings and apparatus of the most approved style and quality, having all the modern improvements and conveniences, has done much to elevate the firemen, increase their interest in the department, stimulate their pride, and encourage them in the prompt and faithful performance of their arduous duties.

The general quiet that has prevailed throughout the town, its freedom from breaks, from larceny, from wanton and wilful destruction of property by lawless and unprincipled men, from disgraceful fights and disturbances of all kinds, shows that the inhabitants of Somerville are generally a peaceful and law abiding people.

The existence of a well organized, prompt and efficient police force, tends to curb the vicious propensities in those who are disposed to do evil, if any there be, and renders persons and property secure against their acts and appliances.

It is with much pleasure that we assure our fellow-citizens of the continued prosperity of the town. Dwellings have been erected the past year in numbers unprecedented; notwithstanding the great number of tenements finished this season, the supply is not equal to the demand.

With a rapid increase in population comes an equally increased demand for public improvements; if these two can be made to keep equal pace with each other without increasing too much the burdens of taxation, there is no good reason why the New City may not in the future be as prosperous as the Old Town has been in the past.

JACKSON SCHOOL HOUSE.

This building has been raised one story within the year, at a cost of about $2,500. The first story is brick, and contains a room for fuel, and rooms for the janitor and entries for the pupils.

HARVARD PRIMARY SCHOOL HOUSE.

This building, valued at $1,000, and insured for $800, was burnt March 15th. Origin of the fire unknown. It was constructed in 1843, on Broadway, near Mount Benedict, as a Grammar School House, for the accommodation of East Somerville and Winter Hill. It was moved to Beacon street in 1848, and enlarged in 1861.

BELL PRIMARY SCHOOL HOUSE.

This building was constructed in 1851, on Cherry street, and was named in honor of Dr. Luther V. Bell, who was a member of the school board from 1843 to 1847.

In 1867, it was moved to the rear of Franklin School House, and occupied by the Franklin Primary school until the completion of Morse School House. In April last, it was removed to Beacon street, and is now called the Harvard Primary School House.

In consequence of these changes, the committee adopted the following:—

"Whereas The School-house known as the Bell Primary School House, has been removed to a new locality, and the name thereof changed; and whereas it is the desire of this school board to perpetuate the memory of Dr. Luther V. Bell, a citizen so eminent in his profession, and so strong in his attachment to the interest of the schools; therefore,

Resolved, That this board recommend that the name of "Bell" be given to the next large school building erected in Somerville.

EDGERLY SCHOOL HOUSE.

At a meeting of the town, held on the 27th day of April last, $25,000 were appropriated to purchase land in Prescott district, and to construct thereon a brick school-house containing four school-rooms.

At their meeting, May 1, the school committee made choice of the following named gentlemen for building committee :—

Horace P. Hemenway,	Saml. A. Carlton,
Henry F. Spencer,	Joshua H. Davis.

As a token of respect for John S. Edgerly, Esq., the committee decided to name the building the Edgerly school-house.

A lot of land containing 26,428 feet, and situated on Cross street, between Bonaire and Otis streets, was purchased for 25 cents per foot.

A contract was made with Daniel L. Lord, Esq., of Chelsea, to construct and complete the building above the foundation, ready to receive the school furniture, for $14,693.00 the committee furnishing the ventilators, registers, and snow-guards. Mr. Lord fulfilled his contract to the entire satisfaction of the committee.

The plans and specifications for this beautiful and substantial building were furnished by S. S. Woodcock, Esq., of this town.

The building is forty-five by sixty-two feet on the ground, and two stories high, with a basement mostly above ground. The walls are of pressed brick. The base and belt courses and window-sills are granite.

The tablet is freestone. The inside finish is ash and walnut. The floors and stairs are hard pine. The basement contains the heating apparatus, a room for fuel, rooms for the janitors, and two spacious entries for the pupils. Each of the two stories has two school-rooms. These rooms are thirty feet square and twelve feet eight inches high in the clear. Communicating with the school-rooms there are convenient clothes-rooms for the pupils and closets for the teachers. The halls and stairways are light and spacious. The building is warmed by furnaces. Two of the school-rooms were occupied by schools Monday, Dec. 18th.

HIGH SCHOOL HOUSE.

At a meeting of the town, held on the 12th day of November, 1870, $60,000 were appropriated to construct a High School House on Highland avenue.

The building was located by the selectmen and school committee in joint convention.

Messrs. Samuel A. Carlton, Joshua H. Davis, and

Oren S. Knapp, were chosen a building committee by the school board.

The plans and specifications were furnished by S. J. F. Thayer, Esq., of Boston. A contract was made with Messrs. Rawson, of Boston, to construct the building in accordance with the plans and specifications of Mr. Thayer, for $49,995.00. The cost of the building will not exceed the amount appropriated.

Taking the average attendance as a basis, we obtain from the foregoing table the following items:

The High school has contained 6.17 per cent of all the pupils.

The Grammar schools have contained 26.20 per cent of all the pupils.

The Sub-Grammar schools have contained 26.18 per cent of all the pupils.

The Primary schools have contained 41.44 per cent of all the pupils.

Average number of tardinesses to each pupil during the year:—

High school	.	.83,	or once tardy in 229 sessions.
Grammar schools	2.79,	“ “ “	146 “
Sub-Grammar schools	2.88,	“ “ “	132 “
Primary	.	3.79,	“ “ “ 99 “

In four of the Grammar schools the number of tardinesses has been less than the number of pupils.

Average number of dismissals to each pupil during the year:

High school	2.23
Grammar schools	2.94
Sub-Grammar schools	2.99
Primary Schools	2.06

APPROPRIATIONS.

To meet the current expenses of the schools for the year 1871, the town appropriated $59,400.

The expenditures from January 1, 1871, to January 1, 1872, were as follows: —

Teachers' salaries	$40,127 08
Superintendent's salary	1,762 50
Janitors' salaries	1,628 50
Fuel	3,045 02
Repairs	5,568 12
Miscellaneous	2,224 97
Insurance	2,883 20
	$57,239 39

The year just closing marks an interesting period in our history. Our almost unprecedented growth has rendered a change of organization from town to city desirable.

Thirty years ago, when the town was organized, it was mainly a farming district, sparsely populated and but slightly developed. It contained no church edifice, and only four small school-houses, constructed and furnished after the manner of country district school-houses of that period. But it was rich in the enterprise of its inhabitants, and has ever been fortunate in having at the head of public affairs, men of broad and liberal views on all matters of general interest and utility.

Whatever of excellence pertains to our schools at the present time, is due largely to the impulse and direction given to them by those to whom their interests were early committed.

The years which have intervened since the town was incorporated have been eventful years; and the advance of time increases our desire that more of the interesting items of its early history may be placed upon record, while they are fresh in the memory of our older citizens.

Events often possess an interest proportioned to their remoteness. What is regarded of small moment at the time of its occurrence, may be reviewed with intense interest at remote periods. "Distance," in time as well as space, "lends enchantment."

ENCOURAGEMENTS.

In many respects the review of our school record is highly gratifying. The importance of education in its comprehensive signification is duly appreciated by the community. Money is liberally appropriated and the material wants of the schools are generously furnished. We are well supplied with substantial school buildings, pleasantly located and in good repair. Several of these are beautiful in construction and are ornaments to the neighborhoods where they are located. All of the school-rooms are spacious and commodious, and well furnished with needful appliances for the comfort and convenience of pupils. Teachers are generally accomplishing their work faithfully, and many of them with a skill and devotion rarely surpassed. Parents, with very few exceptions, cheerfully co-operate in efforts to secure the highest degree of efficiency. Our schools are not only sustaining their former reputation, but are making important advances. They compare favorably with those of other towns and cities in the vicinity, in scholarship, in the average whole number and average attendance of pupils in proportion to the entire school population, and in the number of graduates from the High and Grammar schools.

Our High school has never been in a more promising condition than at the present time. With great confidence we can commend it to the patronage of our citizens. Many of the other schools are of the highest order. Were not comparisons odious, we would specify some in which may be witnessed nearly the perfection of the art of teaching. Could all become equally meritorious, our highest wish concerning them would be fully realized.

The order of most of the schools is unexceptionable. To secure it, our best teachers rarely resort to other than mild measures and an appeal to the highest motives. It is delightful to witness the quiet pleasure that radiates from a school where the influence, that "draws all to agree," is the invincible power of kindness. We may respect the power that forcibly compels, where compulsion is a necessity; but our hearts yield cheerfully to those moral forces that win by their attractions. "Draw me," says the sacred writer, "we will run after thee."

It promises well for the future success of the schools, that so many of our teachers are availing themselves of the means at their command for mental improvement, and for acquiring increased skill for their important work. We always teach others best, when we are the most industrious students ourselves.

A principle of reciprocity applies here. Teachers who add to their qualifications that they may improve their schools, thereby enhance their own value. We do well to heed the injunction of the quaint old proverb,—

“Oh, square thyself for use : a stone that may Fit in the wall, is left not by the way.”

We should remember, also, that this progressive age will not tarry for those who are content with present attainments.

To maintain the high reputation which our schools have enjoyed in the past, and to keep pace with all the improvements in systems of education, requires incessant vigilance, and untiring devotion on the part of those to whose care they are entrusted. But when these results are secured, our work is only partially performed. We ought not to be satisfied with what is being accomplished until the highest degree of excellence is attained, and every person within the ages limiting the legal period of pupilage is availing himself of all the advantages furnished for gaining an education.

DISCOURAGEMENTS.

Our school records show that after making proper deduction for those in attendance over fifteen years of age, the average attendance during the year, has been 2,187 which is only 77.4 per cent of our school population; and the average whole number has been 2,350 which is 83.2 per cent of the school population.

Hence, 16.8 per cent of our population between the ages of five and fifteen years, or 475 persons have derived no benefit from our schools during the year. In this computation no account has been made of the increase since the first day of May last.

After making suitable deduction for those under fifteen years of age, who are engaged in some useful employment, there still remains a large number of persons who are growing up in ignorance and idleness, and consequently in vice.

Again, the gradual diminution of the several classes, from the lowest class in the Primary school to the first class in the High school, as shown in our summary, indicates that only a very small proportion of our pupils complete the entire course of study prescribed for the public schools, and that large numbers leave school while their minds are immature and before they are sufficiently disciplined to grasp and comprehend the studies pursued.

It becomes a grave question, and one in which every citizen is personally interested, how shall these evils be remedied, and the benefits of education more generally diffused.

Recent developments in the history of nations more strongly confirm the truth so generally admitted, that the prosperity and permanency of any commonwealth can be hoped for only as its citizens are intelligent and virtuous.

Many of our wisest and most conservative educators are seriously entertaining the belief, that self-preservation will compel our government to follow the lead of Prussia and several other European nations in the matter of compulsory education. Cogent arguments are adduced in favor of such a course, and we entertain no doubt that the time will soon come when not only the necessity, but the humanity of compulsory education will be admitted by reflecting minds all over our land, and suitable laws will not only be enacted, but universally enforced, whereby every child, not mentally or physically incapacitated, will not only be provided with the means of education, but will become educated.

Meanwhile, we will labor so to increase the excellence of our schools that few will be willing to forego their advantages. We will smooth the rugged paths of learning and render the ways of knowledge so attractive that they will entice those to walk therein whose feet would otherwise wander. We will omit no suitable means to maintain a healthy sentiment in the community, and to exalt the importance of education in the estimation of all.

CHANGES.

The usual number of changes have occurred among our lady teachers during the year. Most of those who have resigned have had long and successful experience and were among our most highly-valued teachers. It acquires not only a rare combination of endowments, natural and acquired, but long and careful practice, to constitute teachers of high value, and the community sustains a loss not easily repaired when such resign.

DIFFERENT STUDIES.

The studies assigned to the schools vary in importance. A right apportionment of time and attention to each, must be left mainly to the judgment of teachers, — the greatest prominence being given always to those that are of the highest practical importance, and are most frequently applied in the ordinary duties of life.

Many of these studies enter into and mutually aid each other. While any one of them is being taught in the best manner, much instruction is imparted that will apply to several others. Thus, geography and history are mutual aids; so are writing and drawing. Pupils make equally rapid improvement in penmanship, when one hour each week, usually devoted to writing, is spent in drawing. Whatever requires the use of crayon, pencil or pen, improves the pupils writing, provided there is suitable pains taking; and surely, nothing should be done carelessly in the school-room. Grammar is taught in every exercise, since no violation of its rule is allowed to pass without correction. Due regard is paid to articulation, inflection, accent, emphasis, pitch and tone, in all that pupils utter; hence, every exercise is a lesson in elocution. Spelling is best taught in connection with other studies, and should become a part of every exercise. In the higher classes, more especially, we would advise less attention to the set words of the spelling-book, and more attention to the new words entering into every recitation. Such a practice teaches pupils to be observant of the orthography of words in general use and in their connection with other words.

READING.

Reading is well taught by many of our teachers; and the schools are receiving instruction in elocution from a lady of rare accomplishments in this important branch of public instruction.

Good reading holds a prominent place in public esteem. Many of our best writers and thinkers are engaged in devising methods for securing it more generally in our public schools.

Since the proper cultivation of the voice enters so largely into the work of every school, it is a matter for congratulation that facilities for vocal culture are being multiplied; and the desire of teachers for more careful training in this department is increasing.

The comparison of different schools leads us to conclude that some of our best teachers of reading, devote too much time to a limited number of pieces. This practice gives undue prominence to vocal culture and necessarily restricts pupils to a narrow range of subjects and authors.

It is well for each teacher to have for drill exercises, a choice selection of pieces, containing different styles of composition, as narrative, descriptive, colloquial, didactic, dramatic; but practice upon these should not absorb an undue proportion of time and attention.

A familiarity with words in general use, sufficient to enable one to read with fluency, is acquired only by careful observation of their form and construction.

But, after several repetitions, pupils recite their "drill exercises" from memory; their eyes rest but carelessly if at all upon the words uttered; hence, much of the discipline which should result from exercises in reading is lost.

In good rhetorical reading, the eye, the ear, the vocal organs, the intellect and the sensibilities, all perform an important part. Each one of these should receive its due share of time and attention; and that system of instruction is best that calls all of them into the most frequent and active exercise.

If we analyze the process of reading, we shall observe the following order: The eye takes the lead. Its familiarity with written language enables it to take in at a glance entire sentences. The mind quickly comprehends the author's meaning and the emotions he would awaken; and the sensibilities come at once into sympathy with the spirit of the writer. Then the vocal organs, being well disciplined and under good control, and guided by a quick, discriminating ear, give utterance and expression to all the shades of thought and emotion, as they are apprehended.

The ability to accomplish this effectively is the result of long practice and careful culture.

The vocal organs acquire the ability to enunciate words with distinctness, accuracy and fluency by exercise, and usually by imitating those who have been well disciplined. This cultivation of the voice is indispensable to good rhetorical reading, and must be duly regarded; but it constitutes only one element in the process.

The ability to comprehend quickly the author's meaning, and to bring the sensibilities at once into sympathy with the emotions he would awaken, is still more important, and is acquired only by the most careful attention, habitual reflection and frequent contact with the thoughts, language and sensibilities of many writers. Without this culture there can be no natural, effective, rhetorical reading; and to secure it to his pupils should be the constant endeavor of every teacher.

WRITING AND DRAWING.

Writing is well taught, and pupils are making commendable improvement in this important art.

Drawing is under the direction of special teachers. Very good progress is being made in most of the schools. This is, comparatively, a new branch of study, and the work that is being performed, even in the higher classes, is mainly elementary; and like all pioneer work, is slow, and exhibits but imperfect results. As pupils who are receiving the elementary drill in the lower classes are promoted, they will be prepared for more advanced work, and when they graduate will exhibit the full benefits of a thorough, systematic course of instruction.

Drawing is no longer an experiment, but a legalized branch of study for our public schools, and is gaining daily in popular favor.

We would counsel our teachers to omit no opportunity for qualifying themselves for what will be required of them in this direction.

Arrangements have been completed for an evening school for instruction in mechanical or industrial drawing. We have secured the services of Mr. Lucas Baker, a highly accomplished teacher, and a gentleman in all respects, worthy of public confidence. Drawing boards, paper, and squares, will be furnished at the expense of the town.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY.

In history and geography, great latitude must necessarily be given to teachers in making selections of what should be carefully studied, and what should be read only in a cursory manner. We would encourage map drawing. Each pupil should be able to draw accurately from memory every map studied.

We would recommend to teachers a careful examination of the valuable hints appended to our school history, on the method of teaching that important and interesting branch of study.

MUSIC.

Music is under the direction of a competent instructor, and is pursued with the interest and enthusiasm of former years.

GRAMMAR AND ARITHMETIC.

Our pupils are generally well instructed in grammar and arithmetic. We could wish, however, that exercises in mental arithmetic were more frequent in all the classes of the Grammar schools. We are fully aware that the question so frequently raised, "Where is the time to come from?" is a pertinent question. If our resources are limited we should husband them with greater care. Much can be accomplished in the hours assigned to school work, when they are systematically and industriously employed. The machinery of the school should be simple, requiring no useless waste of time to move it, for time is a precious item in the school-room, and should never be expended needlessly. The judicious machinist aims at simplicity of arrangement, that he may thereby diminish friction and lessen the liability to derangement. That school is managed best where there is the least show of management; and those who control the best, seem to control the least. The sooner a school is put in working order, and the less interruptions there are to substantial work, the better for all connected with it. A well-organized and thoroughly busy school has a self-propelling power, and runs on harmoniously without loss of time or needless expenditure of energy.

For the Committee.

J. H. DAVIS,

Superintendent of Public Schools.

SOMÉRVILLE, Dec. 30, 1871.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

In the over-crowded condition of this school, the daily tasks of the pupils are performed under great inconveniences and with extreme difficulty. Irregularities are unavoidable, and temptations are multiplied. If, in the year past, anything like the former standard of attainment had been reached, the committee would have been more than satisfied. The annual examination, however, showed that notwithstanding all the hindrances, the progress of the school, in every respect, was most gratifying. A marked interest was manifested in the various studies, and the answers gave evidence of a habit of accurate and thorough investigation. This secures that scholarly self-reliance which can be obtained in no other way. The "short and easy methods" for acquiring that which, in the nature of things, must always demand hard labor and diligent research, do little more than cause impatience and final discouragement. There must be judgment and wisdom in the matter of instruction. To render an undue measure of assistance is perhaps more injurious than the opposite extreme. The instructors in the several departments of this school deserve commendation for their care in observing that just medium here, which ensures a suitable progress and at the same time a healthful increase of mental power.

The whole number of pupils during the year was two hundred and fifteen; the largest in attendance at any one time was a hundred and sixty-one; and, though assembled in a room intended for hardly more than half that number, the general bearing of the school has been marked by a courtesy, gentleness, and thoughtful respect, at once honorable to the pupils and encouraging to the instructors. But with the advantages that will be afforded in the new and spacious building about to be occupied, and with all the comforts and conveniences of the cheerful study-halls, and recitation and lecture rooms, the needful discipline will be maintained without difficulty, and made to resemble, more and more, that of a well-ordered home.

The number graduated this year was thirty-three, — more than double the number of the previous year. This is an indication which we hail with especial pleasure. It betokens a growing appreciation of the importance of giving to our youth an education that may well be called liberal when it is remembered that our present course of study in the High school is fully equal to that which, only a few years ago, was pursued in many of our colleges.

Other things being equal, the preference is given to those who graduate from this school, when places are to be filled in the ranks of the teachers. This is but justice to our own. First to our common schools, for we thus know the training such have received for this work; and secondly, to those who have completed the course. And it is a reward for merit that is not without its value to those who desire this post of honorable service.

The class preparing for college is unusually large. But when the facilities offered here for a thorough preparation for the college studies are considered, together with the fact of our proximity to these higher institutions, it would seem that these classes should be much larger than they now are.

The services of Mr. Marston, a graduate of Colby University, and a successful teacher, have been secured. Miss Graves has returned, and is gladly welcomed to the post which she has so long and so well filled. In closing this report we will only add, that the principal and his able assistants have diligently and faithfully discharged their duties, and that the general condition of this school is highly satisfactory.

GEORGE W. DURELL,
Chairman of the High School Committee.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

The examination of the Grammar schools was conducted out of the ordinary course. Your committee are aware that teachers often adapt their course of study and manner of recitation somewhat with reference to the anticipated examination. This time the teachers and pupils were thrown off their guard, and made to show their proficiency, or lack of it, in unexpected fields of investigation. The result was, as was anticipated, the examinations were not, with but one exception, generally so brilliant as usual. Teachers have usually confined their pupils within certain well-defined limits of study. In some schools the whole drill in reading has been limited to three or four selections for an entire term. These three or four pieces were well read. We tried each class in some lesson they had not read, and in some schools these unpracticed selections were read very unsatisfactorily. We tried them in spelling from the reader and in spelling exercises that had been studied by the same pupils while members of a lower class; and while very difficult words were spelled correctly within the given limits, very simple words were misspelled on pages the same pupils had learned some previous term. We gave a pupil a problem to perform on a page in the arithmetic not so far in advance as the class next lower had been. The teacher said her pupils had not studied that principle, — she “was not responsible for them there, — they studied that part of the arithmetic before they came to her room.” We think this a mistake. Pupils should be taught to read at sight and should practice on certain few selections in reading as exercises in vocal drill. They should be taught to spell all the common words in use, even though they may not be found on certain pages in the speller. If a teacher in a lower division has not done her work well, the mischief should be repaired by reviews in the upper classes. It is but fair to say that some schools suffered none in our change in the method of conducting the examinations; by a system of reviews and a judicious selection of general and somewhat miscellaneous instruction, their classes examined nearly as well outside the given limits as within.

O. S. KNAPP,
Chairman.

SUB-GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

But few changes have occurred in the arrangement and management of schools of this grade since our last annual report.

The recent examinations gave evidence that they are in good condition, but not all are alike in point of excellence. A marked difference in discipline and proficiency was noticed by a comparison of several schools with each other. Scholars in different localities differ widely; yet we notice that the teachers, more frequently than the scholars, are at fault for whatever is lacking in general proficiency. Some teachers have succeeded admirably under very discouraging circumstances; their patient persistence, in well doing is deserving of the highest praise. Other teachers need to replenish more frequently the fountain of their own energies, that more earnestness may characterize their pupils, and the genial glow of lively interest pervade all the exercises of the school.

For teachers and scholars, let hearty cheerfulness, like fresh air and sunlight, be considered indispensable in the school-room.

We cannot over-estimate the importance to the scholars of the first impressions of school life. Due care, with proper discipline and needful encouragement at the start, will do much to facilitate subsequent progress along the pathway of learning. We trust that no teacher in this grade of school will ever feel that her work is but of little consequence, or that it may be indifferently performed. We have noticed with regret that some of our schools suffer considerably from the irregular attendance of scholars. Parents should co-operate with teachers and do all in their power to remedy this evil.

EDWIN MILLS,
Chairman.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

After the duty of the examining committee has been performed, a reference to the papers taken on the spot, which cover the percentages and memoranda made of special excellence, or the reverse in matters of discipline, attention, neatness, and order of the scholars, shows, with few exceptions, a very uniform and satisfactory condition in this grade of our public schools. The exceptions are generally in cases of overcrowded rooms, or particularly unfortunate surroundings, which render the duty of the teacher exceedingly onerous; and although instances of special excellence can be noted in every one, the majority of those classed as "exceptions," we cannot consider as up to the standard we could wish. At the risk of making this report too long we cannot help recording in detail the "comments of examining committee" appended to several of the reports before us.

1. "The order is excellent. Reading unusually good. The spelling very accurate. The whole appearance of the school is satisfactory."

2. "Order excellent. Reading very good. Spelling not good. General appearance very satisfactory. The teachers active and pains-taking."

3. "Order good. Appearance of school very satisfactory."

4. "Order good. The exercises generally were spirited, correct, and pleasant. Pupils quiet and attentive to the task before the school."

5. "Reading excellent; order perfect."

6. "Order good; answers generally prompt and correct."

7. "School very large, numbering 106. Place itself disturbed by noise and the school in sympathy with its surroundings. The reading, however, is unusually good."

8. "First class very large, — cases of extraordinary proficiency, and others backward, — average fair."

9. "Reading poor; spelling better, but not good. Arithmetic best of the three. Order bad, — restless, shuffling of feet, and evident want of discipline."

10. "General appearance of the room is good; reading and arithmetic better than spelling."

11. "A nice school; excellent material and good order, but reading poor, very poor."

12. "Reading indistinct and generally poor; arithmetic an improvement on the reading. School generally restless, noisy, and disorderly."

13. "Reading first class very good, clear, and generally correct. Second class read pretty well. Arithmetic fair. The general appearance of the school is good. The order is excellent, scholars quiet, attentive and happy."

14. "Reading and spelling defective. Attention to small things, such as number of page and lessons, generally ignored."

From the foregoing, to which we call the especial attention of the teachers, it will be seen that there is much to correct in special instances, and we hereby request those interested to govern themselves accordingly.

It is not our purpose to institute comparisons of one school or one teacher with another by name, but we feel that it is due to those to whom the early training of our scholars is intrusted, that they should know wherein they fail of securing the full approval of the committee; and whether it be in the matter of discipline in the school, or in one or another of the several studies, the recollection of their charges at the time our last official examination was made, must be so fresh in their mind, that if anything in this report applies in particular to them they will carefully consider the matter, and see to it, that the occasion for like unfavorable report shall not exist another time. We have only quoted from about half the file of reports before us, and may add that in the remainder there was nothing calling for special mention.

We would, in conclusion, renew the request for occasional home examinations. It should be remembered that the whole responsibility does not rightfully rest upon the teacher, nor that all the instruction in books and behaviour is to be had in the schoolroom.
